This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

+ Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.

+ Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.

+ Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.

+ Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

UNIVERSALIST PROFESSION OF BELIEF AND CONDITIONS OF FELLOWSHIP.

Adopted as an amendment to Article III. of the Constitution of the General Convention, at its session in Boston, October 23, 1899.

I. The Profession of Belief adopted at the session at Winchester, N. H., A.D. 1803, is as follows:

ARTICLE I. We believe that the Holy Scriptures of the Old and New Testaments contain a revelation of the character of God and of the duty, interest and final destination of mankind.

ARTICLE II. We believe that there is one God, whose nature is Love, revealed in one Lord Jesus Christ, by one Holy Spirit of Grace, who will finally restore the whole family of mankind to holiness and happiness.

ARTICLE III. We believe that holiness and true happiness are inseparably connected, and that believers ought to be careful to maintain order and practise good works; for these things are good and profitable unto men.

II. The conditions of fellowship shall be as follows:

1. The acceptance of the essential principles of the Universalist Faith, to wit: 1. The Universal Fatherhood of God; 2. The Spiritual authority and leadership of His Son, Jesus Christ; 3. The trustworthiness of the Bible as containing a revelation from God; 4. The certainty of just retribution for sin; 5. The final harmony of all souls with God.

The Winchester Profession is commended as containing these principles, but neither this nor any other precise form of words is required as a condition of fellowship, provided always that the principles above stated be professed.

2. The acknowledgment of the authority of the General Convention and assent to its laws.

DAYS OF SPECIAL OBSERVANCE.

Recommendations by the Universalist General Convention.

1. It is recommended that CHRISTMAS SUNDAY, i. e. the Sunday nearest Christmas, be observed by appropriate services.

2. It is recommended that on EASTER SUNDAY A SERVICE OF RECOGNITION be held, at which time persons baptized in childhood, and others, may be welcomed by suitable rites to membership of the Church.

3. It is recommended that one Sunday be set apart in each year, to be denominated CHILDREN'S SUNDAY,—in all cases, where practicable, THE SECOND SUNDAY IN JUNE, or as near thereto as possible; that parents and guardians be encouraged and invited to bring their children to the altar on that day for baptism or dedication to the service of the Lord.

4. It is recommended that the FIRST SUNDAY OF OCTOBER, in each year, be set apart as MEMORIAL SUNDAY, for commemorating those friends who, during the year, have been taken away by death.

5. It is recommended that the FIRST SUNDAY OF NOVEMBER, in each year, be set apart as ALL-SOULS SUNDAY, for a special celebration of our distinguishing doctrine, the Scriptural truth that all souls are GOD'S children, and that finally, by His grace attending them, they will all be saved from the power of sin, and will live and reign with Him forever in holiness and happiness.

6. It is recommended that the THIRD SUNDAY OF MAY, in each year, be set apart as EDUCATIONAL SUNDAY, for the presentation to the people of the educational interests of our Church. And that on the same day an appeal be made to our SUNDAY SCHOOLS for aid in the HOME MISSIONARY WORK of our Church.

7. It is recommended that the FOURTH SUNDAY IN NOVEMBER, in each year, be set apart as JAPAN SUNDAY, for the presentation of the claims of our FOREIGN WORK, and for soliciting pecuniary aid therefor.]

UNIVERSALIST REGISTER,

FOR 1903.

THE GENERAL CONVENTION.

"The Universalist General Convention," having jurisdiction over the ecclesiastical organizations of the Universalist Church in the United States and Canadian provinces, meets biennially. The next session—1903—is to be held in Washington, D. C., on the Wednesday preceding the fourth Sunday in October. Preacher of the Occasional Sermon, W. S. Crowe, D.D. The Convention is composed of the Presidents, the Vice-Presidents and the Secretaries of the State Conventions, and of clerical and lay delegates from the State Conventions, each State being entitled to two clerical and four lay delegates and to an additional number of each class of delegates in proportion to the aggregate of its parishes and clergymen. At least four parishes must be organized and established in a State before a State Convention can be formed, but a less number of parishes may unite to choose two delegates, clerical or lay, to represent them in the General Convention; and if there be one parish so situated, it is entitled to two delegates. In all such States or Territories the General Convention has original jurisdiction.

All laws relating to fellowship, ordination and discipline originate in the General Convention, and it is the final court of appeal in all cases of dispute or difficulty between State Conventions. It is an incorporated body, empowered to hold real and personal estate to the value of five hundred thousand dollars, "to be devoted exclusively to the diffusion of Christian knowledge, by means of missionaries, publications and other agencies." In the interim of sessions the interests of the Convention are watched over and managed by a Board of Trustees. The funds of the Convention, as reported in 1902, aggregate $352,570.70 and are distributed as follows:—

I. The Murray Centenary Fund, created in 1870 as a memorial of the one hundredth anniversary of Rev. John Murray's first sermon in America, $143,058.03. The income of this fund is used "in the aid of theological students, the distribution of Universalist literature, church extension and the missionary cause."

II. Church Extension Fund. This fund, the income of which is to be devoted as its name indicates, now amounts to $15,073.28.

III. Gunn Ministerial Relief Fund. The late John G. Gunn, of New York, bequeathed to the Convention the sum of $8,000, "to create a fund for the relief, support and maintenance of needy clergymen, their widows and families, of the Universalist denomination," except those in fellowship through the New York State Convention, which has an endowment for that purpose. The fund now amounts to $18 309.55.

IV. Ada Tibbetts Memorial Fund. During the year 1886 the Rev. A. Tibbetts, of Urbana, Ill., one of the early graduates of the Canton Theological School, conveyed to the Convention in fee simple, 200 acres of farm land in Champaign County, Ill., on condition that he was to have the use, occupancy and income of the property during his natural life; and that perpetually thereafter one-tenth of the income should be added annually to the principal of the fund, the remaining nine-tenths to be applied, at the discretion of the Trustees, to the purposes of the Convention. He afterward conveyed to the Convention a farm in Ford County, Ill. The property has been sold, and the fund amounts to $9,260.

V. Waverly (Iowa) Fund. $800.

VI. G. L. Demarest Reserve Fund. $14,000.

VII. William H. Ryder Fund. $25,000. The income only to be used "at the discretion of the Board of Trustees, for the education of young persons for the ministry of the Universalist Church." But the Board may, in a certain contingency, apply a portion of such income "to the credit of any Missionary or Church Extension Fund" under their control and direction.

VIII. The "T" Fund. A lady of New York, who desires that her name shall not at present be published, has paid $12,000 to the Convention as a fund, the income of $7,000 after the decease of the donor, to be added to the Theological Scholarship Fund, and that of $4,000 to be applied to the aid of the home church of the founder, and that of the remainder to be equally divided between home and foreign missions-

IX. Henry P. Porter Fund. $1,000.

X. The Jennie L. Sinclair Fund. $4.487.48.

XI. Mrs. Nancy Bliss Fund. $2,527.49.

XII. Foreign Missions Fund, the gift of Lucian Blackmer, Esq., of St. Louis, Mo., with the addition of $100 by Mrs. Martin, of West Henrietta, N. Y. $7,300.

XIII. The Clarissa L. Crane Fund, the gift of Clarissa L. Crane, late of Stamford, Conn., "to be used and applied by the Trustees of the Convention to the general uses and purposes of the corporation." $3,000.

XIV. The Mrs. W. J. Bartlett Fund, the gift of Mrs. Nancy Bartlett, late of Milford, Mass. $6,463.48.

XV. The Sarah P. Blake Fund, the income to be used "for the benefit and promotion of the Universalist denomination in this country." $1,694.81.

XVI. The "M" Fund, the income "to be devoted to the home and foreign missionary work of the Universalist General Convention, after the death of the donor." $1,000.

XVII. The H. L. & L. J. Canfield Fund, "the income to be applied to the general uses and purposes of the Convention, after the death of the donors." $1,000.

XVIII. The Twentieth Century Fund, $60 069.02.

XIX. The John D. W. Joy Fund, $10,000.

XX. "The Two Friends" Fund, $1,000.

XXI. The Mary T. Goddard Fund. $4 750.

XXII. The Charles A. Luke Fund, $1 000.

XXIII. The R. J McKay Fund $1 000.

XXIV. "The N. H. E. Fund," $1 000.

XXV. Theological Scolarship Fund, $7,767.56.

STATISTICS.

As in last year's REGISTER, so now, it has been deemed advisable to place first all needed statements in regard to State organizations, arranged as heretofore, alphabetically. The same order of arrangement is also made of the Parish statistics, which immediately follow.

The location of parishes and other preaching places, according to post-office address is shown in the first column; where a fraction appears after the name of a parish it indicates that preaching services are held part of the time; (oc.) denotes that there is only occasional preaching; (m.) monthly services; (dor.) that the society is inactive; (‖) that the parish is not in formal fellowship. Where the name of a parish is preceded by a dagger (†) it indicates that no recent information has been received. The number of families included in the respective parishes is given under the proper heading. Under the head of "Church Edifices," the date of dedication is given when known. Un denotes that the parish is part owner in a union house of worship; the abbreviations b. (brick), st. (stone), w. (wood), indicate the material of the structure. In the column designated "Preachers," the names of pastors or regular supplies are given. If the name is in italics the preacher is a licentiate; parallels (‖) show that he is not in the Universalist fellowship. An asterisk (*) prefixed to the name of a Parish Clerk, Superintendent of Sunday School or Secretary of a Young Peoples Organization, denotes that the officer is a woman and should be addressed as Miss; two asterisks () that she should be addressed as Mrs.

The statistics except those relating to the Young Peoples Religious Organizations are from official reports of State Convention Secretaries to the Secretary of the General Convention. In the absence of information of recent date from this source the figures of the last reported year are used.

Information of new parishes or preaching places received since receipt of the General Secretary's tabular statements, follow the respective tables. A few parishes should be dropped, but it could not conveniently be done at this time. Gains in new parishes, members and etc., will about offset any known losses.

Hisanari Hoshino, Rev. S. Akashi. There are several other Japanese helpers to the Mission. One Japanese young man, Mr. Satoh, and one young woman, Miss Imai, are pursuing their studies in this country, to better prepare themselves for missionary work in Japan. Signs of prosperity are shown by the erection of a new house of worship in Tokyo and by the providing of a lot on which it is proposed to erect a building for the accommodation of the Girls School and Home now in successful operation. The securing of the new home will mark increased prosperity for the Mission.

On the following tabulated pages, the figures, except those relating to the Young People's Organization, have been furnished by the Secretary of the General Convention by order of the Board of Trustees; the object being to have agreement in the Annual Report of the Board made in October and the figures appearing in The REGISTER published three months later. So long as this plan is in operation the Editor of the REGISTER makes no call on pastors or clerks for statistics in regard to the numerical status of churches and Sunday schools; nor is he at liberty to substitute any figures which these officials may send him for those received from the Secretary of the General Convention, A modification of the present plan seems to be demanded.

LOMBARD COLLEGE.

Lombard College is located in Galesburg, Illinois. It received its charter Feb. 15, 1851, and the institution was opened for the reception of students in the autumn of 1852. From the first, women were admitted to all departments of the University on the same conditions that were appointed for young men, this being the second college in the United States to adopt the principle of co-education. The first class, consisting of two women and four men, was graduated in 1856. Forty-seven classes have been graduated, with a total membership of 409. As organized at present, the College embraces four departments of instruction: The College of Liberal Arts, the Preparatory School, the Ryder Divinity School, and the School of Music and Art. The College year begins the first Tuesday in September and closes on Commencement Day, the first Thursday in June. There are three terms each year.

The College of Liberal Arts has adopted the Group and Elective System of study. Candidates for admission to College may elect from a list of twenty-four subjects, in English, Mathematics, the Languages, the Sciences, and History, those studies in which they shall be examined. 16 units, or the equivalent of a four years course in a good high school are required for admission to full standing. Students admitted to full standing will be ranked as candidates for the degree of Bachelor of Arts. After admission, students in the College of Liberal Arts may with advice from the faculty, elect any group of ten that are offered, supplemented by single electives. Advanced courses in any subject may not be elected until the necessary preliminary courses have been taken.

Elective studies are classed as courses or half courses, according to the estimated amount of work in each and its value in fulfilling the requirements for graduation. In general, a course, in any study, consists of five hours of recitation or lectures, or ten hours of laboratory work per week for one term. The College offers instruction, at present, in 205 courses. The degree of Bachelor of Arts will be conferred upon any student who has satisfactorily completed the aggregate amount of thirty-eight full courses, elected from the studies offered in the College of Liberal Arts, beyond the sixteen units required for admission.

The Preparatory School furnishes suitable instruction and thorough training to students who wish to prepare themselves for college.

The School of Music and Art is under the direction of thoroughly competent teachers. Instruction is given in Harmony, Theory, Composition, History of Music, etc., piano, organ, violin, mandolin, guitar, voice culture, sight and chorus singing, drawing, crayon, pastel, painting and china painting.

Gymnasium and Ladies' Hall.—The Gymnasium, completed in 1897, is one of the handsomest, completest, and best appointed buildings for the purpose in the West. Physical education is made a specialty. The new Ladies' Hall, completed in 1896, is also a thoroughly modern and well-equipped building, which offers the advantages of a refined home under maternal oversight.

Expenses.—Tuition fees are low, being $3.50 per term for each full course, proportionate for fractional courses. Board in Ladies' Hall, with heat (steam) and light (gas), $4.00 to $5.00 per week. In private families, from $3.50 a week upwards. Self-boarding at a minimum cost encouraged. A College Commons has been opened where board is furnished at cost, the rates being $2.00 per week, or somewhat less if paid by the term or the year in advance.

The Ryder Divinity School.—The Divinity School of Lombard College was opened for the admission of students on the 5th of September, 1881. The first class was graduated in 1885.

At the annual meeting of the Board of Trustees in 1890, it was voted to name the theological department of the College the Ryder Divinity School in honor of the late William Henry Ryder, D.D., whose munificent bequests to the College exceed fifty thousand dollars. The largest benefaction to the Divinity School from any other source was received from the late Hon. A. G. Throop. In 1890, Mr. Throop gave twenty thousand dollars toward the endowment.

Tuition in the Divinity School is free to those studying for the Christian ministry. Admission requirements will be explained on request.

The Seminary is situated at Barre, Vt., the Granite City, and is easy of access by rail from points within the State or at a distance.

Four courses of study are offered. The academic course includes a knowledge of the ordinary English branches and the Sciences, with at least two years spent on languages. By omitting the languages, an English course is formed similar to the ordinary course in schools of this grade. The college preparatory course fits the student for any college, while including some useful studies not required for admission. The academic course is designed for such students as do not purpose attending college, but desire the best education a secondary school can give them. There is opportunity in this course, therefore, for studying the ancient and modern languages, mathematics, science, English literature, rhetoric and history.

Each of the courses occupies four years, and a diploma is given at the completion of any one of them.

Both sexes are admitted. The atmosphere of the school is made as home-like as possible, while suitable restraints are imposed. A multiplicity of rules is avoided, however, much being left to each student's honor and sense of propriety.

The department of instrumental music is well conducted. The reputation of this department is very high. Diplomas will be given to students satisfactorily completing the course in Music.

Vocal music is also taught by a teacher of reputation and experience. His work gives general satisfaction.

The school is supplied with anatomical models, charts, globes, microscope, a cabinet of minerals, apparatus for chemistry and natural philosophy, and a library of twenty-eight hundred volumes.

A gymnasium, erected and equipped by the alumni and friends, gives ample opportunity for physical development. Care will be taken to have proper physical examination, and exercise will be in charge of competent instructors.

A commercial department, recently established, gives instruction in all branches taught in the best business colleges.

The Thompson Memorial Building furnishes every facility to twenty-eight students to board themselves.

Fund.—The permanent fund amounts to about $65,000 and will be materially increased by bequests subject to life interest.

NECROLOGY.

The following named preachers, fifteen in, all have died since Nov. 1901.

FRANCES E. CHENEY, died in Saybrook, Ill., December 13, 1901. Educated at Lombard College, she graduated from the Divinity School in June 1895, and was ordained at Muncie, Ind., the 29th of the following August. While pursuing her studies at Galesburg she became pastor of the Swan Creek, Ills., parish. After graduation she accepted the pastorate at Richmond Indiana, then of Mt. Pulaski circuit in Illinois, and later of the Greenup Circuit in the same State. She was the victim of an accident just before entering Lombard and was a physical sufferer ever after. Her death was the result of tuberculosis, following a severe attack of La Grippe. "She had naturally a poetic temperament and being of a literary turn of mind, her sermons were always well prepared, beautiful and restful and filled with that spiritual power that makes human life better and happier. Always sympathetic, no one ever sought her for help and comfort and failed to find it. She was ambitious beyond her strength and, considering the weakness of her body, the amount of work she accomplished was almost phenomenal."

JOHN WESLEY HANSON, D. D., born in Boston, Mass., May, 12, 1823, died on the train en route from Chicago to Pasedena, at Flagstaff, Arizona, December 14, 1901. Educated in the public schools of Boston and Lowell, he was for a few years an accountant, during which period he studied Latin, Greek, German and Theology. His early preparation for the ministry was under the guidance of Rev. Messrs Thayer, Thomas and Miner. He preached his first sermon Dec. 24, 1843, at Methuen, Mass. His first pastorate was at Wentworth, N. H., where he was ordained August 28, 1845. Subsequent pastorates were at Danvers, Mass.; Norridgewock, Conn., Gardiner, Me.; Haverhill, Mass; Dubuque, Iowa; Glasgow, Scotland; and he was temporary pastor in other localities.

While residing at Norridgewock he represented his Congressional district, in the World's Peace Congress at Frankfort on the Main ; and while at Gardiner, Me., he represented the town in the State Legislature and was a member of the committee which drafted the present prohibitory law for that State. During the second campaign of the famous Massachusetts Sixth Regiment, he was its chaplain, and also during the regiment's 100 days campaign, a year later. For six years he edited the "Cospel Banner," and was editor of the "New Covenant," Chicago, Ill., from 1869 to 1884.

"Dr. Hanson was the author of over thirty volumes. The majority of these were Universalist books and constitute an output of literary work beyond that of any man that has written in defence of the doctrines and history of the Church." The first appeared in 1844, and the last in 1901. Perhaps the most famous and influential, is his "Aion-Aionios," first published in 1876 and afterwards greatly enlarged; which Archdeacon Farrar declares is "exhaustive" of the theme. He was also famous as a debater with opposers of Universalism.

In 1867, Lombard University conferred on him the title of A. M., and in 1886 Buchtel College gave him the degree of D.D. Through a long and exceptionally active life, he was constantly giving aid to every cause which appealed to his sympathies and judgment, foremost in which was Christian Universalism. "The Church which mourns his death will honor his memory as one of its great toilers and most faithful servants, who, having fought the good fight now rests from his labors and has entered into the joy of his Lord."

CHARLES FLUHRER, D.D., born in Providence, R. I., Aug. 29 1840, died at Albion, N. Y., December 27, 1901. He was educated in the public schools of Providence and in the Canton Theological School, graduating from the latter in 1862. After a brief supply in Albany, N. Y, he took his first pastorate in Newark, N. Y., where he was ordained in 1865 Subsequently he served in Victor, New York City, N. Y.; and for nineteen years at Grand Rapids, Mich. From the latter place he went in 1894 to Albion, N. Y. to the Pullman Memorial Church, at the strong desire of the late George M Pullman, who had erected the church as a memorial of his father and mother. In 1887 he received the degree of D.D. from Lombard University.

Those who knew Dr. Fluhrer "were especially impressed with the fact of his genuineness. This was stamped upon every gesture, feature, word, act. There was no sham about him. From the foundation he was solid and of the best material. It was utterly impossible for him to speak a word he did not believe or to act even the shadow of a falsehood. This was preeminently the character of his friendships. They were genuine and they were forever . . . . . We are sure that he has made the Church richer and greater, and while we drop a tear over his grave we bless the good Father that he has lived and that it has been our privilege to know and love him."

WILLIAM CATHCART BROOKS, born in Butler Co. Ohio, Jan. 20, 1824, died at Sorrento, Florida, January 11, 1902. He was ordained in 1844, from which time he was in active service on circuits in Ohio and Indiana, with the exception of a few months in Malden, Mass, until his removal to Florida, in 1882, since which time he has only preached occasionally. He served as a private in an Ohio 100 days regiment, in the days of the rebellion, and was an active and enthusiastic member of the G. A. R. He had been in feeble health since Sept. 1901, but "he bore his sickness with great fortitude and was sustained in death by the faith he proclaimed so earnestly for over half a century. . . . . Thus a good man whose memory will endure and be pleasant to many friends, has ended the earthly career and rests in God."

LINDLEY M. ANDREWS, born in Columbiana Co. Ohio, in 1836, died after a long sickness, at the Hospital of the Good Samaritan, Los Angeles, California, February 5, 1902. Of Orthodox Quaker parentage, he was led away from his inherited or traditional belief in the dogma of endless punishment, by the study of the new Testament in the original Greek while a student at Antioch College. His first occupation after graduating was civil engineering, but he afterwards fitted himself for the practice of law and was successfully engaged in that when the Civil War began in 1861. He entered the service, first in the engineering corps and subsequently as captain in a Wisconsin Regiment of Infantry. When the war was ended he resumed the practice of law.

"In 1879 Bro. Andrews, being in an Illinois town, was invited to occupy a pulpit in the Universalist church as a lay speaker. He felt the call as from God, his Quaker blood asserted itself, it was a moving of the Spirit. He straightway abandoned the bright prospects of his legal profession and entered on the work of the ministry. It was pure unselfishness." He was ordained at Dublin, Ind., September 14, 1879. For ten years he ministered in various places in Illinois, Indiana and Ohio and "for a time maintained the Mission at Yankton, Dakota." In 1889 he went to Santa Paula, Cal., where he found a town of 1,000 people with one Universalist. In the spring of 1890 he organized a "Church of sixty-six members forty-seven of whom received baptism." "Bro. Andrews' work was not of the kind that soon passes away, for he was loved and respected by all kinds and conditions, outside and inside the churches. He was truly the most loved man we have ever known. He was possessed of a brilliant mind, was a profound thinker, and at times he rose to the levels of fervid pulpit oratory."

JULIUS FREDERICK SIMMONS, born in St., Lawrence Co. N. Y., Sept. 16 1850, died after an illness of scarcely a week's duration, at Woodstock, Vt., Feb. 7, 1902. He graduated from St. Lawrence University in 1869, and from the Canton Theological School in 1872. His first settlement was at Bethel Me., where he was ordained Dec. 31, 1872 and where he remained two years. Afterwards he was at Springfield, Vt., four years, at Webster, Mass, eight years, then three years in Stafford, Conn. and finally in Woodstock, Vt., thirteen years. He was superintendent of the public schools of Woodstock and represented the town in the Vermont Legislature in 1898,99. At the time of his death, and for three years previous, he was president of the Vermont and Province of Quebec Convention.

His classmate in the Theological School, the Rev. R. A. Greene, thus speaks of him : "He was integrity and nobility in every fibre of his being. As a classmate in the Divinity School and a friend for more than thirty years, I have known him intimately and never but to respect and love him for his cheerful, genial temperament, his broad and catholic spirit, his earnest, devout and manly character. Socially he was one of the most companionable of men. His presence insured an atmosphere of geniality and of the highest type of good fellowship. His nature sparkled with kindness, generosity, love. He could hate nothing but vice and meaness. He had a thoroughly Christian desire to benefit and bless all that were fortunate enough to come under his influence. To the Universalist Church he has been a minister of the highest and best grade, scholarly, thoughtful, earnest, inspired by devotion to the denomination and a great love for the ministry as a profession. It mattered not where he was called to labor, however humble the sphere, or apparently inadequate the material compensation, he was the same earnest, faithful effective worker and preacher. The parishes he served were blessed by his ministry. The parish in Woodstock was made strong by him and his thirteen years of service there. He was easily a leader of the Universalist forces in Vermont, where in Convention and elsewhere, he made his influence felt and always wisely and safely for the best interests of the cause."

DANIEL BALLOU, born in Norwich, N. Y. December 9, 1838, died in Utica, N. Y., February 16, 1902. He was in the sixth generation from Rev. Maturin Ballou, the great, great grandfather of the eminent Rev. Hosea Ballou. He fitted for the ministry in the Canton Theological School, being a member of its first class, and graduated April 16, 1861. His first settlement was at Oxford, N. Y., where he was ordained sometime in 1861. After three years service in Oxford, he took the pastorate at Utica, N. Y. which he filled five years, when he accepted a call to Indianapolis, Ind. While waiting at the railroad station for a train to bring him back for his family, a cyclone wrecked the building and inflicted upon him serious and permanent injury. As soon as possible he was taken to Utica, which was ever after his permanent home, and where for two years his injuries incapacitated him for work. The remaining thirty-two years of his life were actively employed in his serving as pastor or supply in Rome and Lee Center, Fort Plain and Minden, Sherburn, Poolville, Madison, Frankfort, Mohawk and several other parishes not far distant from his home. At the time of his death, which was caused by Bright's disease and heart failure supervening on pneumonia, he was pastor at Bridgewater.

"Daniel Ballou was a man of large stature, good intelligence, wide sympathies, religious vitality, practical sense and executive ability." Since 1866 he was, to the time of his death, one of the trustees of the Clinton Liberal Institute and for the most of that period the Secretary of the Board. For the last thirteen years he was also an active and useful member of the Board of Trustees of St. Lawrence University. "During the course of his ministry he officiated at 4,710 services, of which number 1 173 were funerals. "Gifted in prayer which seemed the atmosphere of his soul, saturated with the faith of Universalism whose lofty hopes and tender consolations he voiced in scores of pulpits, and hundreds of homes of bereavement in Central New York, he was true in his word and work alike to the vows of his young manhood and will be held in grateful remembrance by thousands whose hearts he had touched to quicken or console."

JOAN WESLEY HENLEY, D.D., born at Waynesville, Ohio, September 3, 1832, died at Dayton, Ohio, February 17, 1902. He was educated at the National Normal University, Lebanon. Ohio. which in 1888 honored him with the degree of D. D. In 1859 he was ordained to the Christian Ministry in the Protestant Methodist Church and was settled over a church of that communion in Springfield Ohio, in 1862, when he became a Universalist and took charge of our church in the same place. "He was afterwards settled at Mount Gilead, where he had a successful ministry of several years. Removing to the vicinity of Cincinnati, he became pastor at Springboro, and afterwards filled regular appointments at Newtown, Montgomery, Canterfield, Aurora, Ind., Boone County, Ky., and other points where services were held monthly or semi-monthly. In 1868, or thereabouts, he accepted a position in the Cincinnati Publishing House of Williamson and Cantwell, and for many years thereafter, was identified with the Star in the West, as assistant to Dr. Cantwell in the editorial conduct of that paper." Of his services in this capacity and of his work generally, Dr. Cantwell says: "He was an industrious and capable newspaper man, never more happy than when at his desk doing his allotted tasks—collecting items and gathering the news from all sources and occasionally furnishing articles and paragraphs for the editorial columns . . . . . Much of the success of the Star in those years when it circulated weekly 8000 to 9000 copies, was due to his industry and faithful attention to office details. . . . . He brought into the ministry of the Universalist Church a zeal and fervor born of the Methodist experience and was at times impatient at the slow response of the people to earnest appeals in behalf of improved methods of Church life. But he was always hopeful of the future and found great comfort in the last ten years of his life in the growth of the young people's movement. As a pastor he was devoted and faithful and made friends. In the Conference meeting and the Sunday school he was always at his best. John W. Henley has done good work for the Church and is entitled to honorable remembrance, among the Ohio Universalists especially, as one who has given forty years of self-sacrificing labor to the Universalist Church and who deserves well of all who love that Church and are interested in its growth and progress."

CHARLES HENRY EATON, D.D. born in Milford, Mass., in August, 1852, died at Tryon, North Carolina, April 14, 1902. His father, the late Henry A. Eaton, of our Church, died at the early age of 36 years, of pulmonary consumption, leaving his son and daughter to the fostering care of the late Ebenezer D. Draper, who discharged his trust with Christian fidelity. Mr. Eaton fitted for Tufts at Goddard Seminary, graduated from the College of Letters in 1874 and from the Divinity School in 1877. His first pastorate was at Palmer, Mass., where he was ordained June 28, 1877. Four years later he was called to succeed Rev. Dr. E. H. Chapin,—who had passed out of this life the preceding December,—as pastor of the Church of the Divine Paternity, in the City of New York. At first he hesitated, with true modesty shrinking from the greatness and what might seem the burdensome responsibility of such a labor, but wisely, as the event proved, he fought down all fears and hindrances and entered on the work for which he was preeminently fitted. Thoroughly consecrated to his vocation, courageously facing many severe problems, he stood before his people as a wise teacher, was in their homes as a beloved pastor, rejoicing with those who rejoiced, weeping with those who were borne down by sorrows, and comforting them with immortal hopes.

His Alma Mater honored itself when in 1887 it gave him the degree and title of Sacræ Theologæ Doctorem. Prominently he was a student of themes and principles which help men to apprehend the highest ideas of God and to keep his commandments. "As a pulpit orator Dr. Eaton was a great success. He would discourse eloquently without notes, without ever breaking a sentence, violating the king's English, or putting a climax in the wrong place. In this respect he was extraordinary among the pulpit orators of the metropolis . . He was never physically robust, but despite this was always cheery, encouraging, helpful, and in the front rank of social movements for political righteousness, civic reform and larger industrial welfare."

Months of weakness and suffering preceded his going away from us, the remembrance of which, helping us to bear our loss, enables us to rejoice that to him "death is gain."

HOLMES SLADE, born at Somerset, Mass., July 4, 1819, died in Elgin, Ills., June 8, 1902. Educated in the public schools and for a while employed in a sash factory in Fall River, a town frequently visited by the late Rev W. S. Balch, while a resident of Providence, R. I., Mr. Slade became interested in Universalism and under the influence of Mr. Balch he entered the family of the latter and was guided by him in studying for the ministry. He was ordained at a session of the R. I. Convention of Universalists at Pawtucket, R. I., April 14, 1842. The same year he settled at West Woodstock, Conn., and after a pastorate of six years, took charge of the church at Foxboro, Mass., where he remained until 1854, when he entered upon a remarkably successful work in Aurora, Ills., which, on account of severe bronchial trouble he was obliged to relinquish in 1858. After a rest lasting through several months, he organized a church in Ottawa, Ills., the hopeful prospects of which were destroyed by the coming on of the war in 1861. He was then for a little while at Kenosha, Wis., but similar conditions compelled the abandonment of that effort. In 1862, he became pastor at Galesburg, Ills., which he resigned four years later and entered the field as special agent for Lombard Univeasity. A series of sermons preached by him in Elgin, Ills., resulted in the erection of a church edifice and his call to the pastorate in 1867, which he relinquished in 1871. After this he was for a brief time at Osage, Iowa; Dowagiac, Mich.; Whitewater Wis., and McHenry, Ills.; and was regular supply at many other places. Since 1894 his home has been in Elgin.

"For the last year and a half his sickness has been of such a character and its pains so racking and torturing, that his bed of illness became the source of profound sympathy to all his friends. At the last, his passing was like the sleeping of a child."

"Holmes Slade was a man of thoughtful spirit and a deep student of human life. His independent character, which early brought him into the anti-slavery struggle, made him always an uncompromising enemy of every form of oppression and tryanny. There was no shadow on his faith in immortality and in his last days he loved to quote the words of John Quincy Adams, "Holmes Slade is well, but the house in which I am living is tottering to its foundations." The Infinite Fatherhood and the life immortal, the reality of God and the all—victorious love, no greater and diviner realities than these. In these he lived and labored and all men knew and loved him as good and loyal and true to the brotherhood."

SAMUEL ROLAND WARD, born in Sweden, Monroe Co., N. Y. December 27th, 1829, died at Richfield Springs, N. Y., June 13th. 1902. His education was received in the public schools and in early manhood he became a house carpenter, but in a few years after reaching his majority his attention was turned to the Christian ministry, to which he was ordained in Portageville, N. Y October 6th, 1856. His first settlement was at Smithport, Pa., where he remained two years. Returning to the State of New York, in which he had all subsequent pastorates, he was first at Portageville, then at Rome and Lee Center, after that at Richfield Springs eleven years, then for a short time at Sryacuse, at Middleville and Newport; returning to Richfield Springs twenty-five years ago, making in all, a pastorate of thirty-six years in that place. During those years he also had charge of several parishes in nearby localities. At the time of his death Springfield Center, Monticello and Cedarville were thus cared for by him. In all these places he "made full proof of his ministry" and his labors were greatly blessed. He was richly gifted as a "Son of consolation," and as a comforter of the bereaved his services were in great demand on funeral occasions. A good man and true, faithful to every obligation, the Church he loved so well has, in his death, lost an able preacher and a devoted pastor.

JOHN STEBBINS LEE, D.D.. LL.D,, born in Vernon, Vermont, September 23, 1820, died in Canton, New York, September 18, 1902 Determined in early life to obtain an education, he succeeded in fitting himself to begin common school teaching at the age of eighteen, and so enabling him to work his way through Amherst College, from which he graduated in 1845. He then took charge of Mt. Cæsar Academy, at Swanzey, N. H., for a few months, and in June 1846 became a boarder and student in theology, with Dr. Hosea Ballou 2nd., at Medford, Mass. In 1847 he became principal of Melrose Seminary, at West Brattleboro, Vt., where he also took pastoral charge of the Universalist society, in whose church he was ordained, June 23, 1847, Dr. Ballou preaching the sermon. Two years later he was principal of the Liberal Institute, Lebanon, N. H. In 1852 he took charge of the Green Mountain Liberal Institute, South Woodstock, Vt., where, in addition to his regular work in the Institute in his last two years of service there, he had a class in Theology, in which he fitted nine young men for the ministry.

In 1859 Dr. Lee moved to Canton, N. Y., to open a preparatory class for entrance to college and to organize and administer the College of Letters of St. Lawrence University. He served here as acting president, nine years, when he sought and obtained rest and renewed strength by an absence of nine months on a tour through Europe and the Holy Land. Some little while after his return he wrote and published two books: "Nature and Art in the Old World," and 'Sacred Cities;" both evincing wise and profitable observations in his travels. Resuming work in the University in 1869, he was appointed Professor of Ecclesiastical History and Biblical Archæology in the Theological School, a position which he retained thirty-three years or during the remainder of his life and until comparatively a recent period he was able to discharge its duties.

In 1874 he declined the Presidency of Lombard University and the same year he received the degree of D.D., from Buchtel College, and in 1901 the degree of LL, D., from Tufts College. Dr. Lee was a man of great industry, genial, eminently social in his nature and steadfast in his friendships. As the editor of THE REGISTER knows from a happy experience, he was a good parishioner and a kindly but faithful critic. Many hundreds of young people felt his influence as a teacher during the fifty-six years he spent in the class-room and all found him kind and helpful. In the midst of his varied professional labors, he found time to contribute many valuable articles to the denominational papers, and from 1850 to 1891 he furnished twenty valuable papers to the "Universalist Quarterly." All his powers were devoted to the church of his love, for which he suffered many things from the bigotry of his teachers and classmates in college, and in whose behalf he rendered long and valuable service in devotion to her institutions of learning. The Universalist Church will honor a most devoted helper as it keeps his memory green.

EARL WESLEY FULLER, son of Rev. Earl Bull Fuller, a Methodist preacher, was born at Salisbury, N. Y. September 17, 1826, and died at Poolville, N. Y. October 7, 1902. He began to preach while a resident of Caton, N. Y, in 1858, was fellowshipped at the annual session of the Steuben Association, at Greenwood, June 16, 1859, receiving ordination at Rodgersville, N. Y. June 17, 1860. He preached in several places in Alleghany and Steuben Counties until 1875, when he began a very prosperous pastorate at Fort Plain, followed by an equally long settlement in the village of Fords Bush, in the same township of Minden. He was also pastor at Morris, then at Hubbardsville and at Poolville, all his settlements having been in his native State. For a short time he was State Missionary. The N. Y. State Convention places this, with reference to him, on its records: "His was a life of constant service, continuing until the infirmities of age imposed their interdict. His pastorate at Fort Plain was especially blessed with spiritual results, an excellent church organization having been formed under his care. At Minden, Morris, Hubbardsville, Poolville and several other points he labored. As State Missionary his faithfulness was rewarded with no little success. Everywhere he was the exemplary Christian, commending the Gospel alike by the earnest word and the living example. In a sense, he was the poet preacher, his thought finding expression in forms of singular beauty. His entire ministry was spent within the bounds of our state and its fruits will continue to be brought forth here for years yet to come."

ROBERT QUEAL, born in Utica, N. Y. Nov. 24, 1820, died in Decatur, Mich., Oct. 25, 1902. He was born and brought up in a Baptist home, but became a Universalist early in life and united with the Universalist Church in Utica. He began to preach in 1841 and was fellowshipped at the session of the Central Association, June 1st, 1842. His first settlement was at Lee Centre, and subsequent pastorates were at Stockbridge, Sherburne, Upper Lisle and Erieville, all in Central New York. In 1859 he went to Michigan, where he preached in several places until 1871, when he made his home in Decatur, gave up pastoral work, but officiated, as called for, in various ministerial services. For several years growing infirmities have necessitated his retirement from public life and he has been patiently waiting his emancipation from earth. He was a good man, faithful in all things.

JOSEPH KIDDER, a licensed lay preacher since 1881, died at his home in Manchester, N. H., Nov. 5th, 1902, aged 83 years. Eminent in the city where he resided, as also throughout the State for his interestedness and zeal in all good things; conspicuous in the Universalist Church for his long and faithful services, he lived a life of usefulness and honor, and died in the triumph of faith. His pastor gives as his last words: "I have perfect faith in the outcome. It is all well. I go on without a fear. My faith in God has comforted and strengthened me all through my life. I shall soon be with my Father and his saints and angels. I wait only that great change that comes once to all. God is good. His loving kindness and tender mercies are over all his works."

UNIVERSALIST PROFESSION OF BELIEF AND CONDITIONS OF FELLOWSHIP.

Adopted as an amendment to Article III. of the Constitution of the General Convention, at its session in Boston, October 23, 1899.

I. The Profession of Belief adopted at the session at Winchester, N. H., A.D. 1803, is as follows:

ARTICLE I. We believe that the Holy Scriptures of the Old and New Testaments contain a revelation of the character of God and of the duty, interest and final destination of mankind.

ARTICLE II. We believe that there is one God, whose nature is Love, revealed in one Lord Jesus Christ, by one Holy Spirit of Grace, who will finally restore the whole family of mankind to holiness and happiness.

ARTICLE III. We believe that holiness and true happiness are inseparably connected, and that believers ought to be careful to maintain order and practise good works; for these things are good and profitable unto men.

II. The conditions of fellowship shall be as follows:

1. The acceptance of the essential principles of the Universalist Faith, to wit: 1. The Universal Fatherhood of God; 2. The Spiritual authority and leadership of His Son, Jesus Christ; 3. The trustworthiness of the Bible as containing a revelation from God; 4. The certainty of just retribution for sin; 5. The final harmony of all souls with God.

The Winchester Profession is commended as containing these principles, but neither this nor any other precise form of words is required as a condition of fellowship, provided always that the principles above stated be professed.

2. The acknowledgment of the authority of the General Convention and assent to its laws.

DAYS OF SPECIAL OBSERVANCE.

Recommendations by the Universalist General Convention.

1. It is recommended that CHRISTMAS SUNDAY, i. e. the Sunday nearest Christmas, be observed by appropriate services.

2. It is recommended that on EASTER SUNDAY A SERVICE OF RECOGNITION be held, at which time persons baptized in childhood, and others, may be welcomed by suitable rites to membership of the Church.

3. It is recommended that one Sunday be set apart in each year, to be denominated CHILDREN'S SUNDAY,—in all cases, where practicable, THE SECOND SUNDAY IN JUNE, or as near thereto as possible; that parents and guardians be encouraged and invited to bring their children to the altar on that day for baptism or dedication to the service of the Lord.

4. It is recommended that the FIRST SUNDAY OF OCTOBER, in each year, be set apart as MEMORIAL SUNDAY, for commemorating those friends who, during the year, have been taken away by death.

5. It is recommended that the FIRST SUNDAY OF NOVEMBER, in each year, be set apart as ALL-SOULS SUNDAY, for a special celebration of our distinguishing doctrine, the Scriptural truth that all souls are GOD'S children, and that finally, by His grace attending them, they will all be saved from the power of sin, and will live and reign with Him forever in holiness and happiness.

6. It is recommended that the THIRD SUNDAY OF MAY, in each year, be set apart as EDUCATIONAL SUNDAY, for the presentation to the people of the educational interests of our Church. And that on the same day an appeal be made to our SUNDAY SCHOOLS for aid in the HOME MISSIONARY WORK of our Church.

7. It is recommended that the FOURTH SUNDAY IN NOVEMBER, in each year, be set apart as JAPAN SUNDAY, for the presentation of the claims of our FOREIGN WORK, and for soliciting pecuniary aid therefor.

UNIVERSALIST REGISTER,

FOR 1904.

THE GENERAL CONVENTION.

"The Universalist General Convention," having jurisdiction over the ecclesiastical organizations of the Universalist Church in the United States and Canadian provinces, meets biennially. The next session—1905—is to be held in Minneapolis, Minn., on the Wednesday preceding the fourth Sunday in October. Preacher of the Occasional Sermon, Frederick W. Betts, D.D. The Convention is composed of the Presidents, the Vice-Presidents and the Secretaries of the State Conventions, and of clerical and lay delegates from the State Conventions, each State being entitled to two clerical and four lay delegates and to an additional number of each class of delegates in proportion to the aggregate of its parishes and clergymen. At least four parishes must be organized and established in a State before a State Convention can be formed, but a less number of parishes may unite to choose two delegates, clerical or lay, to represent them in the General Convention; and if there be one parish so situated, it is entitled to two delegates. In all such States or Territories the General Convention has original jurisdiction.

All laws relating to fellowship, ordination and discipline originate in the General Convention, and it is the final court of appeal in all cases of dispute or difficulty between State Conventions. It is an incorporated body, empowered to hold real and personal estate to the value of five hundred thousand dollars, "to be devoted exclusively to the diffusion of Christian knowledge, by means of missionaries, publications and other agencies." In the interim of sessions the interests of the Convention are watched over and managed by a Board of Trustees. The funds of the Convention, as reported in 1902, aggregate $364,319.25 and are distributed as follows:—

I. The Murray Centenary Fund, created in 1870 as a memorial of the one hundredth anniversary of Rev. John Murray's first sermon in America, $142,958.03. The income of this fund is used "in the aid of theological students, the distribution of Universalist literature, church extension and the missionary cause."

II. Church Extension Fund. This fund, the income of which is to be devoted as its name indicates, now amounts to $15,220.24.

III. William H. Ryder Fund. $25,000. The income only to be used "at the discretion of the Board of Trustees, for the education of young persons for the ministry of the Universalist Church." But the Board may, in a certain contingency, apply a portion of such income "to the credit of any Missionary or Church Extension Fund" under their control and direction.

IV. Theological Scolarship Fund, $2,807.10.

V. Waverly (Iowa) Fund. $800.

VI. The Mrs. W. J. Bartlett Fund, the gift of Mrs. Nancy Bartlett, late of Milford, Mass. $6,370.48.

VII. The Clarissa L. Crane Fund, the gift of Clarissa L. Crane, late of Stamford, Conn., "to be used and applied by the Trustees of the Convention to the general uses and purposes of the corporation." $3,000.

VIII. The Sarah P. Blake Fund, the income to be used "for the benefit and promotion of the Universalist denomination in this country." $1,694.81.

IX. The John D. W. Joy Fund, $10,000.

X. The Jennie L. Sinclair Fund. $4.487.48.

XI. The Mary T. Goddard Fund, $487.48.

XII. Gunn Ministerial Relief Fund. The late John G. Gunn, of New York, bequeathed to the Convention the sum of $8,000, "to create a fund for the relief, support and maintenance of needy clergymen, their widows and families, of the Universalist denomination," except those in fellowship through the New York State Convention, which has an endowment for that purpose. The fund now amounts to $18,472.76.

XIII. Foreign Missions Fund, the gift of Lucian Blackmer, Esq., of St. Louis, Mo., with the addition of $100 by Mrs. Martin, of West Henrietta, N. Y. $5,300.

XIV. Mrs. Nancy Bliss Fund. $2,564.93.

XV. Ada Tibbetts Memorial Fund. During the year 1886 the Rev. A. Tibbetts, of Urbana, Ill., one of the early graduates of the Canton Theological School, conveyed to the Convention in fee simple, 200 acres of farm land in Champaign County, Ill., on condition that he was to have the use, occupancy and income of the property during his natural life; and that perpetually thereafter one-tenth of the income should be added annually to the principal of the fund, the remaining nine-tenths to be applied, at the discretion of the Trustees, to the purposes of the Convention. He afterward conveyed to the Convention a farm in Ford County, Ill. The property has been sold, and the fund amounts to $9,260.

XVI. G. L. Demarest Reserve Fund. $14,000.

XVII. The "T" Fund. A lady of New York, who desires that her name shall not at present be published, has paid $12,000 to the Convention as a fund, the income of $7,000 after the decease of the donor, to be added to the Theological Scholarship Fund, and that of $4,000 to be applied to the aid of the home church of the founder, and that of the remainder to be equally divided between home and foreign missions.

XVIII. Henry P. Porter Fund. $1,000.

XIX. The "M" Fund, the income "to be devoted to the home and foreign missionary work of the Universalist General Convention, after the death of the donor." $1,000.

XX. The H. L. & L. J. Canfield Fund, "the income to be applied to the general uses and purposes of the Convention, after the death of the donors." $1,000.

XXI. "The Two Friends" Fund, $2,000.

XXII. The Charles A. Luke Fund, $1,000.

XXIII. The R. J. McKay Fund, $1,000.

STATISTICS.

As in last year's REGISTER, so now, it has been deemed advisable to place first all needed statements in regard to State organizations, arranged as heretofore, alphabetically. The same order of arrangement is also made of the Parish statistics, which immediately follow.

The location of parishes and other preaching places, according to post-office address is shown in the first column; where a fraction appears after the name of a parish it indicates that preaching services are held part of the time; (oc.) denotes that there is only occasional preaching; (m.) monthly services; (dor.) that the society is inactive; (‖) that the parish is not in formal fellowship. Where the name of a parish is preceded by a dagger (†) it indicates that no recent information has been received. The number of families included in the respective parishes is given under the proper heading. Under the head of "Church Edifices," the date of dedication is given when known. Un denotes that the parish is part owner in a union house of worship; the abbreviations b. (brick), st. (stone), w. (wood), indicate the material of the structure. In the column designated "Preachers," the names of pastors or regular supplies are given. If the name is in italics the preacher is a licentiate; parallels (‖) show that he is not in the Universalist fellowship. An asterisk (*) prefixed to the name of a Parish Clerk, Superintendent of Sunday School or Secretary of a Young Peoples Organization, denotes that the officer is a woman and should be addressed as Miss; two asterisks () that she should be addressed as Mrs.

The statistics except those relating to the Young Peoples Religious Organizations are from official reports of State Convention Secretaries to the Secretary of the General Convention. In the absence of information of recent date from this source the figures of the last reported year are used.

Information of new parishes or preaching places received since receipt of the General Secretary's tabular statements, follow the respective tables.

The erection of the new church is fully justified by the attendance of an aggregate of 400 or 500 young men every Sunday. The regular activities connected with the church and school buildings at Tokyo are as follows: 1. On Sunday at 9 a. m., Sunday school including Bible class; 10.30 a. m., morning worship in Japanese; 1.30 p. m., Lecture meeting for young men; 6.15 p. m., English song class; 7 p.m., Evening service, sermon in English and interpreted into Japanese. 2. An evening school for English every day except Sunday. 3. A day school for girls with two departments, English and industrial."

LOMBARD COLLEGE.

Lombard College is located in Galesburg, Illinois. It received its charter Feb. 15, 1851, and the institution was opened for the reception of students in the autumn of 1852. From the first, women were admitted to all departments of the University on the same conditions that were appointed for young men, this being the second college in the United States to adopt the principle of co-education. The first class, consisting of two women and four men, was graduated in 1856. Forty-eight classes have been graduated, with a total membership of 427. As organized at present, the College embraces four departments of instruction: The College of Liberal Arts, the Preparatory School, the Ryder Divinity School, and the School of Music and Art. The College year begins the first Tuesday in September and closes on Commencement Day, the first Thursday in June. There are three terms each year.

The College of Liberal Arts has adopted the Group and Elective System of study. Candidates for admission to College may elect from a list of twenty-four subjects, in English, Mathematics, the Languages, the Sciences, and History, those studies in which they shall be examined. 16 units, or the equivalent of a four years course in a good high school, are required for admission to full standing. Students admitted to full standing will be ranked as candidates for the degree of Bachelor of Arts. After admission, students in the College of Liberal Arts may with advice from the faculty, elect any group from ten that are offered, supplemented by single electives. Advanced courses in any subject may not be elected until the necessary preliminary courses have been taken.

Elective studies are classed as courses or half courses, according t the estimated amount of work in each and its value in fulfilling the requirements for graduation. In general, a course, in any study, consists of five hours of recitation or lectures, or ten hours of laboratory work per week for one term. The College offers instruction, at present, in 153 courses. The degree of Bachelor of Arts will be conferred upon any student who has satisfactorily completed the aggregate amount of thirty-eight full courses, elected from the studies offered in the College of Liberal Arts, beyond the sixteen units required for admission.

The Preparatory School furnishes suitable instruction and thorough training to students who wish to prepare themselves for college.

The School of Music and Art is under the direction of thoroughly competent teachers. Instruction is given in Harmony, Theory, Composition, History of Music, etc., piano, organ, violin, mandolin, guitar, voice culture, sight and chorus singing, drawing, crayon, pastel, painting and china painting.

GODDARD SEMINARY.

The Seminary is situated at Barre, Vt., the Granite City, and is easy of access by rail from points within the State or at a distance.

Four courses of study are offered. The academic course includes a knowledge of the ordinary English branches and the Sciences, with at least two years spent on languages. By omitting the languages, an English course is formed similar to the ordinary course in schools of this grade. The college preparatory course fits the student for any college, while including some useful studies not required for admission. The academic course is designed for such students as do not purpose attending college, but desire the best education a secondary school can give them. There is opportunity in this course, therefore, for studying the ancient and modern languages, mathematics, science, English literature, rhetoric and history.

Each of the courses occupies four years, and a diploma is given at the completion of any one of them.

Both sexes are admitted. The atmosphere of the school is made as home-like as possible, while suitable restraints are imposed. A multiplicity of rules is avoided, however, much being left to each student's honor and sense of propriety.

The department of instrumental music is well conducted. The reputation of this department is very high. Diplomas will be given to students satisfactorily completing the course in Music.

Vocal music is also taught by a teacher of reputation and experience. His work gives general satisfaction.

The school is supplied with anatomical models, charts, globes, microscope, a cabinet of minerals, apparatus for chemistry and natural philosophy, and a library of twenty-eight hundred volumes.

A gymnasium, erected and equipped by the alumni and friends, gives ample opportunity for physical development. Care will be taken to have proper physical examination, and exercise will be in charge of competent instructors.

A commercial department, recently established, gives instruction in all branches taught in the best business colleges.

The Thompson Memorial Building furnishes every facility to twenty-eight students to board themselves.

Fund.—The permanent fund amounts to about $65,000 and will be materially increased by bequests subject to life interest.

Expenses—Board, $3 50 per week, including room rent, steam heat, light and washing. The charge for tuition averages $13 per term. Twelve free scholarships pay the tuition of those pupils meeting the requirements. School charges for the year amount to $175.

WESTBROOK SEMINARY AND FEMALE COLLEGE.

This is a boarding and day school for both sexes, chartered as Westbrook Seminary, in 1831, and opened for instruction in 1834. It is very easy of access, situated in the Deering suburb of Portland, Me.

The buildings are Goddard Hall for gentlemen, Hersey Hall for ladies, a dining hall connecting the two, Alumni Hall and the McArthur Gymnasium. Extensive repairs have been made in all the halls, through the generosity of Mrs. Goddard and others. Ten thousand dollars have been recently expended and the halls are supplied with all modern improvements. The Universalist Church is on the seminary grounds.

All the buildings are heated by steam and have other conveniences so as to accommodate one hundred boarders. Alumni Hall contains a general school-room, recitation rooms, laboratory, and a cabinet of minerals and curiosities. The library is in Hersey Hall. The McArthur Gymnasium, erected in 1900, is a brick building and is first-class in all respects; it is lighted with electricity.

NECROLOGY.

The following named preachers, twelve in all, have died since Nov. 5th., 1902.

BENJAMIN FRANKLIN SNOOK, born in Jackson Co., Ohio, in 1835, died in Webster City, Iowa, Dec. 3, 1902. Most of the years of his childhood were spent in Indiana. At the age of eighteen he began to preach in the Christian denomination and was ordained while in its fellowship. In 1872 he was fellowshiped by the Iowa Convention of Universalists, and had an active and profitable ministry in that State, the early part of it being in the missionary field, at Tipton, Vinton, Storm Lake, Steamboat Rock, Cedar Falls, Cedar Rapids, Bloomfield, Iowa Falls, Clarinda and Webster City. His last pastorate was at Wausau, Wis., from which he retired about three years ago, and made his home in Webster City, Iowa. "His congenial nature and hopeful disposition made him a man much sought after for a friend, and he enjoyed in his last years the friendships of many. On every hand were heard expressions of genuine sorrow at his death. The daily papers spoke in words of high praise of his life as citizen and minister. Said one: 'Mr. Snook was, in his life and character, the embodiment of those better attributes that go to make up the full-rounded man, and in all the communities where he has ever lived, as in Webster City, he was honored and beloved because of the manly virtues and Christian spirit that his every-day life so beautifully exemplified.'"

LYMAN HAMILTON SQUIRES, born at South Danville, N. Y., in 1851, died suddenly, at Hornellsville, N. Y., Dec. 6, 1902. Living in early life in East Aurora, N. Y, he was educated in its schools. Entering the profession of dentistry in the office of his father, and under his instruction, he was soon led into the ministry of the Universalist Church, having pursued a course of study under the direction of the late Rev. Dr. L. J. Fletcher. He was ordained at North Bloomfield, N. Y., Oct. 28, 1874, where he had his first pastorate. His subsequent settlements were at Reading, Pa.; Poughkeepsie, N. Y.; Lansing, Mich.; New Haven, Conn.; Jamestown, Rochester and Hornellsville, N. Y. In all these places he was a good and helpful minister. "His sermons were carefully prepared. He provoked thought, aroused convictions and inspired his audience. . . . . In the councils of our Church, in associations and conventions—his ideas were illuminative. His suggestions were invariably helpful. He was a man of wisdom among us. He was a lover of mankind. In a profound sense this characteristic was true of him. He was true to his friends and loved them. He loved all. He was neither revengeful nor unkind to those who spoke ill of him. Injustice or unkindness done to him, he sorrowed more for the ill doer than because of any personal hurt He was as near a Universal man as I ever met. Fine-spirited, whole-souled, loyal, loving, earnest minister of Jesus Christ. He did much to bring the kingdom of righteousness and good-will near to realization."

WILLIAM WALLACE LOVEJOY, born at Pompey, Onondaga Co., N. Y., July 29, 1832, died at Oak Park, Ill., Jan. 19 1903. He was a student with the late Rev. Drs. Sawyer and Montgomery, and was ordained at Waterville, Me., his first settlement, in 1853. Five years later he had a pastorate at Dexter, Me., where he remained until the beginning of the war for the preservation of the Union, when he became Second Lieutenant of the 41st U. S. Infantry (colored), and served until sickness compelled his discharge. He then returned to his work in Dexter, but was soon called to Bristol, N. Y. After three years service there, he went to Orono, Me. In the fourth year of this pastorate his health broke down, and for three years he resided on a farm at Littleton, Mass As soon as his health permitted he re-entered the active ministry, taking up the work in Calais, Me., where he had a happy pastorate of eight years, when his voice failed him, and in 1884 he was obliged to abandon preaching. He then made his home in Chelsea, Mass., until 1892, when he moved to Oak Park, Ill. "Bro. Lovejoy," says his pastor, the Rev. Dr. Johonnot, 'had a very sweet and sunny disposition and a heart of affection which made him universally beloved. His life was pure and gentle, yet he was capable of much heroism. This latter element of his nature showed itself in his service, both by word and by active enlistment in the army during the great struggle for human freedom It was also shown in the patience and uncomplaining spirit with which he bore his trials and sufferings. His speech and presence were gracious and uplifting and his whole life was a constant inspiration to all who knew him. . . . . As his pastor for the last ten years, the writer wishes to bear personal testimony to his unfailing good cheer and patience under great trial and suffering; to his high qualities of head and heart; to his cordial sympathy and co-operation in all pastoral work; to his wise counsel and advice, ever graciously given when asked, but never obtruded unsolicited. He was a loyal minister of our faith and a true disciple of Jesus Christ."

JOHN MARSHFIELD GETCHELL was born in Whitneyville, Me., Feb. 9, 1839, and died in Marshall, Mich., Jan. 24, 1903. In his boyhood his parents moved to Minneapolis, Minn., and there the boy learned the printer's trade, at which he worked until the breaking out of the war in 1861, when he enlisted in Company B 6th Minnesota, and served his country faithfully as soldier and chaplain. At the close of the war he was bookkeeper in a large house in Chicago several years. During this time he felt that the Christian ministry should be his calling, and entering Meadville, Pa., Theological School, he completed a three years' course in a little more than two years, and graduated at the head of a class of 22, and at once began his career as a Universalist preacher, being licensed in 1873, and ordained at Linesville, Pa., June 18, 1874. His first settlement was in Girard, Pa., and he was afterwards at Black River Falls, Columbus, Wis; Harlem, N. Y.; Brooklyn, Columbus, Pa.; Eaton, Ohio; Caro, Ohio, Lapeer, Mich.; Norwalk, Ohio; Tecumseh, Marshall, Mich.; Waterloo, Iowa; and a second time, from 1895 until his death, at Marshall, Mich. He was connected with and stood high in many benevolent and patriotic fraternities, but they never caused him to neglect his duty as a minister and pastor. Until two months before his death he continued actively in his pastoral work. "He commanded the respect of all churches by his noble character and by his strong Christian sermons."

ABSOLOM GRAVES GAINES, S.T.D., LL.D., was born in Kentucky, March 19, 1827, and died at Canton, N. Y., Feb. 2, 1903. He "obtained at much sacrifice a collegiate education" and was a life-long student. His name first appears in the REGISTER in 1850, as an unordained minister, in Boone Co., Ky., for the next two years as preacher at Burlington, in the same State. On the withdrawal of Dr. Sawyer from the Clinton Liberal Institute, Mr. Gaines was associated with Prof. Paul A. Towne in charge of the School, and remained there about two years, when he settled as preacher in Bethel, Me., and was ordained there in 1857. He afterwards settled at Mechanic Falls, Me., from which place he was called to Canton, N. Y., in 1869. This was his last pastorate, as three years later he took the chair of Psychology and Ethics, and Political Economy, and was acting President of St. Lawrence University. From 1873 to 1878 he was President and from thence to the time of his death he continued in the professorship for which he was so eminently qualified. His doctorates, the first bestowed by Tufts, in 1874, and the second, by Lombard, in 1891, indicated appreciation of honors well-earned and well-deserved.

Rev. Dr. Atwood, associated for many years with Dr. Gaines, in announcing the news of the latter's death, in THE UNIVERSALIST LEADER, thus writes an affectionate and just tribute to the man and his work: "Our long association and friendship makes it a personal message and bereavement. Dr. Gaines was a man unfitted to shine on the public stage and inclined to keep himself as much as practicable in retirement. His promotions came to him unsought, and were the result of the discovery of his associates that he was a man of unusual gifts and acquirements. It was in this way that he was put into the presidency of the College, where for near a score of years he wrought a great and lasting work. He was a great teacher. He mastered his subjects and he put his stamp on his pupils. He was an unconventional man, holding quietly his own way, both as to opinions and customs, without regard to the changing views and usages of the world. To those who sought him and knew how to call out his retiring nature, he was genial, sweet and affectionate. A profound thinker, a trained logician, and an exact scholar, this quaint and modest man was a surprise to those who came upon him by chance, or those who inadvertantly crossed the deep furrows of his knowledge and convictions. His faith, like his character, was integral, established, strong. He left his mark on the men and women and on all the institutions he worked with."

HORACE WEBSTER MORSE, born in North Haverhill, N. H., May 2. 1810, died in Greenwood (Wakefield) Mass., March 1, 1903 After receiving the advantages of the public schools of his boyhood, he learned the printer's trade, but before reaching his majority he went to work on his father's farm summers and taught school winters. He then attended several academies in New Hampshire and Vermont, and finished his school life in the Seminary at Stanstead Plain, Lower Canada, teaching meanwhile, a school near Montreal. In 1834 he had charge for two terms, of the Academy at Orleans, Mass. For some little time his thoughts had been turning towards the Christian ministry in the Universalist Church. He preached his first sermon in New Rowley, May 22, 1835, was fellowshipped the same year, and was ordained at Wrentham, Mass., in 1836 The next year he taught school in Reading, preached on alternate Sundays at North Reading, and on intervening Sundays in Middleton and South Reading, now Wakefield. He then took charge of the Universalist Church in Milford, where he founded its first Sunday school. Afterwards he went to West Scituate, now West Norwell, where he taught school and preached Sundays. For five years he was at Exeter, N. H., then returned to North Reading. For seven years he ministered to the Unitarian Society at Chelmsford, Mass., and was superintendent of schools in that town six years. While residing in Lowell twelve years, he preached at Hubbardston twelve years, which was the last of his regular ministry. Since 1884 he made his home with his daughter, at Greenwood, in the enjoyment of a comfortable old age. He was a good man, useful and honored in his day and generation.

GEORGE WASHINGTON BAILEY, born in Weare, N. H., June, 1816, died in Springfield, Vt., May 14, 1903. He was educated at the Chester and Cavendish Academies, and at the Scientific and Military Academy at Unity, N H., then under the charge of the late Rev. Dr. Miner. He was ordained in 1840, probably at Felchville, Vt., where he was then preaching. For 35 years he was in regular pastoral work, in Springfield, East Randolph, Vt., Lebanon, N. H., and Morrisville, Vt., being 25 years in the two last named places. He retired from the active ministry several years ago, though he continued to attend funerals and officiate at weddings. He was twice elected to the legislature of Vermont, and twice to the legislature of New Hampshire. "He was a familiar figure on the streets of Springfield, walking to the office twice a day until within a few days of his death. No man in the community was more highly respected. He had no enemies. Little children loved him."

BENJAMIN HILL DAVIS, born in Providence, Sept., 13, 1813, died at Weymouth, Mass., July 8, 1903. His parents were ardent and active Baptists, and his childhood days were spent in the peculiar atmosphere of a Rhode Island Baptist home; but in his boyhood he knew of the spread of the doctrines of Universalism in his native town and had come to believe them before he reached the years of his majority. On the coming of the late Rev. Dr. W. S. Balch to the pastorate of the Universalist church in Providence, in 1836, Mr. Davis was soon led to feel that his place was in the Universalist ministry. His pastor encouraged him to persevere, and marked out for him a course of study, which he pursued with profit. Sometime in 1837, he began to preach statedly in Cumberland, R. I. In 1838, he was active in organizing the Rhode Island Universalist Convention, and was its first Standing Clerk. In 1839 he was ordained and settled in Wrentham, Mass. Afterwards he was in North Attleboro, then at Milford, and next at Marlboro. Leaving Marlboro he lived awhile in his native city, without a pastorate. He next preached for a short time at Fall River, Mass., then at Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Manchester, N. H., Medford, Provincetown, and Weymouth, Mass., Biddeford and Livermore Falls, Me. From the last pastorate he retired in 1883, on account of ill-health, and made his home thereafter with his daughter, in Weymouth He was a fervent speaker, pleasant in his bearing before the people, and eminently social. He was also a man of the people, trusted and respected wherever he lived. One year he represented the City of Fall River, and three years the town of Medford, in the Massachusetts legislature. He has thus put on record his firm faith in Universalism: "I would give as my living and dying testimony to the world, that I believe the doctrine of God's infinite and universal love, as declared by Jesus Christ in the Gospel of his grace, and confirmed by the Holy Spirit in the impress of his truth upon all who believe therein, is the one Faith that will ultimately make mankind one in Christ, and thus one in the Father, that God may be all in all.

CYRUS HYDE FAY, D.D., LL.D., was born in Lebanon, N. H., November 18, 1815, and died at Stamford, N. Y., July 23, 1903. At the age of 22 he graduated from the famous Norwich University, now located at Northfield, Vt. Not long after graduation he taught school in Baltimore, Md., where, under the guidance of the late Rev. Dr. I. D. Williamson, he studied for the ministry. He preached his first sermon in Hartford, Conn., and was ordained at Woodstock, Vt., June 23, 1840. Some time in 1841, he left Woodstock for Roxbury, Mass., where he remained nearly nine years. Five years he was at Old Orchard St., New York, then in Nashua, N. H.; Middletown, Conn.; Providence, R. I.; then a second time at Middletown, and then four years at Washington, D. C. His days as a settled pastor closed when he left Washington, and took up his residence in Brooklyn. But his days of preaching were not then, nor for a long time after, ended. He loved to visit the people where he had formerly labored, and they all loved to see and to hear him. This was, as the writer knows, especially true of his frequent visits to Providence.

"He was one of those fine spirits who make this world attractive through their genius for friendship. He won men's interest and affection. As soon as he came in contact with people, he found something in common with them. If he entered a street car, the chances were that some younger man or woman would offer him a seat, or hasten to make room for him; and in a moment more he would be in friendly talk with them. The charm of his conversation, rendered piquant and engaging as it was by his quick wit and contagious humor, made us all covet a place near to him, as often and as long as we could get it."

As a preacher Dr. Fay was a prophet, inspired by the greatness of his message; a sturdy opposer of shams, and a zealous advocate of righteousness and integrity; a persuader to the best living, a comforter of the sorrowing and a sympathizing helper to the weary and distressed. And his life was always conformed in its spirit and tone to the righteousness in which he believed, and whose final triumph over all sin he never doubted, but looked forward to with serene and cheerful confidence.

JOHN JULIUS WEEKS was educated for the ministry, at Canton, N. Y., and ordained at Cleveland, Ohio, June 3, 1874. He died at Locust Valley, Long Island, N. Y., Aug. 14, 1903, at about 50 years of age. On account of poor health he was never able to take active pastorates. "He was a man of fine spirit, and was respected by all who knew him."

ORA MCFARLAND HILTON was born in North Anson, Me., July 29, 1853, and died in Newton, Mass., Nov. 10, 1903. His early education was received in the town schools, and in the Anson Academy. He learned the printer's trade, and though early drawn towards the Christian ministry, the responsibilities pressing upon him by his father's death, and the needs of his mother and younger brother and sister, kept him for a long time from making the necessary preparation for the sacred vocation; but in 1882 he entered the Theological School in Canton, N. Y., from which he graduated with honor in June, 1885, and immediately settled at St. Albans, Vt., where he was ordained, Oct. 1st. Three years later he was called to Clifton Springs, N. Y., where he did a good work for four years, when he entered a larger field at Auburn, N. Y., remaining there ten years. For the last year he made his home at Newton, Mass., serving as non-resident pastor of the church at Abington. The last three months of his life were characterized by great pain and weakness, caused by Bright's disease.

"Bro. Hilton was a good minister of Jesus Christ, and one of the most consecrated workmen in our ministerial fellowship. He was thoroughly unselfish and intensely conscientious. He was careful of the use of his time, but served industriously his church and denomination. He was a friend to the poor, the unfortunate, the bereaved and the criminal, Christ-like in his efforts to make the world better. He was always conscious of his limitations, yet had courage to always do his best. He was a model husband, a devoted father, a loyal friend and a true brother."

JAMES MINTON PULLMAN, D.D., born in Portland, Chatauqua Co., N. Y., Aug. 21, 1836, died in Lynn, Mass., Nov 22, 1903. He was educated in Albion Academy and prepared for the ministry at the Canton Theological School, graduating in the first class sent out from that institution, in 1861 Soon after graduation he took his first pastorate at Troy, N. Y., and was ordained in 1862. From Troy he went to New York City, in 1868, remaining there until 1885, when he took charge of the First Universalist Church in Lynn.

During this active ministry, in which he grew marvelously in pulpit ability and force, Dr. Pullman also discharged from time to time, the duties of other functions, as Secretary of the General Convention, President of the N. Y. State Universalist Convention, organizer and first President of the Young Men's Universalist Association of New York, President of the Children's Country Week, in New York City, trustee of St. Lawrence University, from which he received the degree of Doctor of Divinity in 1879; President of Dean Academy, trustee of the New England Conservatory of Music, trustee of the Massachusetts State Board of Lunacy and Charities, member of the Massachusetts Prison Association, and an active promoter of several denominational and literary clubs. He was also greatly interested and active in Sunday School work, and put forth a series of Sunday School Lessons, which has been used in several schools. He was also busy with his pen as an essayist and reviewer, and in the exemplification and advocacy of systematic charitable work and questions of economics and philanthropy.

But his most effective and valuable work was done in the pulpit and on the platform. He was a born preacher; "he combined charm of manner, well-trained and sympathetic voice with something worth saying upon the vital things of life. His was the power of conviction; his beliefs were positive; he stood firmly and serenely upon the eternal verities; his hold was upon God; with his Master he stood before the everlasting Father awaiting his commission. A student of all things pertaining to the Gospel, a mind open and eager for the truth, he found the truth but buttressed the Gospel of the Ages, and he preached the Gospel of Salvation with the power of the Spirit. None who have listened to his thrilling periods, or followed the carefully articulated steps of his argument, or felt the great wholesome sympathy of his heart and voice, can fail to remember and be grateful for the splendor of his service to minds and hearts through his ministry in the Christian pulpit."

It was from the pulpit, after having delivered what many who had listened to his utterances many years, declared was his strongest utterance, that he went to his death, suddenly and in the full strength of all his powers. "His works do follow him!"

UNIVERSALIST PROFESSION OF BELIEF AND CONDITIONS OF FELLOWSHIP.

Adopted as an amendment to Article III. of the Constitution of the General Convention, at its session in Boston, October 23, 1899.

I. The Profession of Belief adopted at the session at Winchester, N. H., A.D. 1803, is as follows:

ARTICLE I. We believe that the Holy Scriptures of the Old and New Testaments contain a revelation of the character of God and of the duty, interest and final destination of mankind.

ARTICLE II. We believe that there is one God, whose nature is Love, revealed in one Lord Jesus Christ, by one Holy Spirit of Grace, who will finally restore the whole family of mankind to holiness and happiness.

ARTICLE III. We believe that holiness and true happiness are inseparably connected, and that believers ought to be careful to maintain order and practise good works; for these things are good and profitable unto men.

II. The conditions of fellowship shall be as follows:

1. The acceptance of the essential principles of the Universalist Faith, to wit: 1. The Universal Fatherhood of God; 2. The Spiritual authority and leadership of His Son, Jesus Christ; 3. The trustworthiness of the Bible as containing a revelation from God; 4. The certainty of just retribution for sin; 5. The final harmony of all souls with God.

The Winchester Profession is commended as containing these principles, but neither this nor any other precise form of words is required as a condition of fellowship, provided always that the principles above stated be professed.

2. The acknowledgment of the authority of the General Convention and assent to its laws.

DAYS OF SPECIAL OBSERVANCE.

Recommendations by the Universalist General Convention

1. It is recommended that CHRISTMAS SUNDAY, i. e. the Sunday nearest Christmas, be observed by appropriate services.

2. It is recommended that on EASTER SUNDAY A SERVICE OF RECOGNITION be held, at which time persons baptized in childhood, and others, may be welcomed by suitable rites to membership of the Church.

3. It is recommended that one Sunday be set apart in each year, to be denominated CHILDREN'S SUNDAY,—in all cases, where practicable, THE SECOND SUNDAY IN JUNE, or as near thereto as possible; that parents and guardians be encouraged and invited to bring their children to the altar on that day for baptism or dedication to the service of the Lord.

4. It is recommended that the FIRST SUNDAY OF OCTOBER, in each year, be set apart as MEMORIAL SUNDAY, for commemorating those friends who, during the year, have been taken away by death.

5. It is recommended that the FIRST SUNDAY OF NOVEMBER, in each year, be set apart as ALL-SOULS SUNDAY, for a special celebration of our distinguishing doctrine, the Scriptural truth that all souls are GOD'S children, and that finally, by His grace attending them, they will all be saved from the power of sin, and will live and reign with Him forever in holiness and happiness.

6. It is recommended that the THIRD SUNDAY OF MAY, in each year, be set apart as EDUCATIONAL SUNDAY, for the presentation to the people of the educational interests of our Church. And that on the same day an appeal be made to our SUNDAY SCHOOLS for aid in the HOME MISSIONARY WORK of our Church.

7. It is recommended that the FOURTH SUNDAY IN NOVEMBER, in each year, be set apart as JAPAN SUNDAY, for the presentation of the claims of our FOREIGN WORK, and for soliciting pecuniary aid therefor.

UNIVERSALIST REGISTER,

FOR 1905.

THE GENERAL CONVENTION.

"The Universalist General Convention," having jurisdiction over the ecclesiastical organizations of the Universalist Church in the United States and Canadian provinces, meets biennially. The next session—1905—is to be held in Minneapolis, Minn., on the Wednesday preceding the fourth Sunday in October. Preacher of the Occasional Sermon, Frederick W. Betts, D.D. The Convention is composed of the Officers of the General Convention, of the Presidents, the Vice-Presidents and the Secretaries of the several State Conventions, and of clerical and lay delegates from the State Conventions, each State being entitled to two clerical and four lay delegates and to an additional number of each class of delegates in proportion to the aggregate of its parishes and clergymen. At least four parishes must be organized and established in a State before a State Convention can be formed, but a less number of parishes may unite to choose two delegates, clerical or lay, to represent them in the General Convention; and if there be one parish so situated, it is entitled to two delegates. In all such States or Territories the General Convention has original jurisdiction.

All laws relating to fellowship, ordination and discipline originate in the General Convention, and it is the final court of appeal in all cases of dispute or difficulty between State Conventions. It is an incorporated body, empowered to hold real and personal estate to the value of five hundred thousand dollars, "to be devoted exclusively to the diffusion of Christian knowledge, by means of missionaries, publications and other agencies." In the interim of sessions the interests of the Convention are watched over and managed by a Board of Trustees. The funds of the Convention, as reported in 1904, aggregate $391,248,91 and are distributed as follows:—

I. The Murray Centenary Fund, created in 1870 as a memorial of the one hundredth anniversary of Rev. John Murray's first sermon in America, $142,958.03. The income of this fund is used "in the aid of theological students, the distribution of Universalist literature, church extension and the missionary cause"

II. Church Extension Fund. This fund, the income of which is to be devoted as its name indicates, now amounts to $15,364,83.

III. William H. Ryder Fund. $25,000. The income only to be used "at the discretion of the Board of Trustees, for the education of young persons for the ministry of the Universalist Church." But the Board may, in a certain contingency, apply a portion of such income "to the credit of any Missionary or Church Extension Fund" under their control and direction.

IV. Theological Scholarship Fund, $2,807.10.

V. Waverly (Iowa) Fund. $800.

VI. The Mrs. W. J. Bartlett Fund, the gift of Mrs. Nancy Bartlett, late of Milford, Mass. $6,370.48.

VII. The Clarissa L. Crane Fund, the gift of Clarissa L. Crane, late of Stamford, Conn., "to be used and applied by the Trustees of the Convention to the general uses and purposes of the corporation." $3,000.

VIII. The Sarah P. Blake Fund, the income to be used "for the benefit and promotion of the Universalist denomination in this country." $1,694.81.

IX. The John D. W. Joy Fund, $10,000.

X. The Jennie L. Sinclair Fund $4,487.48.

XI. The Mary T. Goddard Fund, $4,750.

XII. Gunn Ministerial Relief Fund. The late John G. Gunn, of New York, bequeathed to the Convention the sum of $8,000, "to create a fund for the relief, support and maintenance of needy clergymen, their widows and families, of the Universalist denomination," except those in fellowship through the New York State Convention, which has an endowment for that purpose. The fund now amounts to $18,804.65.

XIII. Foreign Missions Fund, the gift of Lucian Blackmer, Esq., of St. Louis, Mo., with the addition of $100 by Mrs. Martin, of West Henrietta, N. Y. $5,300.

XIV. Bliss Fund. $2,592.78.

XV. Ada Tibbetts Memorial Fund. During the year 1886 the Rev. A. Tibbetts, of Urbana, Ill., one of the early graduates of the Canton Theological School, conveyed to the Convention in fee simple, 200 acres of farm land in Champaign County, Ill., on condition that he was to have the use, occupancy and income of the property during his natural life; and that perpetually thereafter one-tenth of the income should be added annually to the principal of the fund, the remaining nine-tenths to be applied, at the discretion of the Trustees, to the purposes of the Convention. He afterward conveyed to the Convention a farm in Ford County, Ill. The property has been sold, and the fund amounts to $9,260.

XVI. G. L. Demarest Reserve Fund. $14,000.

XVII. The "T" Fund. A lady of New York, who desires that her name shall not at present be published, has paid $16,500 to the Convention as a fund, the income of $7,000 after the decease of the donor, to be added to the Theological Scholarship Fund, and that of $4,000 to be applied to the aid of the home church of the founder, and that of the remainder to be equally divided between home and foreign missions.

XVIII. Henry P. Porter Fund. $1,000.

XIX. The "M" Fund, the income "to be devoted to the home and foreign missionary work of the Universalist General Convention, after the death of the donor." $1,000.

XX. The H. L. & L. J. Canfield Fund, "the income to be applied to the general uses and purposes of the Convention, after the death of the donors." $1,000.

STATISTICS.

As in last year's REGISTER, so now, it has been deemed advisable to place first all needed statements in regard to State organizations, arranged as heretofore, alphabetically. The same order of arrangement is also made of the Parish statistics, which immediately follow.

The location of parishes and other preaching places, according to post-office address is shown in the first column; where a fraction appears after the name of a parish it indicates that preaching services are held part of the time; (oc.) denotes that there is only occasional preaching; (m.) monthly services; (dor.) that the society is inactive; (‖) that the parish is not in formal fellowship. Where the name of a parish is preceded by a dagger (†) it indicates that no recent information has been received. The number of families included in the respective parishes is given under the proper heading. Under the head of "Church Edifices," the date of dedication is given when known. Un denotes that the parish is part owner in a union house of worship; the abbreviations b. (brick), st. (stone), w. (wood), indicate the material of the structure. In the column designated "Preachers," the names of pastors or regular supplies are given. If the name is in italics the preacher is a licentiate; parallels (‖) show that he is not in the Universalist fellowship. An asterisk (*) prefixed to the name of a Parish Clerk, Superintendent of Sunday School or Secretary of a Young Peoples Organization, denotes that the officer is a woman and should be addressed as Miss; two asterisks () that she should be addressed as Mrs.

The statistics except those relating to the Young Peoples Religious Organizations are from official reports of State Convention Secretaries to the Secretary of the General Convention In the absence of information of recent date from this source the figures of the last reported year are used.

Information of new parishes or preaching places received since receipt of the General Secretary's tabular statements, follow the respective tables.

REQUIREMENTS FOR THE DEGREE OF BACHELOR OF DIVINITY.

The College of Letters has lately decided that certain studies, hitherto pursued in the Divinity School only, are properly regarded as culture studies, and therefore offers them to all its students. as to obtain the degree of Bachelor of Arts in four years, and that of Bachelor of Divinity in one more year.

Graduates from other institutions may obtain the degree of Bachelor of Divinity after having completed those parts of the course of this School which have not been included in their previous studies. The time thus required for those holding the degree of A. B. is three years or less.

In all cases, however, the ground of promotion and of graduation is the intellectual attainment of the individual student. and not a fixed requirement of a certain number of years of study, except that no degree will be granted for less than one year of resident work.

LOMBARD COLLEGE.

Lombard College is located in Galesburg, Illinois. It received its charter Feb. 15, 1851, and the institution was opened for the reception of students in the autumn of 1852. From the first, women were admitted to all departments of the University on the same conditions that were appointed for young men, this being the second college in the United States to adopt the principle of co-education. The first class, consisting of two women and four men, was graduated in 1856. Forty-nine classes have been graduated, with a total membership of 448. As organized at present, the College embraces four departments of instruction: The College of Liberal Arts, the Preparatory School, the Ryder Divinity School, and the School of Music and Art. The College year begins the first Tuesday in September and closes on Commencement Day, the first Thursday in June. There are three terms each year.

The College of Liberal Arts has adopted the Group and Elective System of study. Candidates for admission to College may elect from a list of twenty-four subjects, in English, Mathematics, the Languages, the Sciences, and History, those studies in which they shall be examined. 16 units, or the equivalent of a four years course in a good high school, are required for admission to full standing. Students admitted to full standing will be ranked as candidates for the degree of Bachelor of Arts. After admission, students in the College of Liberal Arts may with advice from the faculty, elect any group from ten that are offered, supplemented by single electives. Advanced courses in any subject may not be elected until the necessary preliminary courses have been taken.

Elective studies are classed as courses or half courses, according to the estimated amount of work in each and its value in fulfilling the requirements for graduation. In general, a course, in any study, consists of five hours of recitation or lectures, or ten hours of laboratory work per week for one term. The College offers instruction, at present, in 153 courses. The degree of Bachelor of Arts will be conferred upon any student who has satisfactorily completed the aggregate amount of thirty-eight full courses, elected from the studies offered in the College of Liberal Arts, beyond the sixteen units required for admission.

The Preparatory School furnishes suitable instruction and thorough training to students who wish to prepare themselves for college.

The School of Music and Art is under the direction of thoroughly competent teachers. Instruction is given in Harmony, Theory, Composition, History of Music, etc., piano, organ, violin, mandolin, guitar, voice culture, sight and chorus singing, drawing, crayon, pastel, painting and china painting.

Four courses of study are offered. The academic course includes a knowledge of the ordinary English branches and the Sciences, with at least two years spent on languages. By omitting the languages, an English course is formed similar to the ordinary course in schools of this grade. The college preparatory course fits the student for any college, while including some useful studies not required for admission. The academic course is designed for such students as do not purpose attending college, but desire the best education a secondary school can give them. There is opportunity in this course, therefore, for studying the ancient and modern languages, mathematics, science, English literature, rhetoric and history.

Each of the courses occupies four years, and a diploma is given at the completion of any one of them.

Both sexes are admitted. The atmosphere of the school is made as home-like as possible, while suitable restraints are imposed. A muitiplicity of rules is avoided, however, much being left to each student's honor and sense of propriety.

The department of instrumental music is well conducted. The reputation of this department is very high. Diplomas will be given to students satisfactorily completing the course in Music.

Vocal music is also taught by a teacher of reputation and experience. His work gives general satisfaction.

The school is supplied with anatomical models, charts, globes, microscope, a cabinet of minerals, apparatus for chemistry and natural philosophy, and a library of twenty-eight hundred volumes.

A gymnasium, erected and equipped by the alumni and friends, gives ample opportunity for physical development. Care will be taken to have proper physical examination, and exercise will be in charge of competent instructors.

A commercial department, recently established, gives instruction in all branches taught in the best business colleges.

The Thompson Memorial Building furnishes every facility to twenty-eight students to board themselves.

Fund.—The permanent fund amounts to about $65,000 and will be materially increased by bequests subject to life interest.

NECROLOGY.

The following named preachers, and former preachers, eighteen in all, have died since Nov. 22, 1903.

JAMES HARRELL PARK, born near Chickamauga, Ga., in 1829, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Julia Thurman, at Flintstone, Ga., Nov. 26, 1903. In early life he was a preacher in the Baptist church, but for the last forty-three years he had preached Universalism. His field of labor was Georgia, Alabama and South Carolina; for the most part he had little pecuniary compensation, his service being wholly "a labor of love." His heart was all aglow with his faith, and he wanted others to have its joyful consolations. When he spoke of the Father's love for sinful man his eyes would suffuse with tears. He was a warm, emotional preacher, consequently was loved by all. He might have been called our "Love-Minister of the South." From his faithful seed-sowing and self-sacrificing labors, the church at Chickamauga sprang up, and he became its first pastor after the dedication of its church edifice. Near it his body rests. Almost his last message, reiterated many times, was this: "Tell everybody I died in the faith; Universalism is good to live by and to die by." A noble, unselfish man, he has entered into the joy of his Lord.

CAROLINE AUGUSTA SOULE, whose maiden name was White, was born in Albany, N. Y., September 3, 1824, and died at Glasgow, Scotland, December 6, 1903. Having graduated with high honors from the noted Albany Female Academy, in 1841, she was selected by Rev. Stephen R. Smith as principal of the female department of the Clinton Liberal Institute, where she soon met Rev. H. B Soule, then for a short time principal of the male department of the Institute, and she became his wife in 1843. Nine years later Mr. Soule, having just begun to build up a Universalist parish in Lyons, N. Y., died after an illness of a few days. Mrs. Soule published a Memoir of her husband, in 1853, and thus began a literary career which extended through many years; first as associate editor of the "Ladies' Repository," then editor of our long-time popular Sunday School paper, "The Guiding Star," and a regular contributor to our annuals, "The Rose of Sharon," and "The Lily of the Valley." She was the first president of the Woman's Centenary Association; then the Association's Missionary and Evangelist to Scotland. Afterwards she was pastor at Glasgow several years. She began to preach the first Sunday in 1875, in the Chapin Home, in New York, and had several years' experience in the pulpit before her ordination, which took place in Scotland, March 27, 1880.

Her interest in the higher education of woman, led her, while at the head of the W. C. A., to project and carry through a woman's professorship in Buchtel College and the St. Mary's professorship in St. Lawrence University. "She became quite well known in Glasgow, and was highly esteemed and loved, notwithstanding the hard Scottish prejudice against woman preachers. . . . . In her death the Church mourns the departure of one of its most distinguished women, and her friends a rare and sweet spirit, a gracious and loving personality, whose memory will be a healing balm, even amid the sorrow caused by her translation at a good old age."

JAMES HARVEY TUTTLE, D.D., was born July 27, 1824, in Salisbury, N. Y., and died at the residence of his son, in the city of New York, Dec. 7, 1903. His parents were Baptists, and his own theological opinions were of that nature, but in dawning manhood he became a Universalist, and began to preach before he was nineteen years of age, his Letter of Fellowship having been granted June 15, 1843, and his ordination taking place at a Conference of the Otsego Association, at Ritchfield Springs, N. Y., January 11, 1844. A year or more later than this, he took a course of theological instruction under the late Rev. Dr. T. J. Sawyer, then conducting a Theological Seminary at Clinton, N. Y. Mr. Tuttle was pastor at Richfield Springs at the time of his ordination and remained there three years, when, during a portion of the years 1847 and 1848, he took the field as agent of the Clinton Liberal Institute, soliciting funds for the relief of its financial embarrassements and the erection of a new building for the Female Department. Some time in 1848, he became pastor at Fulton, N. Y., where he remained five years, when he became pastor at Rochester, from whence he was called in 1859 to the Church of the Redeemer, in Chicago, Ill., "and carried the church, then in the crisis of its early history, successfully through the trying and sorrowful years of the war, resigning in 1866. In the summer of that year came the call to Minneapolis, then in the infancy of its wonderful development, where the providential work of his life opened before him, and where he spent the last thirty years of his ministerial life. The Church of the Redeemer of Minneapolis, established only two years previous to the coming of Dr. Tuttle, under his active ministry of more than a quarter of a century, became the leading Universalist Church of the Northwest, rich in wealth, numbers and influence; and to this day remains, with its beautiful and costly edifice, the third erected in its history, a memorial to the success of Dr. Tuttle's ministry. But a higher success than is evinced by these outward triumphs of his Minneapolis pastorate, is the deep and abiding influence which he has wrought among all the people, in the hearts that loved him well, who will cherish his memory in sincere affection now that he has been called home.

"Dr. Tuttle was known and honored by people of all religious beliefs, and of no belief. Regardless of creed, hundreds in doubt and trouble sought his counsel and consolation. He knew how to rejoice with those who rejoice, and how to weep with those who weep. He was a Christian minister in the noblest sense of the word, loving the faith and living the life."

JOHN CALVIN PATTEE, was born in Goffstown, N. H., in December, 1823, and died at his home in Burnett Junction, Wis., Jan. 6, 1904, "venerable in years and faithful in service." He was a school teacher at the age of nineteen. His early ministry was in Maine, where he began preaching Universalism in 1846, and was ordained in 1850. He was a soldier in the Civil War. His health having failed in 1874, he was obliged to give up preaching and moved to Wisconsin, where he gladly did whatever work in the service of the Church he was able to attempt. "For seven and a half years he was confined to the house, most of the time in bed. He bore intense suffering heroically and patiently. So passed away another veteran of the cross, leaving many friends to remember and mourn his departure."

AARON ALDRICH THAYER, D. D., was born at Newfane, Vt., July 24, 1825, and died at Escondido, California, Jan. 29, 1904. After taking an elective course of study at Harvard University, and reading theology under the direction of Rev. Dr. A. A. Miner, with help from Rev. Dr. T. J. Sawyer, he began his work as a Universalist minister at Albany, N. Y., in July 1852, and was ordained in that city. His pastorates have been in the following order: Albany, Watertown and Syracuse, N. Y; Jersey City, N. J.; Scranton and Erie, Penn.; Albert Lea, Minn.; Osage, Iowa; La Grange, Ill. At his last settlement he conducted a missionary work under the auspices of the Illinois Convention. For three years—between his Syracuse and Scranton pastorate,—"he became the publishing agent of the New York Convention in charge of the Christian Leader. This was about the time that the Christian Ambassador, the property of the Convention, was removed to New York City and its name changed to the Christian Leader. In this capacity Mr. Thayer proved a very valuable man in a responsible and important position. 'The height of prosperity' was reached for that paper under his administration; a weekly edition of 10,000 copies was the result of his three years' work as publisher."

In 1895 Lombard University conferred the degree of Doctor of Divinity on Mr. Thayer, a well deserved recognition of personal worth and excellence, his acquirements as a theologian and his industry as a student, his wide reading and his eminent gift of making all his acquirements tributary to his work as a Christian minister.

Dr. Thayer suffered for many years from kidney trouble, and he sought and made a home in California, hoping for a more comfortable life in its congenial clime; but his strength gradually failed until his spirit took its flight. The Rev. Dr. Goodell, the Congregational minister at Escondido, was with Mr. Thayer and received from his dying lips the crowning testimony of his triumphant faith, "and he declared at the funeral, that it was one of the most triumphant deaths and most inspiring scenes he ever witnessed. His words were very comforting to all, and a lasting rebuke to those who say, 'Universalism may do to live by, but will not do to die by.'" Dr. Thayer's "faith was joy unspeakable and full of glory, which he carried on his lips and in his sunny life to multitudes from the pulpit and to numberless homes where its light and its comfort shone through his clear thought and his large, loving heart. This joyful faith, or Gospel, gave him a trust that passeth all understanding, which kept him close to the heart of the eternal. 'God reigns and all is well,' was his constant message. His joy and supreme trust bore their sure frutt, a peace that the world needs, and nothing can take away. It filled his life. It radiated to others, and it crowned his last days. Joy, Trust and Peace were the fruits of Universalism in his busy, faithful, well-rounded life."

URIAH CUMMINGS was born near Derby, Indiana, July 24, 1813, and died at his home in Derby, having resided in that neighborhood all his days, February 1, 1904. Noble county was almost a wilderness at the time of his birth and continuous school privileges were unknown. His education was therefore obtained at the fireside and in the woods and fields. At twenty years of age he began to preach, but was not ordained until 1850. His ordination took place in the School House in his neighborhood. His preaching was, as he had opportunity, in the Union Church near by, and in various parts of Noble county. It was all freely given by him, not one cent ever having been received for his services. Long after age had so weakened his mind that he was unfitted for business, and during the blindness which afflicted him the last two years of his life, the teachings of the Scriptures were his constant delight, and his last moments were passed by his whispering passages from the Bible expressive of the faith that was his rod and staff of support through the valley of the shadow of death. He was one of the last of a generation of valiant pioneers of Universalism in the days when it was everywhere spoken against. Blessed be his memory!

HIRAM VAN CAMPEN. Although it is fifty years since Mr. Van Campen left the ministry, his continued interest in and active service for the church of his constant love, justifies his mention here. He was born in Amity, N. Y., in September 1817, and died in New Bedford, Mass., March 16, 1904. His name first appears in the REGISTER in 1842, where he is designated as a new preacher, residing at Caton, N. Y. He was ordained at Portageville, N. Y., where he was then pastor, June 26, 1845. Two years previous to this, he had been settled at Mexico, in the same State. His subsequent settlements in New York were at Gainesville and Middleport. In 1851 he went to Rockport, Mass., and a year later, to New Bedford, where he organized and was the first pastor of the Universalist Church. After a two years' pastorate he resigned and went into secular business, continuing this up to the time of his death, he was still faithful to his church and gave it his heartiest support. The church has seen dark days, but he never lost hope in its successful triumph over its difficulties and discouragements. Some one connected with the church, probably its present pastor, has said of Mr. Van Campen: "For thirty-six years he served the parish as clerk, and for even a longer time he has been clerk of the church. His records are models of neatness and accuracy. Seldom absent from the Sunday services, always interested in all that pertained to our welfare, ready and eager to do and give to his utmost, he was a faithful and helpful parishioner. His long experience, his general knowledge, his undivided interest in our cause has made him, it seems, almost indispensable. He lived his Universalism in the home and among men so that he was held in the highest respect and honor by all who knew him."

FRANCIS MILTON ALVORD, was born in Wilmington, Vt., Oct. 12, 1819, and died in Friendship, N. Y., March 20, 1904. "He was of sturdy New England stock. His grandfather was a revolutionary soldier, one of the far-famed Green Mountain boys. Family tradition has it that he was with Ethan Allen at Ticonderoga and was one of the picked men with whom Mad Anthony Wayne stormed Stony Point." The family moved to Western New York, while this son was young. There he grew to manhood, and for the most part resided during his long ministry. His first sermon was preached in 1842, and he was ordained in 1844. He held pastorates in Carrol and Sherman, N. Y., and finally in Friendship, N. Y., where he resided fifty years and wrought out the great work of his life. "He was a man of such a high order of ability, was so completely rounded out on every side, with such judgment and self-control, such utter allegiance to his high ideals of right, that there was no room for any misgivings, and in whatever circles he moved or wherever or to whomsoever he delivered his message, he was not only sure to command attention, but unanimous respect. . . . . He was the immediate successor of some of the famous pioneers and self-constituted missionaries of our cause in this region. Such men as George Rogers, Nathaniel Stacy and Stephen R. Smith, men who stood in the forefront of the battle, and on whom the storm burst with its utmost force, and it is sufficient to say that their mantle fell on worthy shoulders. . . . . He grew old in years but his brain and heart were always young. His thinking was on the fighting line of the most advanced ideas to the last, and his heart in touch with the freshest humanitarian work. . . . . We are glad that he has lived, for the world is better for it and we are better for it—and may we not say we are glad he has been called up higher, for heaven will better be for his presence."

MARY C. BILLINGS was born in Litchfield, Conn., in 1824, and died at her home in Hico, Texas, March 21, 1904 Mrs. Billings was thrice married; first to a Mr. Grannis, a union broken by his death, fifteen years later. Her second husband, to whom she was united in 1869, was Rev. Charles Henry Webster, who died in 1877. About fifteen years ago she became the wife of Rev. James Billings, whom she accompanied to Texas, and receiving ordination there in 1882, she became his helpmeet not only in the home but also in the pulpit. Mr. Billings died six years ago and his wife continued actively in the ministry until recently. In the days of the Ladies' Repository she was a frequent contributor, and also wrote for several issues of the Rose of Sharon The Rev. C H. Rogers, who officiated at her burial, writes that the following from her own city paper, speaks the sentiments of all who knew her:

"The entire city mourns deeply the loss of one of the noblest most gracious and talented women it has been our pleasure to know. And not only Hico grieves over this irreparable loss, but from near and far comes the lamentation of those who revered the excellence, the benevolence, the intelligence and admirable character of Rev. Mary C. Billings. She sympathized with the sorrowful, upheld the down-trodden, assisted the afflicted. The little children loved her as a companion in their innocence and purity, dumb brutes knew her as their protector and friend, the greatest and most thoughtful with whom she came in contact recognized in her their equal. Could we aspire to do justice to her many virtues by attempting a eulogistic commentary upon them? We can only say that every man, woman and child in Hico will miss her sadly, and to these her life has been a benediction!"

ALBERT R. BECKETT was born in McMinn County, Tenn., in 1824, and died at his home, in Oconee, Ill., April 5, 1904. When he was quite young the family moved to Clinton County, Ky. His education was obtained during eight years' attendance at the schools in Danville. He fitted himself for the practice of the law, but never entered the Profession. He was no friend to the so-called, Institution of Slavery, and because of his outspoken sentiments in regard to it, he was brutally attacked during the early days of the Civil War. In consequence of this he moved to Shelby County, Ill., which was his home until he was called from earth. His ordination to the Universalist ministry took place in 1884, though he had been preaching it for many years before that event. "He was pure in character and conduct and was universally esteemed among neighbors and friends." His grandson, Rev. H. C. Beckett, of Hopkinsville, Ky., is in our ministry.

LUCIUS HOLMES, born in Thompson, Conn., in 1822, died in Webster, Mass, May 20th, 1904. After graduating from Nichols Academy, he taught school for a while, at the same time pursuing studies and a class of reading leading up to the Christian ministry, to which he felt himself called, and for which he received a license when but twenty years of age, from the Baptists, and settled over a church at Fruit Hill, R. I. He also ministered to churches of that faith in Pomfret and Putnam, Conn. Growing into the conviction of the truth of Universalism he separated from the Baptist communion, and in June, 1851, received ordination as a Universalist preacher, at a session of the Union Association in New London, Conn. His first pastorate was at Sippican, then at Foxboro, at Charlton, two settlements, aggregating fourteen years, at Orange, North Adams and Wendell Depot, Mass.; Little Falls, N. Y.; Easton, Penn.; and Williamsville, Vt. About twelve years ago he withdrew from active ministerial work, and taking up his residence in Webster "became a faithful parishioner, a true helper of the minister in charge" "Mr. Holmes was a preacher of marked ability and power. He read books and he read men, and also the signs of the times, and he kept up with the world's thought and progress. He was blessed with a poetic faculty and spiritual insight, which not only enabled him to understand the deepest truths of the Bible, but also to know, equally as well, the deepest aspirations of the human soul. His sermons were logical and often profound, yet always had a definite aim and purpose, and abounded in pertinent illustrations of practical truth. . . . . And so," writes one of his former pastors, "enshrined in the heart of man and shrouded in the love of God, this good man has ceased his labors and gone to his rest. 'Servant of God, well done.'"

ANDREW W. CROSS was born in Bradford, England, Sept. 9, 1872, and died at Sierra Madre, Cal., May 20, 1904 "When a child he was taken to Scotland and his boyhood was passed in Glasgow." He was brought up in the Evangelical Church in the usual strict Orthodox fashion, and while yet a boy he revolted against this harsh idea of God and his relation to man, and passed through the stages of doubt and agnosticism which usually follow such a revolt." Coming to America at the age of nineteen, he found the Universalist Church, and his soul was fed and refreshed by its glorious doctrines. He accepted and avowed its faith, at Portland, Me., under the ministry of Rev. G. I. Keirn. He soon felt that the Church of his choice was calling him to enter its ministry, and taking a three years' course in the Canton Theological School, he graduated therefrom in 1896, and was ordained there, with three of his classmates on the 14th of June of that year. He had already been the pastor of the church at Fulton, N. Y., for a year, and he continued in this field a year longer, when he became pastor at Westfield, Mass. After two years' service there his health so far failed him that he was obliged to give up his work and seek renewed strength in the Adirondacks. A year of out door life gave him new vigor, and he began his professional career once more, settling in Middleville, N. Y. While still there, in 1901, he was offered the pastorate at Riverside, Cal, and in the belief that the genial climate of that region would be beneficial to his health he decided to accept the call. There was much to be done in his new field, and he attempted to do it with a willing and cheerful spirit, but the flesh was weak, and his mortal end was drawing near, and came not long after he preached his last sermon in March. He was an earnest, sincere preacher and a Christian of such Catholicy of spirit and genuine goodness of life, that he was beloved by all the citizens with whom he made his home.

STEPHEN LE ROY RORIPAUGH, born in Smithville, N. Y., July 22, 1834, died at Auld, Cal., May 22, 1904 "His education was obtained at McGrauville College and Clinton Liberal Institute, at the latter place under the instruction of Rev. Drs. Gaines and Sawyer." His ministry began in his native town, in 1856, and his pastorates followed each other in the following order: Newark, Dunkirk, N. Y.; Tecumseh, Mich.; East Cambridge, Brockton, New Bedford, Mass.; Manchester, N. H.; Joliet, Ill.; Jamestown, N. Y.; Hebron, Kan.; Santa Ana, Cal. These many changes were due to his efforts to find a place where he might find relief from asthma, with which he had been afflicted from his youth. This drove him at last into the hills of California, where the sparse population offered only occasional opportunity for preaching. Here he gave himself to ranching, and in the dry mountain air he secured release from intense suffering. "So few, indeed, and widely separated were his neighbors," says Rev. Mr. Benton, who officiated at his burial, "that only about fifteen in all could assemble for the funeral service. Sad indeed it seemed that he should die so far from the former scenes of his labor, where many would have assembled to mourn his passing, and yet we could but feel that place matters but little in such an event; God and the good seemed as near there, on the barrenness of those hills, with not another house in sight, as in the populous city; and those few who had gathered to honor him by their words and their tears testified to the worth of the man as plainly as thousands could have done." He fought the good fight, kept the faith and has entered into rest.

CHARLES LOUIS SHIPMAN was born at Gustavus, Ohio, Sept. 17, 1818, and died at his home in Girard, Pa., July 5, 1904. "He was educated in the country schools of those pioneer days, and later attended the Farmington (Ohio) Academy." He was a student in theology with Rev. S. A. Davis, at that time pastor at Akron, and preached his first sermon at Brimfield, just east of Akron, in June, 1839. He was fellowshiped by the Western Reserve Association, at Akron, in August, 1840, fellowship at that period preceding ordination. Not long after this he went to New York, and had his first pastorate at Erieville. His ordination took place in the old Universalist Church at Hamilton Centre, June 15, 1842 His charges in the State of New York, after his leaving Erieville, were at Columbus, Sherburne, North Norwich and Oxford. He then, about 1850, went back to Ohio, where he had charges at Andover, Windsor, Norwalk, Peru, Olmstead, and Cleveland. Moving to Girard, Pa., about 1864, and continuing to reside there during the remainder of his life, he ministered to churches in Girard, Wellsburg, Linesville, Conneautville, Titusville and Sharpsville.

Father Shipman was a great preacher, profound in thought, peculiarly forceful in his utterances, deeply sympathetic, and of a magnetic personality. It was the writer's privilege to listen to him several times in 1848 and 1849 at the sessions and conferences of the New York Central Association. He delighted and instructed the young and the old, veteran preachers and students, and was a Son of Consolation to all who were bereaved. Naturally such a man was a lover of freedom and a helper of the oppressed. In the anti-slavery days, he "not only dealt vigorous blows against slavery, but was also the aider and abettor of the hunted slave escaping from his chains, and the Shipman home on the Webster Reserve was a well known station of the underground railroad of that period. He was a personal friend of old John Brown, and during the Civil War was active in all patriotic duty, his voice everywhere uplifted for emancipation and freedom. . . . . In the noble roll of heroes of our Western Church—a roll including many well-remembered names whose memory is honored among us—we must now include the name of Charles L. Shipman as eminently worthy of the sacred companionship."

GEORGE WALTER POWELL was born in Staffordshire, England June 20, 1833, and died at the Masonic Home in Utica, N. Y., July 26, 1904. "His mother died when he was six years old, and his father's death when he was nine obliged him to work in a coal mine, where he labored fifteen hours a day for seventy-five cents a week. Not till he was eighteen did the opportunity come for an education, but so zealous was he as a student that he was soon a licensed exhorter and preacher of the Wesleyan Methodist Church. While attending a series of discussions his mind was turned to the study of a more rational theology. He spent several years lecturing in England and the Channel Islands. Coming to America in 1867, Bro. Powell united with Dr. Fletcher's parish in Buffalo, N. Y. He was licensed in 1871, and ordained July 2, 1872, at Le Roy, where he was then preaching a part of the time. The next year he took the church at Baltimore, Md., where he remained several years, the parish erecting during his pastorate a fine church edifice. "He subsequently held pastorates at Norwalk, Ohio; Herkimer and Lockport, N. Y.; Scranton, Pa.; Hubbardsville, Sherburne and Oxford, N. Y. Mr. Powell had a genial, social nature, which, with his fine gifts as a thinker and orator, gave him wide influence in our ministry. His kindness and charity for the needy and miserable made many the recipients of his bounty. With his faithful and well-beloved wife, who is also one of our ministers, he took up his residence at the Masonic Home about a year before his death."

LUTHER RICE, born in Weathersfield, Vt., Nov. 2, 1820, died at Watertown, N. Y., August 28, 1904. His education was received at Unity, N. H., the late Rev. Dr. Miner being Principal of the Academy. He fitted for the ministry in the home and under the direction of Rev. Warren Skinner, at Proctersville, Vt. He was ordained in 1845, and had his first settlement at Ellisburg, N. Y., dividing his time between that place and Henderson, for fourteen years. His other pastorates were at Fulton, N. Y.; Springfield, Vt.; Newton, Watertown and Quincy, Mass. For the last forty or more years he resided at Watertown, N. Y., and while having no pastoral charge he did much ministerial service in Jefferson and the adjoining counties. To him belonged the peculiar and gratifying distinction of being the father of four of our Universalist preachers, viz.: Rev. Messrs. Arthur A., Augustus L., Clarence E., and Frank G. Rice.

"Among the conspicuous characteristics of Mr. Rice was his kind, gentle and genial nature and his spirit of good cheer. This won for him the way into the hearts and homes of his parishioners and those with whom he came into social relations. This optimistic spirit he imparted to others, and for them life grew brighter as they were made to see it through his cheerful spirit and his unquestioning and hopeful faith. The world is better and happier to-day because of that life, and Christian faith is stronger because of his ministry."

WILLARD E. JACKSON was born in Michigan in 1859 and died at Detroit, Mich., Oct. 4, 1904. He worked his way through the State Normal School at Ypsilanti, Mich., and after graduation taught nine years. Then he entered the Canton Theological School, graduating in 1889. On the 10th of October, that year, he was ordained at the Church of our Father, Detroit, and settled at once at Port Huron. From there he moved to the churches of Troy and Springfield, Pa. Here he was prostrated by rheumatism, and had to give up preaching, though he did supply for a time the churches of Olinda and Blenheim, Ontario. When he gave up preaching he returned to his trade as a printer, but in this he has been handicapped by ill health. Though ill, he has been hopeful and patient. "He was always loyal to his faith and generous to the Detroit church. He was devoted to his family, and his character was unblemished."

JOHN RICHARDSON was born in Crawford County, Ohio, January 18, 1845, and died at his home in Westville, Ohio, October 20, 1904. "He was brought up in the strictest Calvinistic faith, and was for fourteen years a member of the Nettle Creek Baptist Church. He was licensed to preach by that Church, but never exercised his privilege to any considerable extent. The light of the Gospel as proclaimed by the Universalist Church came to him and flooded his life with a Divine radiance. He joined the Universalist Church in 1882, and at Eaton, Ohio, September 2, 1887, was ordained to the ministry. He came to his work in the ministry without special training in the schools, but he had been disciplined by several years' work as a teacher in the public schools, and had had considerable experience in public speaking. His knowledge, too, of the Bible was very considerable, and being of logical turn of mind and a diligent student, he soon mastered Universalist theology and became proficient in its statement and advocacy. From the beginning he was successful, and but few ministers can show so good a record.

"With the exception of his two years' pastorate at Bellville, his work was confined to the churches in southwestern Ohio. . . . . He was a strong preacher, and there was a vein of tenderness and sympathy running through all his sermons and pervading all his life, which made him effective in winning the confidence of those who heard him and helping them to the higher life.

"He was Secretary of the State Convention at the time of his death, and so satisfactory had been his work, that he was re-elected without opposition by the last Convention. He was a reformer by nature, and all his life was greatly interested in every phase of Temperance reform. He identified himself with the Propibition party movement, and was its candidate for Congress in the 14th Ohio district during his pastorate in Bellville. He made a brilliant canvass, and attracted much attention throughout the State. Five years ago he was his party's candidate for governor. The Temperance cause has lost one of its able and steadfast workers.

"Those who knew him best loved him most. So in the heart of home he will be most missed. He was an ideal husband, a wise, loving father, a patriotic, enterprising citizen; a loyal supporter of the Universalist Church, because to him it was the best exponent of the Gospel of Jesus Christ."

Among the laymen who have died during the past year, the following deserve at least brief mention here, as they were long conspicuously identified with important service in our Church at large.:

HON. NEWTON TALBOT, of Boston, Mass., died at his home Feb. 3, 1904, aged eighty-nine, venerable in years and as venerable in service in his city and in the Church of his love. Often a representative of Massachusetts in the General Convention, he was a wise and efficient participant in its business. An early friend and active trustee of Tufts College, he was for a number of years its faithful treasurer. And as a director of the Universalist Publishing House during its entire history, his services were invaluable.

HON. ARA CUSHMAN, of Auburn, Me., died at his home, Feb. 15, 1904, aged seventy-four. For a long time a prominent and successful manufacturer, employing hundreds of men and women, the Golden rule was the constant law of his dealings with them. Every good cause found in him an advocate and a helper in time, devoted service and money. But because religion furnished the spring and motive of his life, his Church both in its local and general institutions and interests had his constant love and his free and generous support. For fifteen years he was Superintendent of the Auburn Sunday School, and was often the representative of the local church in the State Convention and of the latter in the General Convention, of which he was in 1899 elected Vice-President. "His devotion to his Church suggests what was the inspiration of his noble life. It was his religion. He tried to do right towards God, and this it was which made him so nearly right towards every creature of God."

HON. HENRY BREWER METCALF, of Pawtucket, R. I., died at his home, Oct. 8, 1904, aged seventy-five. He was a man of great activity, diligent in his business as a merchant and manufacturer, yet taking time to champion and foster many philanthropic, educational and moral causes, and in all things guided by the rule of uncompromising righteousness. A Universalist from his birth he was devoted heart and soul to its interests and untiringly sought to give it greater power and influence. Forty-eight years ago he had great influence in creating the Universalist Sabbath School Union, and for nearly that length of time he had been a Sunday School Superintendent. He was a Trustee of Tufts College several years, and at the time of his death had been President of the Board six years. Frequently he was a delegate to the General Convention and for two terms its president. The cause of Temperance was near his heart, and his purse was wide open and often for its advance, and he hesitated not to put himself outside the ranks of former political associates that he might be obedient to the demands of Righteousness. At the time of his death he was the Prohibitory candidate for Governor of R. I. His memory is blessed!

"So calm, so constant, was his rectitude,
That by his loss alone we know its worth,
And feel how true a man has walked with us on earth."

UNIVERSALIST PROFESSION OF BELIEF AND CONDITIONS OF FELLOWSHIP.

Adopted as an amendment to Article III. of the Constitution of the General Convention, at its session in Boston, October 23, 1899.

I. The Profession of Belief adopted at the session at Winchester, N. H., A.D. 1803, is as follows:

ARTICLE I. We believe that the Holy Scriptures of the Old and New Testaments contain a revelation of the character of God and of the duty, interest and final destination of mankind.

ARTICLE II. We believe that there is one God, whose nature is Love, revealed in one Lord Jesus Christ, by one Holy Spirit of Grace, who will finally restore the whole family of mankind to holiness and happiness.

ARTICLE III. We believe that holiness and true happiness are inseparably connected, and that believers ought to be careful to maintain order and practise good works; for these things are good and profitable unto men.

II. The conditions of fellowship shall be as follows:

1. The acceptance of the essential principles of the Universalist Faith, to wit: 1. The Universal Fatherhood of God; 2. The Spiritual authority and leadership of His Son, Jesus Christ; 3. The trustworthiness of the Bible as containing a revelation from God; 4. The certainty of just retribution for sin; 5. The final harmony of all souls with God.

The Winchester Profession is commended as containing these principles, but neither this nor any other precise form of words is required as a condition of fellowship, provided always that the principles above stated be professed.

2. The acknowledgment of the authority of the General Convention and assent to its laws.

DAYS OF SPECIAL OBSERVANCE.

Recommendations by the Universalist General Convention.

1. It is recommended that CHRISTMAS SUNDAY, i. e. the Sunday nearest Christmas, be observed by appropriate services.

2. It is recommended that on EASTER SUNDAY A SERVICE OF RECOGNITION be held, at which time persons baptized in childhood, and others, may be welcomed by suitable rites to membership of the Church.

3. It is recommended that one Sunday be set apart in each year, to be denominated CHILDREN'S SUNDAY,—in all cases, where practicable, THE SECOND SUNDAY IN JUNE, or as near thereto as possible; that parents and guardians be encouraged and invited to bring their children to the altar on that day for baptism or dedication to the service of the Lord.

4. It is recommended that the FIRST SUNDAY OF OCTOBER, in each year, be set apart as MEMORIAL SUNDAY, for commemorating those friends who, during the year, have been taken away by death.

5. It is recommended that the FIRST SUNDAY OF NOVEMBER, in each year, be set apart as ALL-SOULS SUNDAY, for a special celebration of our distinguishing doctrine, the Scriptural truth that all souls are GOD'S children, and that finally, by His grace attending them, they will all be saved from the power of sin, and will live and reign with Him forever in holiness and happiness.

6. It is recommended that the THIRD SUNDAY OF MAY, in each year, be set apart as EDUCATIONAL SUNDAY, for the presentation to the people of the educational interests of our Church. And that on the same day an appeal be made to our SUNDAY SCHOOLS for aid in the HOME MISSIONARY WORK of our Church.

7. It is recommended that the FOURTH SUNDAY IN NOVEMBER, in each year, be set apart as JAPAN SUNDAY, for the presentation of the claims of our FOREIGN WORK, and for soliciting pecuniary aid therefor

UNIVERSALIST REGISTER,

FOR 1906.

THE GENERAL CONVENTION.

"The Universalist General Convention," having jurisdiction over the ecclesiastical organizations of the Universalist Church in the United States and Canadian provinces, meets biennially The next session—1907—is to be held in the Church of the Restoration, Philadelphia, Penn., on the Wednesday preceding the fourth Sunday in October. Preacher of the Occasional Sermon, L. S. McCollester, D. D., Detroit, Michigan. The Convention is composed of the Officers of the General Convention, of the Presidents, the Vice-Presidents and the Secretaries of the several State Conventions, and of clerical and lay delegates from the State Conventions, each State being entitled to two clerical and four lay delegates and to an additional number of each class of delegates in proportion to the aggregate of its parishes and clergymen. At least four parishes must be organized and established in a State before a State Convention can be formed, but a less number of parishes may unite to choose two delegates, clerical or lay, to represent them in the General Convention; and if there be one parish so situated, it is entitled to two delegates. In all such States or Territories the General Convention has original jurisdiction.

All laws relating to fellowship, ordination and discipline originate in the General Convention, and it is the final court of appeal in all cases of dispute or difficulty between State Conventions. It is an incorporated body, empowered to hold real and personal estate to the value of five hundred thousand dollars, 'to be devoted exclusively to the diffusion of Christian knowledge, by means of missionaries, publications and other agencies." STATISTICS.

As in the REGISTER in former years, so now, it has been deemed advisable to place first all needed statements in regard to State organizations, arranged as heretofore, alphabetically. The same order of arrangement is also made of the Parish statistics, which immediately follow.

The location of parishes and other preaching places, according to post-office address is shown in the first column; where a fraction appears after the name of a parish it indicates that preaching services are held part of the time; (oc.) denotes that there is only occasional preaching; (m.) monthly services; (dor.) that the society is inactive; (‖) that the parish is not in formal fellowship. Where the name of a parish is preceded by a dagger (†) it indicates that no recent information has been received. The number of families included in the respective parishes is given under the proper heading. Under the head of "Church Edifices," the date of dedication is given when known. Un denotes that the parish is part owner in a union house of worship: the abbreviations b. (brick), st. (stone), w. (wood), indicate the material of the structure. In the column designated "Preachers," the names of pastors or regular supplies are given. If the name is in italics the preacher is a licentiate; parallels (‖) show that he is not in the Universalist fellowship. An asterisk (*) prefixed to the name of a Parish Clerk, Superintendent of Sunday School or Secretary of a Young Peoples Organization, denotes that the officer is a woman and should be addressed as Miss; two asterisks () that she should be addressed as Mrs.

The statistics except those relating to the Young Peoples Religious Organizations are from official reports of State Convention Secretaries to the Secretary of the General Convention, supplemented by more recent reports from Preachers and Parishes. In the absence of information of recent date from these sources the figures of the last reported year are used.

Osborn; Miss Agnes Hathaway. Ordained Japanese Missionaries—Rev. Hidezo Yoshimura, Rev. Hisanari Hoshino, Rev. S. Akashi, Rev. Sempo Ito and Rev. Kyoshi Satoh. Under date of Oct. 27, 1903, Mr. Cate writes: "The work opens this fall with increasing promise, and our hands are greatly strengthened by the return of Mr. Satoh and Miss Imai. The Blackmer Girls Home has been erected at a cost of about $4,000, and is now occupied by Miss Osborn. The erection of the new church is fully justified by the attendance of an aggregate of 400 or 500 young men every Sunday. The regular activities connected with the church and school buildings at Tokyo are as follows: 1. On Sunday at 9 a. m., Sunday school including Bible class; 10.30 a. m., morning worship in Japanese; 1.30 p. m., Lecture meeting for young men; 6.15 p. m., English song class; 7 p.m., Evening service, sermon in English and interpreted into Japanese. 2. An evening school for English every day except Sunday. 3. A day school for girls with two departments, English and Industrial."

In some of the figures furnished by the Secretary of the General Convention, and 43 long dormant parishes have been dropped by State Conventions; but his footings and their repetition in the above Recapitulation, have not been changed. Striking a balance between the losses and gains thus caused, the following seems to be the result as this REGISTER goes to press: Parishes 922; families 54 609; Churches 843; Church members 53,194; Sunday schools 845; members 50,643, value of property $10,741,630. Young People's Religious Organizations reported 238; members

THE DIVINITY SCHOOL.

The Divinity School is one of the co-ordinate departments of Tufts College. Students of the School are members of the College, enjoying its privileges and subject to its regulations.

CONDITIONS OF ADMISSION.

1. The Divinity School is open on equal terms to students of every denomination of Christians. Candidates unknown to the Faculty must present satisfactory testimonials as to character.

2. Bachelors of Arts whose course of study has included Greek, are admitted to a three years' course without examination, as candidates for the degree of Bachelor of Divinity. Graduates holding other literary degrees than that of A. B. may be required to pass an examination on the subjects in which their college course differs from the A. B. course.

3. Undergraduates who enter for a degree must conform to the regular conditions of admission to the College of Letters.

4. Special students, not candidates for a degree, may be admitted, in accordance with the general custom of the College, to such departments of the regular work of the School as they are fitted to undertake.

REQUIREMENTS FOR THE DEGREE OF BACHELOR OF DIVINITY.

The College of Letters has lately decided that certain studies, hitherto pursued in the Divinity School only, are properly regarded as culture studies, and therefore offers them to all its students. Taking advantage of this fact, the student who enters College with Greek, and with other good preparation, may so shape his course as to obtain the degree of Bachelor of Arts in four years, and that of Bachelor of Divinity in one more year.

Graduates from other institutions may obtain the degree of Bachelor of Divinity after having completed those parts of the course of this School which have not been included in their previous studies. The time thus required for those holding the degree of A. B. is three years or less.

In all cases, however, the ground of promotion and of graduation is the intellectual attainment of the individual student, and not a fixed requirement of a certain number of years of study, except that no degree will be granted for less than one year of resident work.

LOMBARD COLLEGE.

Lombard College is located in Galesburg, Illinois. It received its charter Feb 15, 1851, and the institution was opened for the reception of students in the autumn of 1853. From the first, women were admitted to all departments of the University on the same conditions that were appointed for young men, this being the second college in the United States to adopt the principle of co-education. The first class, consisting of two women and four men, was graduated in 1856. Fifty classes have been graduated, with a total membership of 453. As organized at present, the College embraces four departments of instruction: The College of Liberal Arts, the Preparatory School, the Ryder Divinity School, and the School of Music and Art. The College year begins the first Tuesday in September and closes on Commencement Day, the first Thursday in June. There are three terms each year.

The College of Liberal Arts has adopted the Group and Elective System of study. Candidates for admission to College may elect from a list of twenty-four subjects, in English, Mathematics, the Languages, the Sciences, and History, those studies in which they shall be examined. 16 units, or the equivalent of a four years course in a good high school, are required for admission to full standing. Students admitted to full standing will be ranked as candidates for the degree of Bachelor of Arts. After admission, students in the College of Liberal Arts may with advice from the faculty, elect any group from ten that are offered, supplemented by single electives. Advanced courses in any subject may not be elected until the necessary preliminary courses have been taken.

Elective studies are classed as courses or half courses, according to the estimated amount of work in each and its value in fulfilling the requirements for graduation. In general, a course, in any study, consists of five hours of recitation or lectures, or ten hours of laboratory work per week for one term. The College offers instruction, at present, in 158 courses. The degree of Bachelor of Arts will be conferred upon any student who has satisfactorily completed the aggregate amount of thirty-eight full courses, elected from the studies offered in the College of Liberal Arts, beyond the sixteen units required for admission.

The Preparatory School furnishes suitable instruction and thorough training to students who wish to prepare themselves for college.

The School of Music and Art is under the direction of thoroughly competent teachers. Instruction is given in Harmony, Theory, Composition, History of Music, etc., piano, organ, violin, mandolin, guitar, voice culture, sight and chorus singing, drawing, crayon, pastel, painting and china painting.

Each of the courses occupies four years, and a diploma is given at the completion of any one of them.

NECROLOGY.

The following named preachers, twenty in all, have died since the report was made up for 1904.

JOHN MORICA GARNER was born in Jefferson County, East Tennessee, March 12th, 1823, and died in Springfield, Mo., September 29, 1904. In his early life he received very little help from the schools, but he became by diligent, self-directed instruction, a well-educated man, especially in the languages. He entered the Christian ministry in the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, in 1845, and received ordination three years later, from Bishop Andrews, at St. Louis, Mo. He became a Universalist during the Civil War, while he was Chaplain of the Eighteenth Missouri Volunteers. His first preaching among us was at Lincoln, Ill., in 1864. Since 1874 his home has been in Springfield, Mo., where he preached so long as his physical strength served him. For several years he was an invalid. He received fellowship in 1897. Ministering to the people without a salary, his self-sacrificing life commended him to multitudes as a Christian man of gracious and constant excellence.

WILLIAM ELLISON MCCORD, born in Marshal County, Tennessee, July 14, 1848, died November 17, 1904. The common schools furnished his early education. His theological training was under the guidance of his father. He began to preach in Christian County, Ky., about 1863, and was ordained in 1865. For many years he was pastor of Consolation Church, Era, Ky. He was long active in missionary work in western Kentucky. He was also a successful physician, with a large practice the last five years of his life.

MATHER E. HAWES, born in 1817, died December 31, 1904. His name first appears in THE REGISTER in 1844, at which time he was residing in Sippican, Mass.; then for two years thereafter he was located at West Scituate; then from 1845 until the spring of 1848 he was pastor at Fitchburg. From Fitchburg he went to Warren, where he remained three years, then at Chatham four years, North Stoughton four years, North Somerville six years. For several years he was not constantly engaged in preaching, but always he was the true Christian gentleman whose life and spirit honored and blessed the Church.

Rev. Abram Conklin says of him: "He was unselfish in disposition, a follower of high ideals, gentle, devoted to the truth, with a great love for his fellow men, and a strong and lofty faith. Beginning early in life as a teacher in the secular schools of his time, he soon became a teacher in a larger sense, as a preacher in the Universalist church in Fitchburg. The results of his work are apparent in the solidity and power of that society to day. It fell to my lot to be his last pastor. No one ever had a more faithful and helpful parishioner. For some years he was employed in secular affairs, but his heart yearned for the great work of the Church, and in his old age he sought and regained his place in the ministry, and gladly preached whenever opportunity offered. He was a student of the Bible, and his favorite and striking texts were constantly upon his lips. He had remarkable vigor and health. At eighty-seven every faculty was keen and alert. His life of simplicity, temperance, highmindedness and faith no doubt contributed to the power which he sustained to the last. He was a direct and worthy descendant of Puritan ancestors, who were most conspicuous in the religious annals of New England."

CALVIN DAMON, born July 24, 1819, died at Haverhill, Mass., February 14, 1905. He was ordained at Lynn, Mass., in 1843, or 1844, and did his first preaching at Holliston. For seven years, beginning with 1845, he was pastor at Pawtucket, R. I., then for three years at South Boston, going from there in 1855 to Haverhill, where he had a pastorate of twenty-seven years, but continued to make Haverhill his home until the close of his life. He was a good preacher, a faithful and sympathetic pastor, and a true and genial friend. For a few years after Mr. Damon's settlement in Pawtucket, the writer heard him often at Sunday School and other conferences in the several Rhode Island parishes, and recalls with gratitude and pleasure many of his enthusiastic and helpful addresses on those occasions.

ELMER HEWITT CAPEN, D. D., LL. D., born at Stoughton, Mass., April 5, 1838, died at Tufts College, of pneumonia, March 22, 1905. Fitting for college at Pierce Academy in Middleboro, and at the Green Mountain Institute at Woodstock, he entered Tufts in the fall of 1856. While in college he served his native town, in 1859–60, in the Massachusetts House of Representatives. Graduating with his class in 1860, he took up the study of law and was admitted to the bar in 1864. Being led into the Universalist ministry in 1865, his career as a lawyer was brief, and he was ordained as pastor of our parent church in Gloucester. From thence, after a four years' pastorate, he took charge of the church in St. Paul, Minn., and then of the First Universalist Church in Providence, R. I. This charge he resigned in 1875, to accept the presidency of his Alma Mater.

While faithful to all the interests of the college and his duties there during his thirty years of service, ever on the alert to secure what was needed for its prosperity and growth, he yet was able to answer other calls to service in and for the Church of his love, as a Trustee of the General Convention for many years, and to respond to the call to take his place on the State Board of Education, and in various ways, in clubs, societies of many names and purposes, to serve his God and his fellow men. As was said at his funeral service: "He was a scholar, he was a minister, he was an administrator, he was an educator, he was a man. A man of deep, and tender, and warm human sympathies; a man who worked among men, helping them because he loved them; a man always in touch with the young men around him, never growing old, never too old to enter into their fun, and never too old to sympathize with them, never too old to understand them, and never too old to be able to help them. From sphere to sphere of usefulness he has been called by the community, by the church, by the college, by the State, and now God has called him. We were not ready to have him go, we cannot spare him. But God has need of him and has taken him to Himself."

WASHINGTON WELLS HOOPER was born at Brooklyn, N. Y., in 1853, and died in Utica, N. Y., April 16, 1905. In early youth he cheerfully bore the heavy yoke in caring for his widowed mother and his sister, counting no personal sacrifice too great that he might minister to their comfort and relief. Induced by the late Rev. Dr. J. M. Pullman to enter the Canton Theological School in 1872, he graduated therefrom in 1876, and immediately took his first pastorate at Gaysville, Vt., but after a short settlement there, removed to Huntington, N. Y. Afterwards he served the churches in Norway, Mechanic Falls, and Crono, Me., Taunton, Mass., and Bellows Falls, Vt. From Taunton he was called to Maine, to become State Missionary, a position which he faithfully filled and with great success, nearly ten years. From Bellows Falls he was called to State service in New York. Although he had been in this new field less than a year when death stopped his work, blessed results followed his labors, and the future promised great usefulness and rich rewards. Even when the disease which was to prove fatal was racking him with severest pain, he was planning new work and sending out appointments for weeks ahead.

Rev. Dr. Atwood, who was familiar with the situation in New York, says: "Mr. Hooper had already made his place in the Empire State, which felt in all its parts the touch of his vigorous hand. Wherever he went he carried hope. His invincible optimism carried him over obstacles that would have stalled other men. He believed so mightily in the Christian religion and the Christian Church, that there was never to him but one method of procedure—to go right forward and fulfill the command of the Lord. For years his ruddy countenance and massive frame has masked his actual physical condition. He has been contending with an insidious and generally fatal disease, which he fought off by daily self-denials, while he worked like the athlete he appeared. Such men, so genuine, unselfish, heroic, cheery, and manifoldly useful, are the salt of society and the safe dependence of every organization. There are never too many of them ; and the loss of one leaves the world poorer."

WILLIAM JOSIAH HERBENER, born in Versailles, Cattaraugus County, N. Y., March 24, 1863, died at the Story Sisters' Hospital, Mason City, Iowa, April 27, 1905. His preparation for the ministry was at the Ryder Divinity School, Lombard College. He was ordained at Monroe, Wis., June —, 1897. He preached at Stoughton, Wis., Elkader, Iowa, Atlanta, La Plata, La Crosse, and Elmer, Mo. His career was cut short by nervous debility and a weakened heart, which for the last five or six years placed him on the invalid list. In spite of this extreme weakness, however, he kept at his work as best he could, and to the help and comfort of his hearers, to whom his death is a sore bereavement.

FRANK MCALPINE, born in 1847, at Beaver Dam, N. Y., died at Jackson, Mich., April 29, 1905. At the age of seventeen, his family having removed to Michigan, he enlisted in a Michigan regiment, for the defence of the Union, and served for a year and a half, until the close of the war. At the end of the war he returned home, and hoping to fit himself for the ministry, attended school at Dowagiac; but circumstances not being favorable to the carrying out of his plans, he became for several years a school teacher, teaching in several towns in northern Indiana, and while living in Warsaw, in that State, was County Superintendent of Schools. He also became proprietor and publisher of a weekly newspaper. Not far from 1887 he removed to Michigan, and a year later was ordained to the ministry. His pastorates were in Portland, Dowagiac and Charlotte, Mich., and Peoria, Ill. For the last four or five years he was Chaplain of the State Prison at Jackson, Mich. "His gentle character and manly qualities impressed themselves upon the unfortunates whom he found at the prison, and the last years of his life have been among the most useful."

OSCAR R. BEARDSLEY died at Oxford, N. Y., May 25. 1905. He was licensed to preach in 1882, and was ordained at Nicholson, Hopbottom, Scranton, Penn., he held successful pastorates, and was during a portion of the time the efficient and popular State Superintendent. He was also a successful and beloved pastor at Oswego; Cicero, Sherman, Oxford and Tyner, N. Y. The sincerity and excellence of his life commended the words of his lips, and his praise was in all the churches to which he ministered. A strong man, a good man has blessed and honored our church, and he will be greatly missed from our ranks.

WATSON WEED born in Galen, N. Y., March 14, 1849, died at South Royalton, Vt., June 14, 1905. A graduate of Cornell University, and of the Meadville Theological School, he began preaching at Stowe, Vt., in 1889. He was afterwards pastor of Unitarian churches at Ware, Scituate, and Duxbury, Mass. His health failing in 1902, he moved to a farm in South Royalton, where he resided until his death. Having the fellowship of both the Universalist and Unitarian denominations, he became pastor of the Universalist Church in East Bethel, Vt., about a year preceding his death, where he had a successful and prosperous ministry.

WILLIAM WHEELOCK DEAN, born in Morrisville, N. Y., April 10, 1812, died at Auburn, N. Y., June 19, 1905. He graduated from Union College in 1837, and for a while studied for the ministry under the guidance of the late Rev. Dr. I. D. Williamson, at that time preaching in Albany, to whom he bore a letter of introduction and commendation from the late Rev. Stephen R Smith, whom he had met and heard preach at Schenectady. For a season, however, his attention was diverted to the law, and he was admitted to the bar in 1838, at Chicago. Two years later he went to Cincinnati and resumed his study for the ministry under Rev. John A. Gurley, then editor of the "Star in the West." Soon he began to preach and had his first settlement at Louisville, Ky., where he remained three years. "Leaving there, he preached back and forth between Joliet and Chicago, starting the movement in the latter little village which has grown to be St. Paul's Church in a great city. Called to both places, Mr. Dean took Joliet and sent Bro. W. E. Manley to Chicago."

After a five years' pastorate at Joliet, Mr. Dean went to Fall River, Mass., and after a short stay, to Quincy, thence to South Boston. This gave him a ministry of about fourteen years in New England. The next five years he divided between Victor and North Bloomfield, N. Y. Here his ministry as a pastor ended. In 1864 he took a position at Washington, a clerkship in, I think, the State Department, in which he remained during the rest of his life, a period stretching through fourteen successive administrations, becoming the oldest employe in his department, and probably of the entire governmental force.

From the first Mr. Dean was deeply interested in the founding and prosperity of our Church in Washington. From time to time he preached in it. Says his pastor: "As recently as April, 1905, he conducted our quarterly communion. With a pathos moving to all, he recalled the past, the many he knew who had gone on, the fact that he was an old man, 'expecting soon to go hence,' and his unfaltering confidence in the Heavenly Father, the Divine Christ, 'the Bible, the infallible oracles of God,' and the immortal life promised."

ORELLO CONE, D. D., was born in Lincklaen, Chenango County, N. Y., November 16, 1835, and died at his home in Canton, N. Y., June 23, 1905 "He was educated in the Academies of Woodstock and Cazenovia, and at St. Paul's College, Missouri. He entered the Universalist ministry in 1864, and was first settled at Little Falls, N. Y." A year later he was called to the newly created Professorship of "Biblical Languages and Literature" in the "Canton Theological School," which position he filled until elected in 1880 to the Presidency of Buchtel College, Akron, Ohio, from which he resigned in 1896, when he went abroad and spent a year in Biblical studies at Berlin, Paris and London. Returning to this country, he took a pastorate over the Unitarian Church in Lawrence, Kansas, and in 1899 returned to "the Canton Theological School," as Professor of "Theology and Ethics." During the last six years of his life he was busy with his duties, not only as an editor and contributor to periodicals and encyclopedias, but also as the author of a book of great value. His degree of Doctor of Divinity was bestowed by Lombard College in 1877. In 1902 he was elected a professor in the Harvard Summer School of Theology. Rev. Dr. Forbes, who was long associated on the teaching force with Dr. Cone, at Canton, thus described him:

"A man of robust intelligence, of keen, critical insight, a scholar who loved the quiet and severe tasks of learning, a theologian of wide reaching and rational conviction, he brought honor and fame to himself, to St. Lawrence University and to the Universalist denomination."

AUGUSTA J. CHAPIN, D. D., born in Lakeville, N. Y., July 16, 1836, died at St. Luke's Hospital, New York City, June 30th, 1905. She was a forward scholar in her childhood, and at the age of fourteen taught school. Two years later she entered Olivet College. "The college was under control of the Congregationalists, and in those days rigorous in its religious training. Here alone she worked out for herself the belief in Universalism, and said that from the moment she believed the doctrine it was a matter of course that she should preach it. After leaving Olivet she desired to take a course at Lombard, but the immediate calls for work in the ministry prevented. The College, however, learning of her desire and her attainments, in 1868 conferred upon her the degree of Master of Arts; and later, at the time of the World's Fair in Chicago, when she was one of the directors of the World's Congress of Religions, the same college made her a Doctor of Divinity, she being the first woman to achieve that honor in America."

Miss Chapin began her ministry in Michigan, preaching her first sermon in Portland, in 1859, and she was ordained at Lansing, in 1863 She had pastorates at Portland, Lansing, Decatur and Lapeer, Mich.; Mt. Pleasant and Iowa City, Iowa; Aurora and Blue Island, Ill.; Milwaukee, Wis.; San Francisco, Cal.; Allston, Mass.; and her last at Mt. Vernon, N. Y. She also won a large place outside of her ministry, as a writer for the press, lecturer, champion of woman suffrage, traveller and conductor of parties in their travels to Europe, and was an active and prominent member of Sorosis.

The late Dr. Hansom voiced the estimate of those who knew her best, when he said, some years ago: "Her pulpit manner is eminently appropriate and fitting, and her sermons are characterized by good sense and entire absence of all affectation. She impresses her hearers with a conviction of her sincerity and that she treats her theme conscientiously and throughly."

JAMES SHRIGLEY, D. D., born in Yorkshire, England, April 5, 1813, died in Philadelphia, Penn., July 24, 1905. When he was eight years of age his parents moved to America and settled in New England. He studied for the ministry with the late Rev. John H. Willis, and was ordained in 1835 in North Granby, Conn. There he had his first settlement. Afterwards he had pastorates in Exeter and Epping, N. H., and then for nine years in Baltimore, Md. Subsequently he had two settlements in Reading, Penn., and one in Richmond, Va. Early in the Sixties he became a resident of Philadelphia, where he passed the remainder of his life. During a portion of the war he was Chaplain of the McLellan Hospital, and for a few years Librarian of the Historical Society of Pennsylvania. Since the death of Rev. Dr. T. J. Sawyer, who was nine years his senior, Dr. Shrigley was our eldest Preacher. He received his Doctorate from Tufts College, in 1903.

Rev. Dr. Bisbee, Dr. Shrigley's pastor several years, thus spoke of him in THE UNIVERSALIST LEADER: "He was a good preacher and pastor for many years, and it is to be said in his honor that he was a good parishioner in his later years. He was always a help and inspiration to his pastor, and never failed to hold him to loyal church service, and to offer encouragement to every good enterprise. He did not grow old in the sense of losing his interest in modern methods, he only insisted that whatever the method the sublime purpose of our Church never changed, and to that purpose the ministry must devote and dedicate itself whatever the sacrifice it might involve.

"His personality was a benediction. In appearance he retained the old-time costume, and with his long white hair and finely marked face, seemed not unlike a portrait from an ancient book; to this his dignified and measured speech and courtly manner added the last touch to make him the ideal minister of the olden time.

"His death was, as he always wished it might be, quiet and peaceful. In his Christian faith he laid him down as to pleasant dreams."

J. W. LAWHON, born near Beaumont, Texas, March 4, 1845, died August 1, 1905. The only information we have is the following from a letter: "He joined the Universalis Church in the year 1874. Was married to a daughter of Rev. M. Gardner, our Texas pioneer, in 1873, and was ordained to the Universalist ministry in 1892. His pure Christian life won friends wherever he was known."

ABRAM J. WIGLE born in Illinois, in 1830, died in Harrisburg, Oregon, October 1, 1905. In 1853 he went across the plains and founded a home in Linn County, where he continued to reside until the time of his death. He was reared in the faith of the Dunkard Church, but by study and the reading of Universalist literature he became a convert to Universalism, and was ordained at Harrisburg, Sept. 24, 1871. He organized a church society in his home neighborhood, but deaths and removals have greatly lessened its members. He preached and debated his cause up to a few years ago, when his health gave way. His funeral, says Rev. W. F. Small, who officiated, "was attended by a large host of friends and neighbors. His influence as a preacher of the broader faith is very strongly discernible in the neighborhood in which he lived so long."

SELDEN GILBERT, D. D., born in Greene, Me., in 1837, died in Brookline, Mass., October 13, 1905. Educated at Tufts College and St. Lawrence University, he was ordained in 1863, and had his first pastorate in Norwood, Me. A subsequent settlement was in Bridgeport, Conn., after which he became Business Manager of the North Western Universalist Publishing House at Chicago. Afterwards he was at East Boston, Mass.; Trenton, N. J.; Brooklyn, N. Y.; Little Falls, N. Y.; New Haven, Conn. He then withdrew from the ministry for a few years, but was refellowshipped in 1891, and settled at Livermore Falls, Me.; then at Machias, and for a short time at Annisquam, Mass., where his active ministry ceased, a few years ago. Since then he has made his home with his son, at whose residence he died.

LUCIA FIDELIA WOOLLEY GILLETTE, born in Nelson, N. Y., April 8, 1827, died at Standing Stone, Penn., Oct. 14, 1905. She was the daughter of Rev. E. M. Wooley, eminent in our ministry in Central New York and Michigan, from 1834 until his death in 1853. She early manifested the inheritance of the intellectual strength of her father, and at the age of fourteen, became a contributor of poetical articles to The New York Tribune, winning from Horace Greeley, its editor, "words of commendation, and solid encouragement to continue her writing." In 1855 she wrote her father's memoir, one of the mos readable of biographies. She was licensed to preach by the Michigan Committee in 1873; and although often urged to accept ordination, withheld her consent several years. Her ordination took place in Manchester, Mich., on the 8th of February, 1877. She was State Missionary for Michigan before and after her ordination. Subsequently she preached in several places in Iowa, chiefly in New Sharon and Knoxville, and afterwards for a brief period in Concordia and Delphos, Kansas. Her ministry wherever her lot was cast was successful. She also gave many lectures on "Temperance" and other subjects. Difficulties, hardships, disappointments and severe trials fell to her lot, but like the great Apostle she was able to say, "I can do all things through Christ who strengtheneth me."

FRANK HINMAN YORK was born at Maple Grov , Ind., in August, 1855, and died at his home in Niagara Falls, N. Y., Nov. 7, 1905. Following a regular course at Ann Arbor University, Mich., he prepared for the ministry in the Congregational Theological Seminary at Chicago. Growing away from the Theology of the Congregationalists soon after his ordination, he affiliated with the Unitarians and had a pastorate in their church at Malone, Ill. His health failing he abandoned the ministry for a season. Recovering his health he identified himself with the Universalists, and received our fellowship in 1901. He served our churches in Oshkosh, Wis., and Waterloo, Iowa, and in 1904 took charge of the work at Niagara Falls and Lockport, N. Y., where his labors were greatly blessed. He fell a victim to typhoid fever, which his weakened body was not able to withstand, and he passed away greatly beloved and lamented.

JONAS FRANKLIN RICE, born in Plainfield, Mass., Dec. 7, 1825, died at the home of his son, in North Olmsted, Ohio, Nov. 3, 1905. He was ordained at Olmsted in 1867. During the Civil War he was a lieutenant in the 150th Regiment Ohio Volunteers. While he called Olmsted his home for the last sixty-three years, he has had pastorates in addition to Olmsted, at Clyde, Attica, Stryker, Bryan, Norwalk, Toledo and Cleveland. "He was a man of activity, and took his full share of the work of the world. He learned the trade of a carpenter, in the days when all lumber must be dressed and shaped without machinery. The church in which he was ordained, and from which he was buried, is partly the work of his hands. . . . Ten years ago he gave up active work, but yet preached occasionally. The last time he was in the pulpit was at the rededication of his home church at Olmsted, three years ago." Twice married, he survived both of his companions, and five of his six children died in early childhood. "Brother Rice never lost his interest in the world and its work, but he lived to be lonely. The infirmities of age, weakness of body and blindness and deafness came upon him. His brothers and sisters were gone. . . . His generation of friends and co-workers was gone, and he often expressed his desire 'to go home.' A

A MEMOIR

By Marion D. Shutter, D.D.

¶ This volume, from the gifted pen of one who was long associated with Dr. Tuttle and afterward his successor in the Church of the Redeemer in Minneapolis, presents a fine portrait of a noble personality.

¶ It will be appreciated by the many friends who loved and honored Dr. Tuttle, and is at the same time an inspiring chapter from the history of Universalism in the Northwest.

UNIVERSALIST PROFESSION OF BELIEF AND CONDITIONS OF FELLOWSHIP.

Adopted as an amendment to Article III. of the Constitution of the General Convention, at its session in Boston, October 23, 1899.

I. The Profession of Belief adopted at the session at Winchester, N. H., A.D. 1803, is as follows:

ARTICLE I. We believe that the Holy Scriptures of the Old and New Testaments contain a revelation of the character of God and of the duty, interest and final destination of mankind.

ARTICLE II. We believe that there is one God, whose nature is Love, revealed in one Lord Jesus Christ, by one Holy Spirit of Grace, who will finally restore the whole family of mankind to holiness and happiness.

ARTICLE III. We believe that holiness and true happiness are inseparably connected, and that believers ought to be careful to maintain order and practise good works; for these things are good and profitable unto men.

II. The conditions of fellowship shall be as follows:

1. The acceptance of the essential principles of the Universalist Faith, to wit: 1. The Universal Fatherhood of God; 2. The Spiritual authority and leadership of His Son, Jesus Christ; 3. The trustworthiness of the Bible as containing a revelation from God; 4. The certainty of just retribution for sin; 5. The final harmony of all souls with God.

The Winchester Profession is commended as containing these principles, but neither this nor any other precise form of words is required as a condition of fellowship, provided always that the principles above stated be professed.

2. The acknowledgment of the authority of the General Convention and assent to its laws.

DAYS OF SPECIAL OBSERVANCE.

Recommendations by the Universalist General Convention.

1. It is recommended that CHRISTMAS SUNDAY, i. e. the Sunday nearest Christmas, be observed by appropriate services.

2. It is recommended that on EASTER SUNDAY A SERVICE OF RECOGNITION be held, at which time persons baptized in childhood, and others, may be welcomed by suitable rites to membership of the Church.

3. It is recommended that one Sunday be set apart in each year, to be denominated CHILDREN'S SUNDAY,—in all cases, where practicable, THE SECOND SUNDAY IN JUNE, or as near thereto as possible; that parents and guardians be encouraged and invited to bring their children to the altar on that day for baptism or dedication to the service of the Lord.

4. It is recommended that the FIRST SUNDAY OF OCTOBER, in each year, be set apart as MEMORIAL SUNDAY, for commemorating those friends who, during the year, have been taken away by death.

5. It is recommended that the FIRST SUNDAY OF NOVEMBER, in each year, be set apart as ALL-SOULS SUNDAY, for a special celebration of our distinguishing doctrine, the Scriptural truth that all souls are GOD'S children, and that finally, by His grace attending them, they will all be saved from the power of sin, and will live and reign with Him forever in holiness and happiness.

6. It is recommended that the THIRD SUNDAY OF MAY, in each year, be set apart as EDUCATIONAL SUNDAY, for the presentation to the people of the educational interests of our Church. And that on the same day an appeal be made to our SUNDAY SCHOOLS for aid in the HOME MISSIONARY WORK of our Church.

7. It is recommended that the FOURTH SUNDAY IN NOVEMBER, in each year, be set apart as JAPAN SUNDAY, for the presentation of the claims of our FOREIGN WORK and for soliciting pecuniary aid therefor

PREFACE

The Universalist Register began its existence in 1836; though in the Evangelical Magazine and Advocate May 4, 1833, there was published a list of Universalist ministers. From 1836 it has annually appeared. For seventy one years it has chronicled the material prosperity of each individual body of believers in the Universalist Church, and has also been the roll-call of its clergymen, with their habitation and fields of ministerial service. Its annual presentation has been most modest. Its simple annals have told a most wonderful story. The Register was the inspiration of Rev. O. Whiston of Harford, N. Y., though soon removed to Cooperstown, N. Y., and Rev. George Sanderson of Cortland, N. Y., who next year removed to Geneva, N. Y. They jointly prepared and published The Register for 1836, 1837 and 1838 at Utica, Geneva and Rochester, N. Y., respectively. In 1839 Rev. Aaron B. Grosh, Utica, N. Y., purchased the publication, and continued its editor and publisher until 1864. However from 1849 The Register was printed by that prince among Universalist laymen, Abel Tompkins of Boston.

From 1865 The Register has been the property of the Universalist Publishing House, which has elected the editors. From 1865 to 1870 inclusive the editor was the Rev. Giles Bailey; 1871 to 1878 inclusive the Rev. Joseph O. Skinner was editor, and the work was continued after his decease by his widow, Mrs. C. L. F. Skinner from 1879 to 1882 inclusive; The Register for 1883 and 1884 was edited by the Rev. H. W. Rugg, D.D.; and the years 1885 and 1886 by the Rev. George Hill, and from 1887 onward by the Rev. Richard Eddy, D.D., who deceased August 16, 1906. For nineteen years Dr. Eddy was its editor, and displayed therein a skill and genius which made The Register a year book of large practical worth. A further word in appreciation of his great service to the Universalist Church appears in our Biographical Record.

The Register is, as it has been, of vital value to the Universalist Church; and has been as correct and reliable as its constituency have contributed. Every editor has made appeals to clergymen, and clerks of parishes, associations and conventions, and at best about four fifths have made response. The Register can be made of larger worth to the Church. Indispensable it is to every clergyman and official, and it is a source of delight to many a layman who watches the careers of ministering brethren and the prosperity of the Zion we love.

No sect has richer traditions, finer annals, nor a roll-call of clergymen more worthy than the Universalist Church. These are precious inheritances and should be cherished by its advocates. The rapid age in which we live should make us more urgent in our demands to be reminded of the laborers in whose fields we rejoice and toil. Rev. Dr. Richard Eddy's "History of Universalism in America" should be in every ministerial library, and in the homes of laymen where it can be afforded and appreciated. But for the growing youth and busy worker Dr. L. B. Fisher's "Brief History of the Universalist Church," is superb. It is a hand-book and ready reference work which should be in every Universalist home. Its preparation and publication was the inspiration of the Young People's Christian Union. An intelligent appreciation of the former men and days is conducive to a finer loyalty and better religious service. No parish or community is without its anniversaries. These can be observed and a value accrue. We need to be reminded of laborers in Christ's Vineyard who have wrought nobly the services they had in hand. The Calendar of the Church Universal may furnish some of these; but each sect and parish have their own, which should be given prominence as the years come and go. The heroes in common life, the struggle of a devoted group of believers, and the fortitude displayed through a series of years, awaken, or should awaken, a thrill of admiration and reverence in the hearts of present day workers. The anniversaries of the earliest Universalist preaching in the community, or of the organization of the Church, or Sunday school, or the Young People's Christian Union—are days to be remembered. They make minds and hearts grow large and strong in appreciation, and make them to enter upon and continue in the service with fresh delight and consecration.

If The Register can impart inspiration as well as information which will make the Universalist Church constant in its efforts in behalf of the world's finest Faith—the prayers and the hopes of the faithful of former days—will have been fulfilled, in the present and oncoming generations.

CHILDREN'S SUNDAY; ITS 50th ANNIVERSARY

The General Convention of Universalists have for many years recommended the observance of the second Sunday in June, when practicable, as Children's Sunday. This was recommended some years after it became a general practice. The custom began in June 1857 in the Universalist Church, Chelsea, Mass., of which the Rev. Charles Hall Leonard, D.D., was pastor. It has been variously called, Rose Sunday, or Flower Sunday, but under whatever name, it was observed with special reference to the children. Rev. Dr. Leonard, is now at the age of eighty-four years Dean of the Crane Theological School at Tufts College. This current year is the fiftieth anniversary, and it is specially commended as a most fitting occasion for Sunday schools and churches to observe. The fifty years have witnessed a great change and advance in the theological world. The bringing of flowers into the sanctuary was an inovation, an earlier care of the children in the household of the faithful was exercised, and a more joyous spirit was given the day by the presence of flowers, with the children in the church, sacred with holy associations. The Universalist Church has a special reason for the observance of the day, and it was an inspiration of our Church which gave the day a prominence in the later day calender of the Church universal. It was not until several years following when other sects of a more conservative type in doctrine and in rite, entered upon the fresh meaning of youth and youth's place in the work of Christ's Kingdom. It is urged that the Universalist Church make it a feature of the season. The possibilities of the day are very great. Each season witnesses this, but the fiftieth observance can be made of telling effect in the hearts and homes of our youth.

THE GENERAL CONVENTION

"The Universalist General Convention," having jurisdiction over the ecclesiastical organizations of the Universalist Church in the United States and Canadian provinces, meets biennially. The next session—1907—is to be held in the Church of the Restoration, Philadelphia, Penn., on the Wednesday preceding the fourth Sunday in October. Preacher of the Occasional Sermon, Rev. Lee S. McCollester, D.D., Detroit, Michigan. The Convention is composed of the Officers of the General Convention, of the Presidents, the Vice Presidents and the Secretaries of the several State Conventions, and of clerical and lay delegates from the State Conventions, each State entitled to two clerical and four lay delegates and to an additional number of each class of delegates in proportion to the aggregate of its parishes and clergymen. At least four parishes must be organized and established in a State before a State Convention can be formed, but a less number of parishes may unite to choose two delegates, clerical or lay, to represent them in the General Convention; and if there be one parish so situated, it is entitled to two delegates. In all such States or Territories the General Convention has original jurisdiction.

All laws relating to fellowship, ordination and discipline originate in the General Convention, and is the final court of appeal in all cases of dispute or difficulty between State Conventions. It is an incorporated body, empowered to hold real and personal estate to the value of five hundred thousand dollars, "to be devoted exclusively to the diffusion of Christian knowledge, by means of missionaries, publications and other agencies." STATISTICS.

As in the REGISTER in former years, so now, it has been deemed advisable to place first all needed statements in regard to State organizations, arranged as heretofore, alphabetically. The same order of arrangement is also made of the Parish statistics, which immediately follow.

The location of parishes and other preaching places, according to post-office address is shown in the first column; where a fraction appears after the name of a parish it indicates that preaching services are held part of the time; (oc.) denotes that there is only occasional preaching; (m.) monthly services; (dor.) that the society is inactive; (‖) that the parish is not in formal fellowship. Where the name of a parish is preceded by a dagger (†) it indicates that no recent information has been received. The number of families included in the respective parishes is given under the proper heading. Under the head of "Church Edifices," the date of dedication is given when known. Un denotes that the parish is part owner in a union house of worship; the abbreviations b. (brick), st. (stone), w. (wood), indicate the material of the structure. In the column designated "Preachers," the names of pastors or regular supplies are given. If the name is in italics the preacher is a licentiate; parallels (‖) show that he is not in the Universalist fellowship. An asterisk (*) prefixed to the name of a Parish Clerk, Superintendent of Sunday School or Secretary of a Young Peoples Organization, denotes that the officer is a woman and should be addressed as Miss; two asterisks () that she should be addressed as Mrs.

The statistics except those relating to the Young Peoples Religious Organizations are from official reports of State Convention Secretaries to the Secretary of the General Convention, supplemented by more recent reports from Preachers and Parishes. In the absence of information of recent date from these sources the figures of the last reported year are used.

CUBA.

Rev. Jacob Straub, D.D., writes from Columbia, Cuba, concerning the movement there, under date of September 20, 1906. Our church work here is for the present of the composite order—of all memberships or communions. The Universalists in the majority, possibly. In spirit and doctrine it is as truly Universalist as any in the States. When the town attains proper size, the several representatives of the denominations will most likely withdraw to themselves apart. However the organization may continue indefinitely."

The Church is styled "Co-operative Christian." Rev. Dr. Jacob Straub, preaches every Sunday except when on mission work. There are 11 members in the church. Mr. Chauncy Marsh is Clerk of the organization, Mrs. Alice Barlow, Superintendent of the Sunday School having fourteen members. Their church edifice is partially completed. In this organization Universalists predominate. The parish property is estimated at $800.

JAPAN.

The Japanese Mission was begun by the General Convention in 1890. Present Missionaries—Rev. I. Wallace Cate, D.D., Rev. Nelson L. Lobdell, Miss Catherine M. Osborn; Miss Agnes Hathaway. Ordained Japanese Missionaries — Rev. Hidezo Yoshimura, Rev. Hisanari Hoshino, Rev. S. Akashi, Rev. Sempo Ito and Rev. Kyoshi Satoh. There are three places where active operations are maintained, Tokypo, Shidzuoka and Nagoya. There have been other stations which have, in the interests of economy been temporarially suspended. Through The Universalist—a monthly magazine—and other literature an excellent influence is sent forth to inquirers. The Blackmer

Home for Girls is a fine benefaction. The pastors and the associates of the missionaries are in close touch with each others and make their influence felt among the several communities. Rev. Satoh and wife, Mrs. Tame Satoh, were students in America and are known to many Universalists. They are teachers in the Girls' School of Tokyo. The Christian Leader of October 27, 1906 was a Japan issue, and contains full information. As Rev. Dr. C. E. Nash writes—"we are doing a noble work in Japan, a work that reflects lustre upon our faith and our Church."

CONDITIONS OF ADMISSION.

1. The Crane Theological School is open on equal terms to students of every denomination of Christians. Candidates unknown to the Faculty must present satisfactory testimonials as to character.

2. Bachelors of Arts whose course of study has included Greek, are admitted to a three years' course without examination, as candidates for the degree of Bachelor of Divinity. Graduates holding other literary degrees than that of A. B. may be required to pass an examination on the subjects in which their college course differs from the A. B. course.

3. Undergraduates who enter for a degree must conform to the regular conditions of admission to the College of Letters.

4. Special students, not candidates for a degree, may be admitted, in accordance with the general custom of the College, to such departments of the regular work of the School as they are fitted to undertake.

REQUIREMENTE FOR THE DEGREE OF BACHELOR OF DIVINITY.

The College of Letters has lately decided that certain studies, hitherto pursued in the Divinity School only, are properly regarded as culture studies, and therefore offers them to all its students. Taking advantage of this fact, the student who enters College with Greek, and with other good preparation, may so shape his course as to obtain the degree of Bachelor of Arts in four years, and that of Bachelor of Divinity in one more year.

Graduates from other institutions may obtain the degree of Bachelor of Divinity after having completed those parts of the course of this School which have not been included in their previous studies. The time thus required for those holding the degree of A. B. is three years or less.

In all cases, however, the ground of promotion and of graduation is the intellectual attainment of the individual student, and not a fixed requirement of a certain number of years of study, except that no degree will be granted for less than one year of resident work.

LOMBARD COLLEGE.

Lombard College is located in Galesburg, Illinois. It received its charter Feb. 15, 1851, and the institution was opened for the reception of students in the autumn of 1852. From the first, women were admitted to all departments of the University on the same conditions that were appointed for young men, this being the second college in the United States to adopt the principle of co-education. The first class, consisting of two women and four men, was graduated in 1856. Fifty-one classes have been graduated, with a total membership of 457. As organized at present, the College embraces four departments of instruction: The College of Liberal Arts, the Preparatory School, the Ryder Divinity School, and the School of Music and Art. The College year begins the first Tuesday in September and closes on Commencement Day, the first Thursday in June. There are three terms each year.

COLLEGE OF LIBERAL ARTS.

The College of Liberal Arts offers four groups of studies. They are The Literary (Classical), The Literary (Modern), The Philosophical and Scientific Groups. Fifteen units or the equivalent of a four years' high school coarse are required for admission.

Having been admitted to the College of Liberal Arts, the student will elect one of the above groups as a course of study leading to his degree. It is the purpose of these groups so to arrange the course of study that every graduate of Lombard College will at least have come in contact with all the great divisions into which human knowledge is divided. Language, Science, Philosophy, and Mathematics. To effect this end all of the groups are made nearly the same the first year, diverging from this point and permitting the student to specialize to some extent in that direction which represents the peculiar bent of his mind. All the required studies, together with a sufficient number of electives to bring the total up to an aggregate of thirty-eight credits must be completed before the degree will be conferred. A credit is obtained by the satisfactory completion of one full course pursued for one term. Of the thirty-eight credits twenty-four must be above grade C. Two credits may be obtained by two full years' work in the Gymnasium classes.

The Preparatory School furnishes suitable instruction and thorough training to students who wish to prepare themselves for college.

The School of Music and Art is under the direction of thoroughly competent teachers. Instruction is given in Harmony, Theory, Composition, History of Music, etc., piano, organ, violin, mandolin, guitar, voice culture, sight and chorus singing, drawing, crayon, pastel, painting and china painting.

NECROLOGY

The following named preachers, and those who at a time have been preachers in the Universalist Church, have died since the report for 1906.

SAMUEL LEWIS BEAL was born Jan. 24, 1840 at Jefferson, Ind., and died at Brockton, Mass., April 30, 1906. He graduated from Canton Theological School in 1870, and soon settled in Westminster, Mass., where he was ordained December 22, 1870. The Rev. W. S. Hayward in his History of Westminster says of Mr. Beal's services in town, "He was an earnest worker both in the pulpit and outside, took an active part in the causes of philanthropy and reform, and was ready to help whatever seemed calculated to improve human conditions, or enhance the public order and welfare." Mr. Beal in 1873 settled in Provincetown, and in 1876 removed to Brockton where he was pastor for six years. Mr. Beal became much interested in the subject of Spiritualism, and withdrew from the activities of the Church. He entered into business in Brockton, and was often a candidate for, and frequently held, official trusts. Mr. Beal was ever a good man, and strong and stalwart in the higher affairs of humanity.

REV. LINDLEY MURRAY BURRINGTON was born at Burke, Vt., Nov. 7, 1828. He attended school at Green Mountain Institute, South Woodstock, Vt., then in charge of the Rev. Dr. J. S. Lee, after which pursuing studies with Rev. A. A. Miner, D.D., Boston, he began preaching in Reading, Mass., having been licensed to preach in 1858. He had pastorates in Worcester and North Adams, Mass., at St. Paul, Minn., Troy and Fort Plain, N. Y. He then became pastor of the Unitarian Church, Uxbridge, Mass. Mr. Burrington married first Miss E. M. Brewster, of Hartland, Vt., for several years Preceptress of Green Mountain Institute, South Woodstock, Vt., who died while he was pastor in Fort Plain. Their only son Frank C. was a promising physician in Hartford, Conn., who died in early manhood. Mr. Burrington married second, the widow of Judge Dickerman of Belfast, Me., where for a score of years he has resided. Mrs. Burrington died in 1900. He died suddenly in Belfast, July 8, 1906. He was a man of splendid parts, of a family of educated men, and respected alike for his character and culture. He was a faithful pastor, and a devoted scholar and preacher.

CYRUS AUGUSTUS BRADLEY, father of Rev. Asa M. Bradley, of Spencer, Mass., born at Dracut, Mass., April 6, 1822, died at South Brewster, Mass., April 29, 1906. Left an orphan at seven years of age, he was for five years in the care of relatives, "who passed him from one to another, none willing to be burdened with a weakly child who showed no promise of living to years of maturity. At twelve he was sent out to shift for himself. A few years were spent in working on farms in summer and attending schools in winter. Later he apprenticed himself to learn the mason's trade in Lowell." Here he allied himself with the Universalist Church under the pastorate of the Rev. Thomas B. Thayer, by whom he was encouraged to fit himself for the Universalist ministry, and studied therefor under his direction. He preached his first sermon at Beverly, Mass., June 30, 1844, and became pastor of the West Parish Church, Haverhill, in April 1845, and by request of this parish was ordained at the session of the Boston Association at Medford, Nov. 6, 1845. His subsequent settlements were in the following order: Dudley, Mass., Second Cincinnati, O., Brewster and Foxboro, Mass., Kingston and Kensington, N. H., Ayers Village, Methuen, North Dana, Yarmouthport and Brewster, Mass. His two pastorates at Brewster covered thirty-eight years. During his ministry he preached 5,129 sermons, officiated at 661 funerals and united 214 couples in marriage. "Always deeply interested in educational matters, he served on the School Board in many of the towns in which he held pastorates. At the time of his death he was a member of the School Committee of Brewster." His neighbor at Orleans, the Rev. N. S. Hill, in "An Appreciation of 'Father Bradley,'" writes these appreciative words:

"In the two-fold settlement at Brewster, covering a period of thirty-eight years, we note the longest pastorate in the Universalist Church. For nearly two generations 'Father Bradley' and the Barnstable Conference of Universalists have been synonymous. The records testify to the many offices he filled so acceptably, the constructive work he outlined, and loyalty in executing. Everywhere he was recognized as the untitled, 'Universalist Bishop of Cape Cod,' sowing the seed beside all waters. In cottage, schoolhouse, grove and church he proclaimed the good news that came by Jesus Christ. Deep beneath the controversial spirit and dogmatic contention his supreme aim was the enthronement of 'the law of the spirit in the Christ Jesus freeing from the law of sin and death.' As a preacher he was always acceptable in the presentation of Gospel truth, and to the last he kept the spirit of youth, allied to the fresher thought of today. As a pastor he was a friend and helper to all within the sphere of his influence. In sorrow he has been a true son of consolation and in many a household his message of the immortal hope will be treasured in the chamber of imagery, and his presence recalled as a benediction, well worthy of the true saint.

"Allied to the chosen work of the ministry was his life-long service in behalf of education. Upon his sick bed he was planning for added life in the church to which he ministered and new methods in the public schools.

"Dying in harness we can borrow the words bestowed upon faithful Eleazer: 'Thus did this man die, leaving not only to young men, but also to the whole nation, the memory of his death for an example of virtue and fortitude.' In the passage of the years he incarnated a rare spirit of disinterested service, coupled with loyalty to conviction. For him it sufficed to be 'a good minister of Christ Jesus.'" R. E.

REV. ASA COUNTRYMAN, after an illness of only a couple of days, died at Bloomfield, Ark., August 9, 1906. Brother Countryman was in the eightieth year of his life, having been born in Montgomery county, New York, June 23, 1827. He was ordained in the Universalist Church in 1855, and was an efficient minister of the Gospel for many years, having settlements in the states of New York, Ohio, Michigan, Terre Haute Ind., and Dubuque, Ia. He withdrew his fellowship, and entered upon the ministry in the Congregationalist Church, and rendered missionary service in Dakota, Colorado, New Mexico and Oklahama. He was in active ministry until within a year of his disease. He left a widow, one daughter and two sons. He was a man of choice spirit and in every way a dutiful follower of the Master.

RICHARD EDDY was born in Providence, R. I., June 21, 1828. He was the son of Richard Eddy and wife Martha James. He descended from the imigrant Zachariah Eddy. He was reared in the public schools of Providence. His parents were connected with the interests of the First Universalist Church, and he grew to know of and enjoy the Christian nurture afforded by faithful pastors and devoted people. He learned the book binders trade when a young man. He loved books because they were books, as well as for their content. A trade no sooner learned than his mind turned towards the Christian ministry. In 1848, when twenty years old, he began the study, or the reading of theology with the Rev. Thomas J. Sawyer at Clinton Liberal Institute, Clinton, N. Y. This School of Theology was established in 1845. He rapidly acquired the rudiments of an education, and as was the custom of the day, soon gained opportunities for preaching. He remained at Clinton two years, and though not a college trained man, yet with a ready wit, he learned the essentials of classic and sacred literature. His all-round common-sense and practical fashion of studying literature and human nature, early developed within him the characteristics which made him the strong man that he was. He was ordained to the Christian ministry in Frankfort, N. Y., in 1850. These months with the Rev. Dr. Sawyer, cemented a friendship which was life long. They possessed many of the same characteristics and each grew to admire the other. On the death of the Rev. Dr. Sawyer, his family at once turned to the Rev. Dr. Eddy, to become the biographer of his old time instructor. Their continued intimacy amply qualified him for the task, and the biography of the united lives of Dr. and Mrs. Caroline A. Sawyer, will remain a model of its kind.

The pastorates of Dr. Eddy were at Rome, Buffalo, Canton, N. Y., where he was during the Civil War; Philadelphia, where for a time he was Librarian of the Pennsylvania Historical Society; Franklin, Mass., and Gloucester where, as pastor of the church which welcomed in 1870 the Centennial Convention, he won for himself fame and high regard as an organizer and executive; Akron, O. and Melrose, Mass. He supplied in late years for longer or shorter periods, but wherever he was, he was more than an ordinary "supply." Through his pastoralservices he proved himself a pastor for the aged and youthful alike, and ever the cordial and warm friend to those desiring education. His last residence as pastor was at Chatham, Mass., where he continued until health failed him. Dr. Eddy was a vigorous writer, and could deliver his sermons with earnestness and unction. His note book gives the following statistics: sermons preached, 6,786; lectures, 2,400; funerals, 2,362 and weddings, 375. These numbers only suggest his ample service for the world.

Dr. Eddy during the Civil War served the 60th N. Y. Volunteer Infantry as Chaplain for nineteen months. He was a faithful Chaplain and rendered that service which gained for him a permanent hold upon the soldiers during the war. and in the ranks of the veterans in the years since. He wrote a history of the 60th Regiment soon after the war. Dr. Eddy was a reformer of the far seeing school. From young manhood he has been a promoter of the temperance cause. During a series of years he was at the head of the order of Good Templars in Massachusetts. Two volumes he prepared, and were published as prize volumes by the American Temperance Society, entitled "Alcohol in History," and "Alcohol in Society." In these books are shown learning and skill of treatment, which easily places them in the front ranks of temperance literature.

Dr. Eddy ever exercised and manifested the instinct of the historian for the blessing of mankind. He read history that he might the better be able to help forward a struggling and striving world. He wrote Universalism in America," in two volumes. To be the author of this book is sufficient fame. This history is a text book of the Universalist Church, showing its beginning and growth in the midst of much opposition. No clergyman or layman can afford to neglect this source of information. It is a volume never to be outgrown nor discarded. Dr. Eddy contributed the volume upon "Universalism" in Volume X American Church History,and was a writer of articles upon the Church in several encyclopedias. Dr. Eddy in 1887 became the editor of THE UNIVERSALIST REGISTER, and for nineteen years, gave it care and patience in the research for information and intelligence in placing the information before the Universalist constituency. THE REGISTER is no easy book to edit, but Dr. Eddy rendered a fine service for the Church in giving it a faithful and patient skill scarcely equalled.

Dr. Eddy became editor of "The Universalist Quarterly" in October 1886, though it was in January 1885 that he became the assistant of the Rev. Dr. T. B. Thayer. From this time until its discontinuance in 1891, his contributions, editorials and book reviews were of a superior order, and made this storehouse ot literature equal to any theological review of the period. He indeed was a worthy successor of Doctors Hosea Ballou 2nd, George H. Emerson and Thomas B. Thayer. Before Dr. Eddy became editor of The Universalist Quarterly, his contributions were not few nor unworthy. In 1874 he began a series of eleven articles upon "The Universalist Convention and Its Creeds," a series which should be put into book, or more accessable form. These articles trace the growth and changes of denominational government, and statements, and their strict adherence to the essential and distinctive doctrines. These articles are not made use of in his "History of Universalism" but are entirely distinct, though they run harmoniously side by side. The genius of the Universalist Church is finely witnessed in this series of articles Dr. Eddy as an interpreter of the on-moving discussions and conduct, not only of the Universalist Church but of the various schools in theology in our nation has few rivals. His contributions upon "Judith Murray," and the "Universalist Origin of the American Sunday School," are of large worth, and should be made monographs for the reading of a new generation. Truly the literature created by Dr. Eddy and published in the volumes of The Quarterly make him to be of that number, who have contributed not only to their own but to the students of succeeding generations.

Dr. Eddy served organized Universalism. He was often secretary of conventions, or president of them; or a man on a committee who possessed initiative and was ready with suggestion and tack. He was "Standing Clerk" of what is now the General Convention, from 1861 to 1867, during which time he was active for a more perfect unity of Universalist believers into the General Convention which was brought about in 1866. This service in behalf of the General Convention and his ample knowledge of Universalist history qualified him to be pastor at Gloucester when the Convention met there in 1870, and observed the centennial of the coming of John Murray to the American shore. Dr. Eddy served as President of the Universalist Historical Society since 1878. Tufts College conferred upon him in 1883 the degree of S. T. D.

Richard Eddy married in 1852 Miss Sarah Stoddard of Hudson, N. Y., who was the mother of his five children, all of whom are still living. He married second, Mrs. Lucy P. Friend of Glouces er, who is left his widow. His last days were spent in Gloucester where he suddenly died August 16, 1906. His funeral services were held on the following Sunday from the Independent, or First Universalist Church, the pastor, Rev. Dr. William H. Rider, and President Frederick W. Hamilton, D.D, of Tufts College officiating.

Rev. F. A. Dillingham, D.D., in the columns of The Leader, paid worthy tribute to the service and manhood of Dr. Eddy. The Editor of The Leader, Rev. F. A. Bisbee. D.D., knowing well the pastorate of Dr. Eddy in Philadelphia, gave fitting words in memory. Rev. Dr. L. M. Atwood also paid the following appreciation:

"Sudden, but not unexpected, was the going of our historian, Richard Eddy, D.D. For some years now, as he knew, he has been treading on the brink. The knowledge neither terrified nor paralyzed him. He has always been a methodical and busy worker; he kept right on at his tasks, with only such curtailment as his physician imposed, and he falls, as he would have wished, with his armor on. Dr. Eddy leaves no man among us with equal equipment of knowledge of the Universalist Church, or familiarity with its documentary sources. Fortunately the important results of his lifelong study and research are preserved for us in his two volume History of Universalism in America; in the single volume contributed by him to The American Church History series; and in numerous articles in the Universalist Quarterly, of which he was for some years editor. Dr. Eddy filled a niche that no other one was fitted for. His life was useful, his work important, his position distinctive and honorable. Personally he was a man of high character, trustworthy, genial, helpful, fraternal; at the same time he was a sturdy upholder of the causes that commended themselves to him, and showed always, without unnecessary obtrusiveness, the courage of his convictions."

At Ballou Hall in Boston, on October 1st, 1906, a special meeting of the Universalist Historical Society was held in commemoration of the Rev. Dr. Eddy who had been for many years the President of the Society. Hosea Starr Ballou Vice President, presided. The Rev. Anson Titus conducted the devotional exercises. Addresses were made by Professor George T. Knight, of Tufts College, a son-in-law of Rev. Dr. T. J. Sawyer, who spoke of him from the standpoint of an historian; the Rev. Dr. William H. Rider of Gloucester, as a preacher and leader of the people, and the Hon. S. H. Butrick of Melrose, as a pastor and friend. Remarks were also made by Mrs. Amanda Lane Root formerly of Gloucester and by Rev. Richard Eddy Sykes, D.D. of Malden. For fifty seven years Dr. Eddy had been a faithful and acceptable minister in the Universalist Church. This memorial service was most fitting. In eloquent and appreciative words the various speakers paid grateful tribute to his memory. The remarks of Dr. Knight appeared as an article in "The Tufts College Graduate" for October 1906.

WILLIAM L. FLETCHER came into the Universalist ministry in 1875. He had been for many years a clergyman in the Old School Baptist denomination. He was a resident for many years of Kirkville, Mo., and rendered missionary service in many a community. He was an honest, industrious man, and a strong thinker. The ministerial training he had, was after the custom of his earlier years. For many years he performed marriages and conducted funerals among his townsmen. He died at the home of a son in Kansas, but his remains were brought to Kirkville for burial. He would have been ninety three years old had he lived a few days longer. He was born March 4, 1813; a native of Kentucky. He was buried from the home of his son-in law, Mr. S. S. Cavett, a well-known Universalist.

IRA BENJAMIN GRANBY died at his home, Indianapolis, Ind., March 2, 1906. He was born in St. Lawrence Co., N. Y., Dec. 21, 1831, and when a young man moved to Ohio. He was a jeweller by trade but becoming a Universalist, he gave up his trade and became a zealous advocate of the great faith. He was ordained to the work of the ministry at Piqua, O., Dec. 12, 1866, and for forty years was a promoter of everything which made the world better and nobler. He was an organizer and preacher and the fruits of his ministry are found throughout Ohio, Indiana, Kentucky and Illinois. He was a soldier in the Civil War. He married March 26, 1856, and his wife for these fifty years, and seven children—mourn his death. He was for a long time the Field Agent of "The Star in the West," a Universalist paper published in Cincinnati and was intimately acquainted with Universalist families in all that region. The funeral services, besides those of the Grand Army, Odd Fellows and Knights of Pythias, were conducted by the Rev. Dr. Marion Crosley.

ELEAZER HATHAWAY died in Le Roy, N. Y., on Sunday, Oct. 7th, 1906, aged 79 years. He was born in Scipio, N. Y., June 17, 1827. In his youth he attended Aurora Academy, and when above thirty years of age, desired to enter upon the Universalist ministry. His ministerial training was from his pastor, Rev. Harvey Boughton, a most lovable and talented man. He was ordained in 1862 and preached his first sermon at Perry, N. Y. He resided during and some time following the Civil War, at Yorkshire and preaching at various preaching stations throughout Cattaraugus County, when he settled in Churchville and then he removed to Potsdam. In 1871 he settled at Hightstown, N. J., where for six years he carried forward a faithful service. For three or four years he was pastor at Norwalk, O. His pastorate in Middleport, N. Y. from 1880 to 1886 was full of favor to the people. He had two pastorates in Churchville, 1867 to 1870 and from 1886 to 1888. In 1889 he settled in Corfu where he remained five years, when he removed to Sherman, and in 1897 removed to Kendall, where his last ministerial service was rendered. Mr. Hathaway married first Miss Phebe Allen of Aurora, N. Y., who died about 1891. He married in 1901 Miss Sarah Hoskins of Le Roy who survives him. Mr. Hathaway was an able minister and a faithful pastor, and as a man among men was known of all, as a good man.

DWIGHT MUNSON HODGE was born in Salisbury N. Y., Aug. 10. 1846. He attended Canton Theological School in 1866 and 1867. He was ordained to the full work of the ministry at North Adams, Mass., Oct. 28, 1868, where he labored for two or three years. From 1872 to 1800 he was pastor in Danbury, Conn., and from 1880 to 1891 was pastor of the "Harlem" Church, New York City. In 1891 he settled in Franklin, Mass., where he preached until 1904. Dr. Hodge was a Doctor of Medicine, but used the profession only to assist him in his ministerial service. The degree of Doctor of Divinity was conferred upon him by St. Lawrence University, and Tufts College conferred the degree of Doctor of Sacred Theology. Dr. Hodge was a student by nature, and was ever ambitious to gather information from hidden sources. He was a clear and vigorous writer. He was much interested in educational affairs; and for a long series of years was a Trustee and Secretary of the Dean Academy corporation. He was a lecturer before Crane Divinity School, Tufts College. Dr. Hodge published a volume of poems; and in 1905 was the Phi Beta Kappa poet, at Tufts College. During the last months of his life he was engaged upon a "History of the Development of Liberal Religion in America." It remains about two-thirds completed. His closing labors were with the church in Monson, Mass. He died June 11, 1906, after an illness of several weeks His funeral services were held in Monson, and burial was in New Haven, Conn. He leaves a widow, and daughter Edith, who graduated from Tufts College in 1900. President F. W. Hamilton of Tufts College, paid eloquent tribute to his work and memory on occasion of his funeral. His large library finds lodgment in the Library of Saint Lawrence University.

REV. CHARTES ALBERT LANDER was born in Kingfield, Me., May 7, 1848, and died at his home in Messina, Fla., May 17, 1906, aged 58 years. He came of a sturdy Christian parentage. In his home he was affectionately and wisely surrounded by moral, literary and hopeful influences, and taught the lesson of labor of the New England farm life. Given a good general education, he yielded to his ambitions for theology and literature, and in 1873 entered the Universalist Theological School at Canton, N. Y., where he graduated in 1876. Immediately after his graduation he entered into active ministry. Having a desire for the great Central West, his first charge was Clyde, O., where he was ordained June 21, 1876. After a successful period of preaching to this church, he located at Eaton, O., where he remained two years in excellent church service. While pastor at Eaton, he married Miss Annie Risinger, a member of his congregation. After a pastorate with the church at Bellville, O., they located with the church at Morrison, Ill. Mrs. Lander's health became so delicate that she could no longer safely endure the vigorous winters of the North, and in 1884 they located at Messina, Fla., where a gentle climate happily relieved her of a serious throat affection. Having established their abode, they retired from the active duties of the ministry. In June, 1901, Mrs. Lander died. Mr. Lander kept his home at Messina and in 1902 was married to Anabelle B. Sutton of Camden, N. J. They made their home at Messina. The funeral services of Mr. Lander were held at the home of his brother-in law, John Risinger, in Eaton, O., on Sunday, May 20th and were conducted by the Rev. John H. Blackford.

CHARLES EDWARD LUND was one of our most earnest and careful ministers. After battling bravely, and always hopefully, for more than a year with a mysterious disease that baffled the best medical skill, he passed away at Syracuse, N. Y., at the Hospital of the Good Shepherd, Sunday evening, Aug. 12, 1906. The day previous he underwent an operation, from which he seemed to rally successfully; but he suddenly weakened, and, falling asleep, within an hour passed peacefully on.

Mr. Lund was born at Brooklyn, N. Y., July 15, 1863. He was brought up in the Methodist Church, and when converted to Universalism brought with him to his new faith a Methodistic fervor which always characterized his ministry. Giving up a lucrative business, he entered the Canton Theological School in 1894, graduating in 1897. He held pastorates at Orono, Me., Portland (Deering), Me., and Potsdam, N. Y.

Mr. Lund was a wide awake, energetic minister. Always an ardent champion of Universalism, he was thoroughly progressive and practical in the application of its principles both in his preaching and his general work. His sympathies were broad, and his spirit—in harmony with his faith— democratic. In each of his fields of labor his ministry was marked by exceptional offices for the poor and unfortunate, for whom he ever coveted the best things. He was a persistent and aggressive opponent of the liquor traffic and was keenly interested in all social questions. It is particularly to his credit that he never concealed his opinions on any question, but fearlessly took his stand, no matter how unpopular it might be, for whatever he deemed was right and made for human propress. Inevitably he invited criticism, but he also commanded respect as a straightforward, whole-souled man, who was no hireling, but thus honored his ministry. By temperament he was of a sunny nature, a genial, companionable man, who brought good cheer into every circle he entered. His unfailing optimism did not desert him to the last hour of consciousness.

The funeral took place Wednesday, Aug. 15, in the Universalist church at Potsdam, in the presence of a sorrowing people who, during all Mr. Lund's long illness, have invariably shown exemplary considerateness, generosity and patience. The services were conducted by Rev. J. M. Atwood, assisted by Rev. Dr. G. S. Weaver and Revs. G. M. Gerrish and H. E. Townsend. The interment was at Cypress Cemetery, Brooklyn.

Mr. Lund is survived by his father, Wm. Lund, his wife and one son, Russell E., a sophomore in St. Lawrence University. J. M. A.

JAMES URE MITCHELL, born in Larkert, Scotland in 1833, died in Glasgow, Scotland, in July, 1905. He was ordained by the Massachusetts Convention of Universalists at Lawrence, Mass., Oct. 22, 1873. He was widely known in his native land as a Universalist preacher who a generation ago was an able defender of our faith, but it is many years since he was in the service of our denomination. "He was a man of singular ability, but could not work along constructive lines. His faith was steadfast to the end."

JAMES SMITH PALMER was born January 24, 1815 in Brooklyn, Penn., the son of Esek Hopkins Palmer, an early settler of that region from Stonington, Conn. He was the first grandson of his maternal grandfather, James Smith. Mr. Palmer descended from Walter Palmer, the New England imigrant from England 1630 through East Hopkins, 6th, Elijah 5th, Nehemiah 4th, David 3d, Nehemiah 2nd, Walter 1st, and was related to the Noyes, Cheesbrough Allen, Gilbert and Sherman families of Connecticut. Naturally studious he early acquired an education, and when comparatively a young man became a school-teacher. He was attracted however to the gospel ministry. He was licensed to preach by the Susquehanna Association, held at Le Raysville, Penn., Oct. 3, 1838, and soon went to Boston to study with the more experienced ministers. He found in Rev. Sylvanus Cobb an excellent friend and adviser, beside having ideas in common. While in the vicinity of Boston he preached in Framingham, Mass., Atkinson, N. H, and Lancaster, Mass. He was ordained to the full work of the ministry in Petersham, Mass., by the Union Association of Universalists, May 23, 1839, and on same occasion the Revs. W. B. Randolph and Q. Chamberlain were also ordained, the Rev. Sylvanus Cobb preaching the sermon. Mr. Palmer preached a brief time at Lancaster, Mass., and in the meantime was much interested in the establishment of "The Sabbath School Contributor" by Rev. E. N. Harris of Lynn, a pioneer Sunday school publication. In his association with Rev. Sylvanus Cobb, he found full expression for his advanced views upon the subject of anti-slavery, temperance and kindred reforms, which interest Mr. Palmer maintained throughout his long life. When Mr. Cobb, in 1839 established "The Christian Freeman" Mr. Palmer became a frequent writer upon the same, not only of sermons, but of timely and vigorous articles.

Mr. Palmer returned to northern Pennsylvania and married May 15, 1842, Miss Caroline, the daughter of Thomas N. Hickcox, who was early of Charlotte, Vt., whom he left a widow after a married life of sixty-four years. To them were born several children, three of whom became settled in life.

Like many of the ministers of the elder days Mr. Palmer had many preaching stations and residences. Salary was small and uncertain, but with an ardent love for the great faith, he and his loyal wife went forward with the Lord's work of proclaiming the unsearchable riches of grace. From his home in Brooklyn, or Montrose he went into all the regions round about. From 1846 for two years, he was the editor and proprietor of "The Gospel Missionary" at Montrose, Penn. Then he removed to Brimfield, O., preaching at times at Ravenna and Akron, but soon returned to Edmonston, N. Y., and in 1852 was at Morrisville, Vt., during which pastorate the meetinghouse was burned. He had a brief pastorate at South Adams, Mass., and in 1854, caught anew the western fever, and removed to Sterling or Como, Ill., preaching often in Morrison, Dixon, Round Grove and Lyndon. In 1861, he returned to Columbus, N. Y., preaching there and at Morris.

Mr. Palmer in the Civil War became a soldier in the 152nd New York Volunteer Infantry. But the hardships of the camps and campaigns were more than he could endure, and after serving nearly a year was di charged because of disability. In his age Mr. Palmer became a pensioner of the government. He was a member of the General Mansfield G. A. R. Post.

In 1867 Mr. Palmer removed to Mansfield, Penn., that his daughters might enjoy the superior educational advantages of the Normal School. From this time onward the family residence has been in Mansfield, where as a loyal citizen, and minister of the Gospel he made a profound impression. He was practically the founder and promoter of Universalism in Mansfield. In the midst of these services he died June 5, 1906. Mr. Palmer loved Universalism; it was his joy and comfort. The work of the itinerant minister was no easy task, but nevertheless, it was his meat and drink, to preach and labor in behalf of the Church.

His neighbor, Rev. Benjamin Brunning, writes of him, "His work through life was largely missionary. He was wonderfully well versed in the Scriptures. He was an earnest, honest and faithful defender of his faith, and died full of hope and love for God, Christ and his fellowmen."

It was the editor's privilege to be acquainted with Father Palmer, and to know of his true and stalwart character. In his age, he was still interested in all the reforms. The promoting of a practical Christianity was his joy. He was among the last of the ministers, who personally knew the old time itinerant life. His memory is indeed precious throughout northern Pennsylyania, and his words of hope and comfort have and are still bearing abundant seed in all his scattered itinerant fields.

Rev. James Patterson. This brother graduated from Canton Theological School in 1878. He was a native of Scotland, and came to America and fitted himself for the ministry at a great sacrifice. He was ordained at Syracuse, N. Y., Aug. 28, 1878, but soon became pastor at Dixfield, Me. While serving as pastor at Dixfield, May 8, 1881, Sunday, after preaching a sermon, still commented upon by the people, he became violently insane. He had labored in this place two years, and the people had grown attached to him, not only because of the excellent quality of his sermons, but for his sincere and genuine manhood. He was soon committed to the Maine State Hospital for the Insane, where until April 18, 1906 he remained, with really no change nor improvement. He was fifty three years old. The Universalists of Maine were interested in him.

The Maine State Universalist Convention at its session in June 1806, through its Fellowship Committee, gave expression to the following appreciation: "One whose name has for years been upon the roll of our Convention, has passed from earth during the year. If ordinarially the passing out and on may be spoken of as passing out of darkness into light, how emphatically may it be spoken of in the case of Bro. James Patterson. How glorious must the light be to him after the darkness which involved him here!! How glad the experience to be delivered into that glorious liberty! We make record of our appreciation of the devotion which led this brother to give himself in his youth to the ministry of our Church, and of the fidelity with which he served until the shadows came about him." Rev. Dr. Charles A. Hayden conducted funeral services in the chapel of the hospital.

MRS. SARAH MARIA CLINTON PERKINS, was killed Dec. 2 1905., by a coal wagon while crossing Euclid Avenue, Cleveland, O. For many years she was an active temperance worker, and was editor of "The True Republic," a family paper devoted largely to the uplift of the home and womanhood. She was born near Cooperstown, N. Y., April 23, 1824, the daughter of Joel Clinton, who died when Sarah was ten years old, and when twenty-three years of age, Dec. 1847, she married the Rev. Orrin Perkins, who was in the Universalist ministry until his decease, Oct. 30, 1880, they being students together at the Adams, Mass., Academy. For many years Rev. Orrin Perkins was State Superintendent of Schools of New Hampshire, and principal of Cooperstown Academy, in which work Mrs. Perkins was much interested. Oftentimes Mrs. Perkins preached for her husband. In 1877 she was licensed to preach and becoming pastor at West Concord, Vt., was there ordained Feb. 13, 1878. She also had a brief settlement at Keene, N. H. After Mr. Perkins death, she settled in Cleveland, where she remained until her decease. About 1883 she withdrew from the active ministry, but continued her services in behalf of humanity's highest good. She was a highly educated woman, and was a writer and speaker of rare force. The story "Alice and Her Friends" one of the "Prize Series" issued by the Universalist Publishing House was from her pen. She was the mother of three daughters, two of whom graduated from Vassar College and the third from another college. She was for long years actively connected as National Lecturer with the Women's Christian Temperance Union.

HENRY SHEPHERD was a devout believer in Universalism, and it so moved him, that after an experience in the business world, at the age of forty two years, he entered the Christian ministry. He was reared in East Bloomfield, N. Y., but engaged in business in Newark, N. J. In 1872 residing at Bristol, N. Y., he was licensed to preach by the New York Convention, and the following year settled over the church in Orono, Me., where he was ordained Oct. 23, 1873. Here he labored for three years, proving himself a faithful pastor. He also was employed by the Rev. Dr. Quinby, on "The Gospel Banner. In 1876 he assumed pastorate of the church in Cuba, N. Y., where he remained three years. and in 1879 settled in Tecumseh, Mich., there remaining until 1884 when he retired upon his farm at Burr Oak. Mich. His health was not the best as his years advanced. In 1895 he relinquished all business and removed to Cleveland to reside with his daughter, Mrs. E. E. Trayer, where he died of apoplexy March 22, 1906, aged 76 years. In young manhood he married Miss Charlotte Andrews of Bristol, N. Y., who survives him. The Universalist Leader in a fitting appreciation says of him, "Mr. Shepherd was a gentleman of the old school, courteous, dignified, especially fond of children, and youth, and a great lover of nature. He was a faithful minister, and much sought after by persons in trouble and sorrow. Many who have listened to his words of hope and cheer remain to cherish his memory." Burial at Bristol, N. Y.

CHARLES AUGUSTUS SKINNER was born April 19, 1824 in the village of Dexter, town of Brownville, N. Y. His father was the Rev. Warren Skinner, minister in the Universalist Church from 1823 to his decease in 1874. He was of a family of ministers, eminent for their rugged character and Christian culture. He attended an academy at Ludlow, Vt., and the Liberal Institute at Lebanon, N. H. In 1845 when the late Rev. Dr. Thomas J. Sawyer became Principal of the Clinton Liberal Institute in Clinton, N. Y., and the announcement was made that he would receive students in theology, Mr. Skinner, was the first to respond to the privilege, in which he was soon joined by two others, who formed the first class in what was called "The Universalist Theological Seminary."

Mr. Skinner was ordained to the ministry in Dexter, N.Y., June 1. 1848, his uncle, Rev. Dolphus Skinner, preaching the sermon. He was pastor in Dexter, N. Y., his birthplace, from 1848 to 1850, when he removed to Newark, N. Y., for two years, preaching also in Fairport, and in June 1853. he came to the Universalist Church in Cambridge. For fourteen years he was a conspicuous leader among the moral and religious forces of this University City. From his parish went forth to the Civil War thirty-three young men. Mr. Skinner among them, was a tower of strength. His pulpit gave no uncertain sound. His loyalty to the Union was never questioned. In 1868 he settled in Hartford, Conn., where also a fine labor was rendered and the cause of Christian truth strengthened. He was pastor in Hartford eight years, when he removed to Melrose where he was pastor four years. In 1880 he settled over the First Universalist Church. Somerville and there continued until 1893, when he retired to his home at North Cambridge. From this time on he was a most acceptable supply, for a short or long duration, for many churches. He was a "minister at large" His last services were for the church in Swampscott, which until health failed him, found him a preacher and pastor of consecration and fidelity. He was preacher of the Occasional Sermon at the General Convention of 1872.

Mr Skinner had bestowed upon him the most fitting degree of Student of Sacred Theology, by Tufts College. Dr. Skinner married May 16, 1850, Miss Cornelia Bartholomew of Dexter, N. Y., who died in 1890. Dr. Skinner died April 22, 1906. Three sons survive—Charles M., connected with The Brooklyn Eagle; Otis. the well-known actor, and William L., an art teacher in the Boston Public School.

Dr. Skinner was interested in the public school, often serving on the School Board. For a series of years he was Chaplain of the Grand Lodge of Masons of Massachusetts, and ever gave dignity and impressiveness to all their rites and services. His funeral took place from the Universalist Church, Cambridge, and was conducted by the Rev. Dr. G. W. Bicknell, pastor, and Rev. W. B. Eddy, pastor at North Cambridge. Interrment at Proctorsville, Vt.

THOMAS ELIOT ST. JOHN was born March 2, 1831, at Canterbury, N. Y., and when seventeen years old began teaching school, continuing the same during the winters, working at the carpenters trade, and in 1854 began the reading of medicine in a physicians office in Janesville, Wis. In 1855 he was enrolled as a student of medicine at the Eclectic College of Medicine in Cincinnati. Upon graduation he gave the valedictory address. March 12, 1856 he married Henrietta M. Knox at Sylvania, Wis., who survives with a son Rev. Charles E. St. John, Secretary of the American Unitarian Association. He first established himself at Prairie du Chien, Wis. In this town in 1857 he gave his first temperance lecture, a cause which he served with vigor through his career. For two years 1857 to 1859, he was professor of anatomy and physiology at the medical school where he graduated. In 1859 he came under the influence of the Rev. Dr. I. D. Williamson of Cincinnati and became a Universalist, having previously been a devoted Methodist. He preached his first sermon at Independence, Ky., June 19, 1859. During the summer he preached in various places in Ohio and Indiana. In October 1859 he came to New England and preached at New Bedford and was immediately called to the pastorate. He was ordained to the full work of the ministry Sept. 4, 1860 He continued this pastorate until April 1, 1862 when he entered upon his pastorate in Worcester, Mass. During the Civil War Mr. St. John was pronounced in his sentiments of devotion to the cause of the Union, and gathered to his church a large following. In September 1866 he became pastor of the Church of the Redeemer, Chicago where he remained until recalled to his former church in Worcester. His second pastorate in Worcester was from 1869 to 1879. After a pastorate at Auburn, N. Y., he entered the Unitarian fellowship and had pastorates at Haverhill, Mass., 1883–1893 and at Eastport, Me. He was a Representative to the General Court, from Worcester 1866, and from Haverhill two terms. In all his pastorates he was a firm friend of the public schools, libraries and all excellent organizations.

Mr. St. John died at the home of his son in Brookline, Mass., Feb. 25, 1906. He was an able minister and made a good record wherever he labored. He was of strong personality, and impressive in his presence. In conversation and daily walk, he was gentle and dignified, ever attractive to young people, and in pulpit ministrations was commanding. He was a counselor in life's varied affairs, and a bearer of consolation in times of sorrow.

ALPHONSO EVERETT WHITE, A.M., Ph. D., born in Framingham, Mass., in November, 1842, died at his home in Methuen, Mass., March 15, 1906. After graduating from Dartmouth College in 1865, he followed the vocation of teacher for twelve years, in the High Schools of Chicopee, Marlboro and Lexington, Mass. He then entered the Universalist ministry, having his first settlement in Attleboro, Mass. His next pastorate was at Lawrence, Mass., and from there he went to Cambridge as pastor of the First Universalist Church. Resigning in 1892, he gave his time and abilities to the board of education, having special charge of the evening schools of the city. In 1897 he became superintendent of the schools in Methuen. Both Dartmouth and Tufts College honored Mr. White with the degree of A.M., and his doctorate was from Taylor University of Indiana, as a recognition of study in history and philosophy.

"Dr. White endeared himself to the circle of his acquaintance by his unfaillng courtesy and brotherly kindness. He added to these outward graces an incorruptible conscience and an intense earnertness of purpose. His service to the young of the towns where he labored had supreme regard for their moral welfare, and no one rejoiced more than he in success which is founded upon rectitude of character. In theological opinion he was charitable and catholic and while adhering to the doctrines distinctive of his own church was often heard with great acceptance in the pulpits of other denominations." R. E.

REV. HENRY KIRKE WHITE passed away at his home in Bellingham, Wash., March 9, 1906. He was born at Alleghany, Penn., June 27, 1837. He worked at the carpenter's trade with his father, and was graduated from Iron City College. In July, 1861, he enlisted in the 62d Regiment of Pennsylvania, was wounded in the battle of Gaines' Mills, and was discharged at Philadelphia July, 1864. He taught school in Wisconsin. In 1866 he entered the Theological School at Canton, N. Y., graduating in 1869, and settled at Newport, N. Y. Ordained in 1870. This settlement was followed by pastorates at Branchport, Rome, Oneonta and Macedon, N. Y., Dexter, Me., Thompsonville, Conn., Strawberry Point, Ia., and Ft. Atkinson, Wis. In all his professional career he bore high ideals, a blameless life, a genius for persistent industry, a catholic spirit that endeared him to every community where he resided. His religious convictions were deep and he made them practical. He had fine literary taste, and in all ways was a progressive man. In 1869 Mr. White was united in marriage with Miss Helen J. Averill, of St. Lawrence County, N. Y. She was a lady of great worth. In October, 1893, she passed away at her home in Ft. Atkinson, Wis. The children, two daughters and one son, are now living; Mrs. D. A. Crossman of Bellingham, Mrs. E. E. Follett of Seattle, and Sayles, who also has his home in Bellingham. Since the death of Mrs. White, Mr. White has made his home with Mrs. Crossman and her husband. While living in Bellingham Mr. White did a great deal of professional work. He was a friend to every one and an active worker in many societies, religious, patriotic and benevolent. He was known and loved by nearly all in this busy and growing city. He died suddenly of apoplexy. Funeral services were held in the Congregational church and were attended by a large and sympathetic assembly. The services were conducted by the Rev. W. H. Harrington of Seattle, a room-mate of Mr. White in St. Lawrence University, assisted by Rev. Ellett of the Disciples church, Wark of the Congregational church, and Nelson of the Unitarian church. The burial ritual was in charge of the Woman's Relief Corps and Grand Army Post. Rev. Mr. Harrington contributed the foregoing tribute and appreciation to the columns of The Universalist Leader.

CHARLES JAMES WHITE died in Pawtucket, R. I., Nov. 2, 1906. He was born in Boston, Mass., May 22, 1836, the son of Charles and Amanda (Kimball) White, and a brother of Alphonso Everett White, whose biographical record accompanies this. He prepared for college in Boston public schools and was a member of the class of 1858, Tufts College. He taught the High School in Milford, Mass., for a time. but soon entered upon the Christian ministry. He never had but two pastorates, at East Boston from 1863 to 1870, and then was called to succeed the Rev. John Boyden at Woonsocket, where he continued until 1904, when he retired. Tufts College bestowed upon him in 1889 the degree of S. T. D. Dr. White throughout his manhood has not only been ardently attached to the ministry, but also to the cause of public education. He was a practical teacher to begin with; he was connected with the Board of Education of Boston, also of Chelsea, and from 1871 for fifteen years was superintendent of the schools of Woonsocket. He also was trustee of Dean Academy and a member of the Rhode Island Board of Education. For twenty years he was Chairman of the Fellowship Committee of Rhode Island.

Dr. White was an able preacher, a faithful pastor, and was ever prompt in taking the initiative in great causes. He had a large and sympathetic way of regarding life and all its affairs. He was sincere and his sincerity put the seal upon all his instruction and exhortation. Faithfulness was the one word which characterized him.

His funeral was held at the church where for many years he had been pastor, and was attended by the officials of the State of Rhode Island, many members of the City Government, and visiting ministers and educators. Eulogies were pronounced by the Rev. Dr. Henry W. Rugg, for many years in intimate association with him, and Rev. James F. Albion, D.D., of Portland, and formerly of Woonsocket.

REV. DANIEL BRAGG CLAYTON, D.D., suddenly passed away, at the home of his son, William Clayton, in Columbia, S. C., Nov. 13, 1906. He arose early in the morning and was preparing to start on a trip to Greenville, N.C. He had put everything in readiness for his journey, when he stooped down to pick up an article. While in this attitude he fell, and within three minutes breathed his last.

Father Clayton was born in Spartinburg County, South Carolina, on April 8, 1817, and from this it will be seen that if he had lived until April 8, next, he would have attained to the age of ninety years. Sixty-eight years of this long life were spent in the ministry of the Universalist Church. It was in 1838, while teaching school in his native county, that he heard his first Universalist discourse. The sermon was delivered by Rev. Allen Fuller, a native of Massachusetts, who had arrived in South Carolina a few years before. This sermon made a profound impression on the mind of the young teacher, who had been brought up in the Baptist church. He soon severed his connection with that church and became the ardent, tireless advocate of Universalism.

Sixty-eight years ago the Southern people knew little of this faith. Everywhere it was "evil spoken against." The public advocate of Universalism was almost universally regarded as a dangerous character, and for that reason he suffered much of social ostracism. Only a few had the moral courage to face the unkind, unjust opposition that had to be encountered on every hand. But a few fearless souls have ever been found to bravely stand as witnesses for the truth. Father Clayton was one of that number. While he encountered opposition at every step, instead of yielding to, or compromising with, what he conceived to be false, it only nerved him to greater efforts in the propagation of what he believed to be true and just. Possessing an unusual degree of the sterling qualities of character, he had little patience with the shams and vices of life. With him the paramount question was in no sense one of time-service, of policy; but it was ever one of truth, of right, of principle.

In regard to his worth and ability as a minister, as an advocate of the faith of the Universalist Church, I need say little to the people among whom he labored. It is well known to them all that, as an expounder of the Scriptures and as an advocate of the correct principles of living, he has had no superior in the South. Perhaps he has had no superior anywhere. His marvelous familiarity with the Bible has constantly been a matter of surprise to those who have been privileged to hear him preach. During his long ministry he held no less than twelve oral discussions, and at no time did the cause of truth suffer in his hands.

Not only did he largely master the teachings of the Scriptures, but he was also master of himself—was able to control himself on all occasions—and for these reasons he was the greater power in theological discussions. During his entire ministry he was preeminently a Bible preacher. The negative side of his preaching related in the main to the errors of partialism. In relation to the fundamentals of the Christian faith he was always positive. He realized that no minister could fulfil a constructive mission by preaching his doubts. Not long since he remarked to the writer that most people could find doubt enough without the assistance of the minister. In early life his opportunities for an education were meager. But by studious habits and close application to the few books at his command he rapidly acquired a splendid elementary education. During his entire ministry he was a close, painstaking student, adding knowledge to knowledge, until few were his peers in either breadth or profundity of knowledge.

Father Clayton's life was one of ardent service and true self denial. He lived for a cause, and that cause was the emancipation of humanity from error and sin. He was surely guided by the spirit of the Master, going about doing good. His motive to service was of the highest. Filled with the love of truth and right, and filled with affection for the universal brotherhood, he was directed in the way of unselfish, unremitting toil. For all that he did and for all that he accomplished never once did he ask for pecuniary reward. Not once during his great ministry of sixty-eight years did he ask for a public collection in his own behalf. Neither did he work for a salary during any portion of this time. But he had his reward—not in dollars and cents, but in treasure worth infinitely more—in the coinage of God's kingdom. His reward was ever present in the consciousness of faithful service in the kingdom of the Divine Master.

Often have we heard him say he wished to die in harness. His wish has been granted him. Having put his hand to the plow never once did he look back. To the very last he publicly advocated the truths that had been precious to him. During the past summer and autumn he did much preaching, often traveling long distances. In early summer he made a missionary tour extending into Mississippi. Later in the season he came to North Carolina and gave the writer of this sketch much valuable assistance. Following the meeting of the North Carolina Convention early in October, he went to South Carolina, expecting to come back to North Carolina in a short time. On the morning of Nov. 13 he had gotten everything in readiness for this later journey, when the final summons came.

It is needless to add that Father Clayton has been held in the highest esteem by Universalists in the South, while others, not of this persuasion, have shown him the respect his noble life has commanded.

Speaking of his pedigree the morning following his death, "The State," of Columbia has this to say:

"Dr. Clayton was descended from Capt. Newport, for whom Newport News, Va., was named, and on the other side from Capt. Bragg, also of the British navy. Capt. Newport's wife, Miss Ball, was a sister of the wife of George Washington. Newport and Bragg were the great-great-grandfathers of Dr. Clayton. Of his grandfathers two were Baptist ministers during the Revolutionary war. Three of his great grandfathers and four great-grand-mothers sleep their last sleep in Spartinburg County. The other great grandfather died in the Revolutionary war, and the place of burial is unknown. Both grandfathers and one grandmother also were buried in Spartinburg County. The other grandmother died in Alabama. William Clayton, father of the deceased, married May Newpart Bragg, descended from the old British sea captain who brought hope to the starving, despairing colonists. Daniel Bragg Clayton, who passed away yesterday, was born on Enore River. His boyhood was one of hard work."

The funeral service was conducted by the writer at the home of the eldest son of the deceased, Mr. William Clayton. Thus closes a long and useful life. But he will continue to live, not only in the spiritual realms, but also in the hearts of a great multitude that his noble life has blessed in the past.

THOMAS CHAPMAN.

JOHN MAY BARTHOLEMEW died in Franklin, Mass., Dec. 8, 1906. He was born in Oxford, N. Y., June 7, 1856; Tufts College A.B. 1881; B.D. 1884. He married Aug. 12, 1884, Edith Davis. Mr. Bartholomew was settled at North Adams, Spencer, Mass., Auburn, N. Y. and in New York City, and at Hightstown, N. J. About 1894 he entered upon the ministry of the Episcopal Church. He was a son of the Rev. James G. Bartholomew, D.D., a former eminent minister in the Universalist Church. He was a man of sterling character, of fine scholarship and consecration.

UNIVERSALIST PROFESSION OF BELIEF AND CONDITIONS OF FELLOWSHIP.

Adopted as an amendment to Article III. of the Constitution of the General Convention, at its session in Boston, October 23, 1899.

I. The Profession of Belief adopted at the session at Winchester, N. H., 1803, is as follows:

ARTICLE I. We believe that the Holy Scriptures of the Old and New Testaments contain a revelation of the character of God and of the duty, interest and final destination of mankind.

ARTICLE II. We believe that there is one God, whose nature is Love, revealed in one Lord Jesus Christ, by one Holy Spirit of Grace, who will finally restore the whole family of mankind to holiness and happiness.

ARTICLE III. We believe that holiness and true happiness are inseparably connected, and that believers ought to be careful to maintain order and practise good works; for these things are good and profitable unto men.

II. The conditions of fellowship shall be as follows:

1. The acceptance of the essential principles of the Universalist Faith, to wit: 1. The Universal Fatherhood of God; 2. The Spiritual authority and leadership of His Son, Jesus Christ; 3. The trustworthiness of the Bible as containing a revelation from God; 4. The certainty of just retribution for sin; 5. The final harmony of all souls with God.

The Winchester Profession is commended as containing these principles, but neither this nor any other precise form of words is required as a condition of fellowship, provided always that the principles above stated be professed.

2. The acknowledgment of the authority of the General Convention and assent to its laws.

DAYS OF SPECIAL OBSERVANCE.

Recommendations by the Universalist General Convention.

1. It is recommended that CHRISTMAS SUNDAY, i. e., the Sunday nearest Christmas, be observed by appropriate services.

2. It is recommended that on EASTER SUNDAY A SERVICE OF RECOGNITION be held, at which time persons baptized in childhood, and others, may be welcomed by suitable rites to membership of the Church.

3. It is recommended that one Sunday be set apart in each year, to be denominated CHILDREN'S SUNDAY,—in all cases, where practicable, THE SECOND SUNDAY IN JUNE, or as near thereto as possible; that parents and guardians be encouraged and invited to bring their children to the altar on that day for baptism or dedication to the service of the Lord.

4. It is recommended that the FIRST SUNDAY OF OCTOBER, in each year, be set apart as MEMORIAL SUNDAY, for commemorating those friends who, during the year, have been taken away by death.

5. It is recommended that the FIRST SUNDAY OF NOVEMBER, in each year, be set apart as ALL-SOULS SUNDAY, for a special celebration of our distinguishing doctrine, the Scriptural truth that all souls are God's children, and that finally, by His grace attending them, they will all be saved from the power of sin, and will live and reign with Him forever in holiness and happiness.

6. It is recommended that the THIRD SUNDAY OF MAY, in each year, be set apart as EDUCATIONAL SUNDAY, for the presentation to the people of the educational interests of our Church. And that on the same day an appeal be made to our SUNDAY SCHOOLS for aid in the HOME MISSIONARY WORK of our Church.

7. It is recommended that the FOURTH SUNDAY IN NOVEMBER, in each year, be set apart as JAPAN SUNDAY, for the presentation of the claims of our FOREIGN WORK and for soliciting pecuniary aid therefor.

UNIVERSALIST REGISTER,

FOR 1908.

THE GENERAL CONVENTION

"The Universalist General Convention," having jurisdiction over the ecclesiastical organizations of the Universalist Church in the United States and Canadian provinces, meets biennially. The next session—1909—is to be held in Detroit on the Wednesday preceding the fourth Sunday in October. Preacher of the Occasional Sermon, Rev. Frank Oliver Hall, S. T. D., New York. The Convention is composed of the Officers of the General Convention, of the Presidents, the Vice-Presidents and the Secretaries of the several State Conventions, and of clerical and lay delegates from the State Conventions, each State entitled to two clerical and four lay delegates and to an additional number of each class of delegates in proportion to the aggregate of its parishes and clergymen. At least four parishes must be organized and established in a State before a State Convention can be formed, but a less number of parishes may unite to choose two delegates, clerical or lay, to represent them in the General Convention; and if there be one parish so situated, it is entitled to two delegates. In all such States or Territories the General Convention has original jurisdiction.

All laws relating to fellowship, ordination and discipline originate in the General Convention, and is the final court of appeal in all cases of dispute or difficulty between State Conventions. It is an incorporated body, empowered to hold real and personal estate to the value of five hundred thousand dollars, "to be devoted exclusively to the diffusion of Christian knowledge, by means of missionaries, publications and other agencies." In the interim of sessions the interests of Conventions are watched over and managed by a Board of Trustees.

The Murray Centenary Fund, created in 1870 as a memorial of the one hundredth anniversary of Rev. John Murray's first sermon in America, is the leading fund of the Universalist Church. To this fund there have from time to time been added others of various sums, and under different names, so that the total today is in the neighborhood of $370,000. The sums have been named in former numbers of THE REGISTER. The report of the General Convention of the Universalist Church extends into detail concerning them. The appropriations for the Convention year (1907–1908) are whatever income from any source may be deemed best by the Board of Trustees.

The following are the officers of the Convention:—

Vice-President—George B. Wells, Philadelphia, Penn.

STATISTICS.

As in the REGISTER in former years, so now, it has been deemed advisable to place first all needed statements in regard to State organizations, arranged as heretofore, alphabetically. The same order of arrangement is also made of the Parish statistics, which immediately follow.

The location of parishes and other preaching places, according to post-office address is shown in the first column; where a fraction appears after the name of a parish it indicates that preaching services are held part of the time; (oc.) denotes that there is only occasional preaching; (m.) monthly services; (dor.) that the society is inactive; (‖) that the parish is not in formal fellowship. Where the name of a parish is preceded by a dagger (†) it indicates that no recent information has been received. The number of families included in the respective parishes is given under the proper heading. Under the head of "Church Edifices," the date of dedication is given when known. Un denotes that the parish is part owner in a union house of worship: the abbreviations b. (brick), st. (stone), w. (wood), indicate the material of the structure. In the column designated "Preachers," the names of pastors or regular supplies are given. If the name is in italics the preacher is a licentiate; parallels (‖) show that he is not in the Universalist fellowship. An asterisk (*) prefixed to the name of a Parish Clerk, Superintendent of Sunday School or Secretary of a Young People's Organization, denotes that the officer is a woman and should be addressed as Miss; two asterisks () that she should be addressed as Mrs.

The statistics except those relating to the Young People's Religious Organizations are from official reports of State Convention Secretaries to the Secretary of the General Convention, supplemented by more recent reports from Preachers and Parishes. In the absence of information of recent date from these sources the figures of the last reported year are used.

Resident pastors are employed in three places: Tokyo, Shidzuoka and Nagoya. Rev. Y. Mashino is forming the nucleus of a second church in Tokyo. Akita and Hoden have church organizations and are called "visiting stations." Through The Universalist — a monthly magazine—and other literature an excellent influence is sent forth to inquirers. The Blackmer Home is a fine benefaction. The pastors and associates of the missionaries have the interests of the work at heart and make their influence felt in the communities where they labor. Rev. Mr. Satoh and wife, Mrs. Tame Satoh, were students in America and are known to many Universalists. They are teachers in the Girls' School in Tokyo. The Universalist Leader of Dec 7, 1907, was a Japan issue and contains valuable information. Also the issue of Oct. 27, 1906. The energy of the missionaries and their associates is directed to the work of establishing self-sustaining Universalist churches in Japan and all enterprises engaged in are intended to contribute to that end.

The following appears to be the tabulated statistics for the year closing 1907: Clergymen 698; Parishes 916; Families 52,708; Churches 807; Church Members 52,112; Sunday Schools 644; Members 44,269; Church Edifices 743; Value of Property $10,941,605.00; Young People's Religious Organizations, Members about 9,000, Seniors and Juniors. There has been an earnest desire to gain the exact status of each Parish Organization and Convention which accounts somewhat for the apparent shrinkage in statistics. We anticipate a further shrinkage in forthcoming U. S. Census, owing to decision regarding "dormant" parishes which possess "assets", but have ceased having religious services.

REQUIREMENTS FOR THE DEGREE OF BACHELOR OF SACRED THEOLOGY.

The College of Letters has lately decided that certain studies, hitherto pursued in the Divinity School only, are properly regarded as culture studies, and therefore offers them to all its students. Taking advantage of this fact, the student who enters College with Greek, and with other good preparation, may so shape his course as to obtain the degree of Bachelor of Arts in four years, and that of Bachelor of Divinity in two more years.

Graduates from other institutions may obtain the degree of Bachelor of Sacred Theology after having completed those parts of the course of this School which have not been included in their previous studies. The time thus required for those holding the degree of A. B. is three years.
